The Index

The index is of the last name, first name and middle initial for men and primarily, the maiden name, first name and middle initial for women. The married name is occasionally indexed for women.

PREFACE

A family history is continuous without beginning and without end. In order to put it in book form, the author must force a beginning and an end. The beginning of this one is as far back as I could trace in this time span. Given a few more years and an active mind, I could have possibly gone back a few more generations. Knowing the frailty of man and particularly of me, I have concluded that a publication of the book with the data we now have should be made. This book is the latest data received prior to indexing and sending to the printer. Delaying the publication would certainly add more birth dates and death dates, maybe even my own. I would never be completely satisfied with a work such as this no matter how long I worked on it. It is just the realization that further delays in publishing will accomplish little on my part and further disappoint those that have waited so long and patiently for this book. Many of the family members who have helped so very much on this have already passed from this life to a far better one. When looking at each family, I realize that most of these tenth generation families could be expanded into a book on only those descendants using the family stories, more photographs and completing the family lines. In this book I have attempted to combine these hundreds of tenth generation families in a single volume. In all lines it is obvious that much more work could be done. Possibly, if the financial expenditure on this book is regained in sales, this book could be updated. For that reason I would strongly request that those of you who locate errors and those who have changes in the family send that data to me. I will try to keep it updated on the computer and make it available yearly.

The writing of a family history book is an awesome responsibility. Any error made will procreate itself for many years. Once published and distributed, the book cannot be recalled to correct an error. Errata sheets although supplied to the book purchasers often are never incorporated.

Over 20,000 hours of work have been expended in the compilation of this book, and much of that has gone into trying to assure the accuracy of the material. Despite this effort, there are many errors that were not located and corrected. Several computer failures occurred during the composition and the material was recreated each time. Checking the data constantly became commonplace. Data received from different sources varied as much as ten years. Often the family Bible, grave marker, obituary, courthouse records and census gave different dates. In one case, a person was shown as two years old in the 1880 census, and yet her grave marker showed her birth date as 1882. In cases of multiple or inconsistent dates, a decision was made using the data that best fit in with other data. Those cases of less than nine months between births of siblings were adjusted. The author would welcome correspondence from anyone not agreeing with a date. I certainly do make errors. Many family histories include copies of the family Bible sheets, a copy of the tombstone or census record in the family history book. Others quote the source with comments. To have done either in this book would have driven the price of the book up by a factor of three times and thus make it more difficult for those wanting copies to buy one. If anyone is interested in a specific group of references, those may be made available in less expensive forms of duplication.

By far the most aggravating part of this work has been trying to master the word processing program used by the computer. I have been a good typist for fifty years, and I have used computers for the last twenty years, but the combination of these tasks has been a new and very frustrating experience. Tasks that seemed simple have small intricacies can turn out to be very complex. Learning the procedure has been very time consuming. Fortunately, James Dupree and his wife, Cindy, have spent many hours steering me over these rough spots. Without their help this task would not have been accomplished.

Photos were copied from many different sources. There were some photos copied from almost every branch of the family. Great effort was expended to insure the proper identification of photographs. Over 7000 photos were copied and only about 400 of them were used in the book. The same photo from different branches of the family were sometimes identified as different people. One case involved photos of a lady who died at 40 years of age. Three different photos of three obviously different people were identified as she, but two of them were of ladies much older than 40. The third one was of a lady the right age and the only one that could have been the identified lady. Most of these conflicts could be resolved. Several people in their eighties and nineties have helped in this identification. Fortunately, many of the names of the people in the photos were identified on the back of the photo many years ago when the owner of the photo was young and had a clear mind. Copies of these photos used and others may be obtained from the author for a limited time. If you are interested, write me, stating the branch of the family of interest, for a list of what is available and the cost.

In a school course that I took about twenty years ago, it was stated that an author was remembered for his errors and not what he had correct. If that premise is correct, I should gain notoriety. While I have tried very hard to keep errors to a minimum, I am sure that there are errors in this work. If I worked another twenty years on it, I would probably add as many errors as I corrected.

The concept of the contents of this book has changed many times. It had its origin in 1970 when a small booklet entitled A Compilation of Genealogical Information on the LaCroix Family was printed by the author, E. W. McDonald, and sent to many members of the family. In 1980 E. W. McDonald agreed to update the booklet and add what information that had been obtained and could be obtained easily. As it turned out, very little information could be obtained easily and many hours of work were expended to glean additional information. The courthouse records that were indexed in the name of LaCroix were all combed for additional information. Small bits of information were obtained by investigating the families that married into the LaCroix family. On Peter LaCroix's family, the Whatley family court records provided additional LaCroix information. In the process of collecting this, a great deal of information was collected on the Whatley family. The same was true on the several families that married into the Michael LaCroix family. Much data had been obtained forty years ago on the Roe family and its connections to the LaCroix family. It was through the Roe family that the author is connected to the LaCroix family. A lot of work was done on the Frazier family. The early concept of the LaCroix Family History was to include all of these families on which much data had been obtained. During the last year, additional early material on the LaCroix family has been located, and just the LaCroix information package became very large. As more and more time was spent on the LaCroix family, it became obvious that in order to get the other families' information prepared for publication more time was needed than was available. The decision was made to include in this book primarily the LaCroix family descendants. While it contains those branches of the Whatley, Roe, Frazier and other families who are LaCroix descendants, it does not trace the origin of those families nor tabulate collateral descendants. Because of space limitation, the author has even left out his own family branch, the Roe family, although many of his kin are LaCroix descendants and included.

Whether these other families will ever be compiled into a book and published is dependent on whether the financial expenditure on the LaCroix book can be regained. With such a large book and so many photos, the cost of publication has become very costly. However, it has been my privilege to compile this book for your enjoyment and pleasure, and may it be so for many generations to come.

A list of references at the end of the book are primarily the cemeteries where the referenced individual was buried. The many sources for the data prior to the family arriving in Louisiana are listed below. Specific page numbers and other information will be made available upon request.

NOTATION OF GENERATIONS

In the early generations, the generation is denoted with a capital Roman numeral, starting with the earliest generation in that particular line. After the first generation, the capital Roman Numeral is followed by a capital letter which designates the chronological standing of that child in his family. That is, I is the first generation of that line, II C is the third child in the family in this particular second generation. IV B is the second child in the family in this particular fourth generation. Since some of the families are traced further back than others, the generations that marry do not necessarily correspond to the same capital Roman Numerals. This type numbering is continued until the family arrived in Louisiana, when numbering is discontinued until the grandchildren of John Louis LaCroix, Sr. who are labeled with a capital letter. The fourth generation Louisiana family members are labeled with an Arabic numeral and one indentation is used with their tabulation. The fifth generation members are labeled with a small letter and two indentations are used. The fifth generation members are labeled with a bracketed number and three indentations are used. The sixth generation members are labeled with a bracketed letter and four indentations are used. The seventh generation is labeled with a number letter combination and indented five spaces. The eighth generation is labeled with a letter number combination and indented six spaces. The ninth generation is labeled with a letter number letter combination and indented seven spaces. It should be pointed out that two of the other family lines, the Labrecque and the Lemieux lines were traced one generation further back than the LaCroix line and are included in the early history section of this book. Some departure is made from these designated indentations when it improves clarity.

I. The first generation in The LaCroix family was Jacques LaCroix who was born c1611 in France and married c1638 d'Antoinette Chambon.

II. The second generation was De David-Joseph LaCroix who was born in 1644 and left France and arrived in Quebec. He married (1st) in Quebec in 1671 Antoinette Bluteau. He married (2nd) Marie-Barthélemie Maillou.

III. The third generation was Louis LaCroix who was born in 1691 and married Suzanne Labreque.

IV. The fourth generation was Louis LaCroix II who was born in 1714 and married (1st) Marie-Élizabeth Bacquet called Lamontagne. He married (2nd) Geneviéve Fortier.

V. The fifth generation in the LaCroix line was John Louis LaCroix who was born in Quebec and arrived in Louisiana along with his brother, uncle and cousins. He married Marie Barbara Hooter.

VI A. The Sixth generation, the second generation in Louisiana is numbered with Roman Numeral VI and a capital letter. It is not indented.

A. The Seventh generation, the third generation in Louisiana, is labeled with capital letters but not indented unless it is needed for clarity.

1. The Eighth generation of our earliest known LaCroix ancestor, the fourth generation in Louisiana, is designated with Arabic numbers and indented one space.

a. The ninth generation of our earliest known LaCroix ancestor, the fifth generation in Louisiana, is designated with lower case letters and indented two spaces.

(1). The tenth generation of our earliest known LaCroix ancestor, the sixth generation in Louisiana, is designated with a bracketed number and indented three spaces.

(a). The eleventh generation of our earliest known LaCroix ancestor, the seventh generation in Louisiana, is designated with a bracketed letter and indented four spaces.

a1. The twelveth generation of our earliest known LaCroix ancestor, the eighth generation in Louisiana, is designated with a letter number combination and indented five spaces.

1a. The thirteenth generation of our earliest known LaCroix ancestor, the ninth generation in Louisiana, is designated with a number letter combination and indented six spaces.

1a1. The fourteenth generation of our earliest known LaCroix ancestor, the tenth generation in Louisiana, is designated with a number letter number combination and indented seven spaces.

1a1a. The fifteenth generation of our earliest known LaCroix ancestor, the eleventh generation in Louisiana, is designated with a number letter number letter combination and indented eight spaces.

For conservation of space, sometimes the terminating generation is combined on the same line as the previous generation. This is primarily when little data was obtained on members of that generation. These are usually noted with a dash and the normal numbering system. Other departures from the normal line spacings have been made when space demanded.

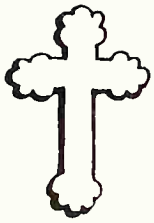
About the Author

The Author, E. W. McDonald, was born at Dry Prong, LA, on 5/28/1926 where he attended public school until 1942 when he moved to Pineville, LA, and graduated from Bolton High School. He worked in radio repair shops until he entered the U.S. Navy in which he served in World War II. He graduated from LSU at Baton Rouge with a B.S. Degree in Electron Physics in 1951 and received a M. S. Degree in Nuclear Physics from LSU in 1953. He taught Physics at Louisiana College at Pineville, LA, from 1952 to 1955 when he returned to LSU for additional graduate work in Physics. From 1957 to 1962 he was employed by Motorola Communications and Electronics. From 1962 to 1969 he was employed by Rockwell International in Columbus, OH, on various optical projects. From 1969 to 1989 he was employed by Martin Marietta Aerospace designing the optical section of laser seeking missiles. He retired on 1/1/1989 and has devoted full time to completing this book since then. His interest in genealogy goes back to 1947 when his mother asked him to copy some old family photographs. Further discussions of those photos instilled a deep interest in him which has lasted through the years. His interest in the LaCroix family stems from the mid 1950's when he visited his Roe kin who were also LaCroix descendants. His connections to the LaCroix descendants are through the Roe, Rice and Tison family lines. As one knowledgeable person put it, "You cannot work on any of the Central Louisiana Families without working on all of them."

DISCLAIMER

Old signatures, letterheads, postmarks and newspaper advertisements have been used as fillers of historical interest throughout the book. The signatures are copied from original documents and are authentic. They are placed near the information on that person, but are not indexed. The use of these fillers is not meant to imply the endorsement of the person or business and most of them have been dead or out of business for many years. Reductions in size have been made as the space dictated.



LACROIX

THE ORIGIN OF THE NAME

LA CROIX, literally means "The Cross". More specifically, it means the cross on which Christ died. "La" and "le" are the feminine and masculine forms of "the", respectively. The word "Croix" means cross. The name is found in early records spelled both LeCroix and LaCroix. The French pronunciation is la krwa. When it is found in the early documents written in English, it is spelled LaCroix, LaCroy, and LaCraw. In general, Peter LaCroix's descendants pronounce it LaCraw and Michael LaCroix's descendants pronounce it LaCroy. There is, however, considerable overlapping in the pronunciations.

EARLY HISTORY

(Capitalized names in the text are direct ancestors.)

JACQUES LACROIX

I. JACQUES LACROIX was born c1611 and married c1638 d'ANTOINETTE CHAMBON. They were of the town of Confoilant in France in the diocese of Poitiers. Confoilant is not shown on the present day World Atlas Maps, but Poitiers is shown. Poitiers is a City of about 50,000 population located in the West Central region of France. It has a 12th Century Romanesque-Gothic cathedral, a University, and Roman and Gallic remains. The palace of former counts of Poitou are there.

There were probably other children of JACQUES LACROIX and d'ANTOINETTE CHAMBON, but our ancestor De DAVID-JOSEPH LACROIX was the only one leaving a clear record of reaching the North American Continent. He was in a group of 50 colonists that in 1670 left La Rochelle, France, bound for Québec. La Rochelle is a coastal city about seventy miles from Poitiers. Québec had been founded in 1608 and was a natural fortress on the banks of the St. Lawrence River. This was the second large group of Colonists to establish families in Québec, although there had been soldiers at Québec since the 1608 date and some of them had taken wives of the local Micmac Indian women. Some farming had been done early, but the soldiers lived primarily on the wild artichokes, greens, berries and the abundant game in the forest. Much of the food was supplied by the friendly Indians. The St. Lawrence River was the means of travel and transportation. In the St. Lawrence River four miles from the city of Québec is an island called the Ile de Orléans and abbreviated, î.O. This island had five towns that are mentioned in the text. They are, St. Famille, î, O., St. Laurent, î.O., St. Pièrre, î.O., St. Francois, î.O., and St. Jean, î.O.

The memory of our early family members was not exact and their record keeping was no better. Dates derived from different sources vary as much as ten years but typically one or two years.

Our ancestors cannot be called true Acadians, since the area of Acadia encompasses what today includes the provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and part of Maine. Acadia did not include the region of Québec which is north of the Acadian region. The term Acadia is derived from Arcadia, a name given to that section of the Atlantic Coast in 1524 by Verrazano, an early explorer. Québec is the name of both a province and a city. All of the Canadian cities named in this section are in the province of Québec. In addition to the cities, the religious diocese is often given, indicating where the records on the family members were located. Almost all of the dates submitted here are from the Catholic Church Records. Rather than actual birth dates, the dates given as birth dates are more often baptismal dates and the death dates given are more often burial dates. There are only a few actual birth and death dates given in the Church Records. The area of Québec was well supplied with priests and the baptismal dates were often the date of birth, and almost always when both dates are given they are at most a few days apart. Death dates and burial dates were often the same, and again at most a day or so apart. One exception in a collateral line showed the death and burial date about three months apart. This was explained by the notation that this was because of a siege at the time. It was interesting to note that usually when a child died the name was given to the next child of the same sex. Maries and Josephs were given to children without regard to their sex. There were many Marie-Joseph and Joseph-Marie names for girls and boys. In Louisiana the convention had been to name males Joseph-Marie, and females Marie-Josephe. No such firm convention could be detected in the Québec families. It is not unusual to have all the daughters and some of the sons with Marie in their name. Thus, Marie-Madeleine, Marie-Geneviève, Marie-Josephe, Marie-Louise, Marie-Anne, Marie-Marthe, Marie-Agnes, Marie-Francoise, Marie-Suzanne, Marie-Élizabeth and Marie-Magdelene may all be sisters in the same family. In both male and female names they added and dropped parts of the name at will. Thus Jean Louis is often shown as Jean and often as Louis and sometimes as Jean Louis. Marie-Anne-Agnes is sometimes shown as Marie, sometimes as Anne and sometimes as Agnes. Some male and female names appear quite similar. Usually, Francois is male while Francoise is female, although exceptions occur. One thing which made the untangling of these many names possible is that females always used their maiden name in legal matters. No matter how many times a woman was married, she always used her maiden name. This is also true of most of the Avoyelles Parish, LA, and St. Landry Parish, LA, records. Many of the 1850, 1860 & 1870 St. Landry Parish, LA, census records give the wife's maiden name.

DIT NAMES

In addition to the most common surname, many of the families also had other surnames or aliases by which they were called. Sometimes these names had subtle meanings which may not be easily discovered by us, but often it was just another name. There may have been just too many others of that name and they made an informal name change. These were called dit names. An example in French would be written "Lamontagne dit Bacquet". The word "dit" is literally translated as, "called". Just as the full first names were not always used, the dit names were not often given. For example, Marie-Élizabeth Bacquet dit Lamontagne was given alternately as Marie Lamontagne, Marie Bacquet, Élizabeth Lamontagne, and Élizabeth Bacquet. This very example caused a delay of some twelve years in the location of our ancestors further back than the mid 1700's.

Some of the dit names for LaCroix are: DeLaCroix, Lacroaut, Langcloise, Babin, Bourgaud et Bourgaux, Corbin, Damesteuil, Darragon, Desnoyers, Doisson, Fevrier, Fouet, Fouin, Foy, Girard, Hubert, Lagiroflee, Laine, Langevin, Launay, Lefebvre, Lerous, Maguet, Major, Neveu, Roberge, and Voisin. Can you imagine a society where any number of these names applied to an individual? Fortunately, enough records were found under the name of LaCroix to tie our family together. Some enterprising French language student may someday want to run the references to all these other dit names and add to our knowledge of the family.

SPELLING

Many of our family did not know how to spell their names and the names are found spelled phonetically with many variations. Many of our family who did know how to write seemed to enjoy creating new ways to spell and pronounce their names. Many variations were devised. Apoline became Plana, Perrine, Pauline, Elene, Olene and Lena. Magdelene became Madeline, Adeline, Delene, Elene and Lena. With a situation like that there is really no correct way to spell a name, just as there is no incorrect way. In Louisiana, add to this situation the problem that the local priest often was not French and was completely unfamiliar with French names, and you can see the Church records are very difficult to utilize. Often the local Parish Judge was of English ancestry and could write English but not French. The decrees came out in English as the French sounded to him. Spelling was not important to our early family members. Survival in the daily struggle to provide the basic necessities was the important thing, and that had little to do with spelling. Should the reader decide to check some of the references, the mind should be kept open for such variations. The most often used names of the individual are utilized in this text.

LaRochelle, France

Originally called Rupella, LaRochelle is a fortified seaport in West France on the Bay of Biscay. It has a 15th century town hall, an 18th century cathedral, and the old episcopal palace of 16th Century Henry II. It has important fisheries and it manufactures porcelain, tile, sugar and glass. This became the chief Huguenot stronghold in the 16th century and was besieged by Richelieu in 1627-28 and forced through famine to capitulate.

QUEBEC

The city of Quebec is located on the site of the old Indian town of Stadacona and was visited by Jacques Cartier in 1535 and 1541. It is located on a rocky projection which rises from the edge of the St. Lawrence and St. Charles rivers in sheer cliffs. The first settlement was made by Champlain as a trading post in 1608. It was captured by the British in 1629 and returned to the French by the Treaty of St Germain in 1632. It was the capital of New France from 1663 to 1763. In 1690 and 1711 it was unsuccessfully attacked by British fleets. It was taken by the British under General Wolfe in the Battle of the Plains of Abraham in 1759. Both Wolfe and the defending General Montcalm met their death.

DE DAVID-JOSEPH LACROIX

II A. De DAVID-JOSEPH LACROIX was born in 1644 and came to Québec in 1670. He was confirmed in Québec on 8/15/1670 by the Bishop of Québec. Here he married (1st) on 10/19/1671 Antoinette Bluteau (Buteau). She was the daughter of Louis Bluteau and d'Antoinette Le Grand of Condé-sur-Escaut of the diocese of Soissons in France. Condé-sur-Escaut is a small community only two miles from the Belgian border. It is located on the Escaut River which is also called the Schelde River. This river in North France flows North and Northeast through West Belgium to Antwerp where it turns Northwest and empties into the North Sea. Antoinette died between 1/27/1675 and 1/20/1681 at La Durantaye and on 1/20/1681 De David-Joseph LaCroix married (2nd) to MARIE-BARTHÉLEMIE MAILLOU who died between 1/14/1714 and 7/15/1716 at La Durantaye. This marriage took place at the Islet, a territory on the SW bank of the St. Lawrence River, East of the town of Quebec. The parents of MARIE- BARTHÉLEMIE were MICHEL MAILLOU (1641-7/2/1728) and his wife, JEANNE MERCIER, who was born in 1646. They had married in 1666. MICHEL MAILLOU died at St. Valier near Québec. De DAVID-JOSEPH LACROIX died 10/3/1712 at Hôtel-Dieu (Mansion of God) in Québec where he was buried. He was from LaDurantaye. There were no children of the first marriage of De DAVID-JOSEPH LACROIX and Antoinette. The children of De DAVID-JOSEPH LACROIX and BARTHELEMI MAILLOU follow:

Suzanne married (2nd) 7/27/1727 at St. Valier to Joseph-Noël Gromelin also shown as Gourmelin dit LaForme. In Louisiana this name is spelled Gremillion. He was the son of Noël Gromelin who was born in 1652 at the town of Roldregal in the diocese of Cornwall in Britagne (Brittany), France and died 3/27/1724 at Beaumont, and Marie Balan who was born in 1673 and buried 12/11/1749. LOUIS LACROIX II

LOUIS LACROIX was born 10/24/1714 and married (1st) 1/12/1739 to MARIE-Élizabeth BACQUET dit LAMONTAGNE (3/9/1711-11/24/1749). An interesting legal document dated 7/22/1744 at Québec donated property to Noël Gourmelon, the step-father of LOUIS LACROIX for compensation for the good care he had given their youngest child. This would have been Marie Geneviève LaCroix who was born 4/8/1742. This document gave both Lamontagne and Bacquet as surnames for Marie Élizabeth, who must have been sickly at the time. She was seven months pregnant with Michel in July and apparently could not adequately care for the two year old Marie Geneviève. This one document gave both LaMontagne and Bacquet for Marie-Élizabeth and it provided the connection between the Lamontagne name given in the Louisiana document and Bacquet name given in almost all of the Québec documents. Marie-Élizabeth died five years later, after having Michel, John Louis and Marie-Madeline. LOUIS LACROIX married (2nd) 8/3/1750 to Geneviève Fortier. The children of LOUIS LACROIX and MARIE-ÉLIZABETH BACQUET called LAMONTAGNE follow.

He married (1st) 5/21/1772 to the widow Francoise Manon (Mason), who was the widow of Jean Canty of Chambery in Savoie, East France. He married (2nd) 6/12/1775 the widow Marie L'Agee Marionneaux Legeay who was buried 10/22/1787. She was the widow of Louis Emmanuel Marionneau (Marion, Marionț, Mariono, Marriaux, Marionot, and Marionnot) who was the son of Pièrre Marionneau and Jeanne Chagneau. One of Jeanne Chaigneau's brothers was Francois Chagneau who married Marie Anne LaCroix. Their children lived in Natchitoches Parish, LA. Louis Emmanuel Marionneau was the security major of the militia. Marie and Louis had married 8/21/1749. She was the daughter of Jean Lagee and Francoise Buart Lagee. Her second marriage was 1/7/1771 to Francoise Legeay dit LaCave (LaCava), son of Guilliam Legeay and Marie Magdaline Boisbonin. Michel lived in Pointe Coupee Parish, LA, but traveled extensively on the rivers. Michel had no children of his own but had a number of stepchildren. The children of Louis Emmanuel Marionneau and Marie L'Agee Marionneau follow.

Michel LaCroix was a traveling merchant who bought goods on credit from a merchant, took them by boat along the waterways and traded with the settlers. Signing a bond for securing the payment of the debt was common then. One such trip in 1789 was not very prosperous. Michel LaCroix and Louis Guichard, in partnership, purchased a large quantity of goods from Augustin Garcellier of Point Coupee Parish with the intent of trading them to the settlers for fur, tobacco, or live-stock. They signed a bond to pay by the next Spring. By the time they started making their stops for trading, although there was a desire among the settlers for the goods, the farmers had nothing to trade for them. The farming season was passed and the meager produce had been disposed of. It was too early for the trapping season. Michel and Louis disposed of the perishable goods by taking bonds from the settlers.

Michel LaCroix and Louis Guichard went back and talked to Augustin Garcellier and had a verbal agreement that they would bring the pay as soon as the settlers could settle their accounts. Louis Guichard went in debt even further to purchase, on credit, another large load of goods. Michel declined to be a partner in that venture. The year passed and the settlers could not pay. The trapping was poor and they had the second bad crop year in a row. Pressure mounted from Augustin Guichard to settle the account. At that time, the Post Commandant settled all such problems. The Commandant, Noël Soileau, thought he settled the problem by taking some of the livestock and chickens from the settlers, but leaving enough that they could continue to raise cattle. His appraised value of the livestock was enough to pay the debt. Michel LaCroix and Louis Guichard took the livestock to Augustin Garcellier, but his appraisal of the value was less than half of what Mr. Soileau had appraised them. Things might have been different, but about this time the French transferred the title of the Louisiana Territory to Spain. They replaced Commandant Soileau with Don Estevan De Lamorandier. He was called on to again settle the problem between Michel LaCroix, Louis Guichard and Augustin Garcellier. By this time Louis Guichard had defaulted on his second bond. Michel LaCroix had in his possession, as a third party, some funds from a relative in Natchitoches that he had promised to pay a bond that was due and owed by the relative. Augustin Garcellier had those funds seized, despite Michel's explanation. Michel offered to turn over to Garcellier a bond signed by another relative in Natchitoches, but Garcellier didn't want the bond, he wanted money or goods that could be converted to money. He and Michel did go to Natchitoches together to see if any money could be collected on the bond and found it was worthless. They had no money, either, or anything that could be converted to money.

The lengthy legal procedures drew on and on. Michel LaCroix had all his resources exhausted by this time. On the day of the last hearing of the matter, 10/22/1797, after attending the hearing, Michel LaCroix died. The cause of death was not located. With his estate completely dissipated, there was not a succession filed for Michel, and consequently no information was located about his relatives.

V D. JEAN LOUIS LACROIX was baptized 5/11/1746 and died c1801. He married c1778 MARY BARBARA HOOTER.

JEAN LOUIS LACROIX

JEAN LOUIS LACROIX, pronounced and often written as John Louis LaCroix, was baptized 5/11/1746 and died c1801. He is more often shown as just Louis LaCroix. He married c1776 MARIE BARBARA HOOTER, also shown as Mary, who was born c1758 and died in January 1814. After Jean Louis LaCroix died, Mary married c1802 to Hugh Bailey, a younger man. Mary Barbara Hooter was the daughter of Michael Hooter and Mary Barbara Kemble from Germany. Mary Barbara Hooter LaCroix may well have been born in Germany, too, as she seems to have spoken German. The children were brought up in a mixture of French, German and English. The native French is spoken with all soft tones, while the German is spoken with many harsh tones. You can well imagine what their speech sounded like. No wonder two of the children were classified as foreigners in a muster roll. They must also have had a mixture of the physical traits of the two races. Most of the Louisiana French are dark complexioned and dark eyed and most Germans are fair complexioned.

If we are to believe the age brackets of the 1799 census of Rapides Post, Jean Louis LaCroix and Marie Barbara Hooter may well have been married about 1773, and if so, it may well have been prior to their arriving in Louisiana. Mary Hooter LaCroix did not know the names of Jean Louis's parents. The 1799 census of Rapides Post lists Jean Louis LaCroix with one male over 50, his wife 25-49, three sons 0-24, two sons 25-49, two females 0-24, one daughter 25-49, five slaves, twenty horses and 200 cattle. The 1810 census shows John Louis LaCroix, Jr. to be 26-45 years of age, Mary LaCroix Glass 26-45, and Michael LaCroix 16-26, Catherine LaCroix Holloway is shown as age 26-45. Baptismal records and subsequent census entries support the 1810 entries over the 1799 except for Michael who apparently was born about 1781. There is a Jean Baptist LaCroix listed once on an undated militia list of Opelousas Post. If this was a son, he must have been the oldest and died prior to the 1799 census. The known children, the subject of this book, listed in the best order available follow.

VI A. John Louis LaCroix, Jr., a twin, (7/1780-c1833) appears to have married twice, but neither wife's name has been located. See Page 37.

VI B. Mary LaCroix, a twin, (7/1780-1847) married c1800 to Samuel Glass. See page 38.

VI C. Michael LaCroix (c1781-c1836) married 9/1803 to Rebecca Frazier (c1787-1860's). See page 45.

VI D. Joseph LaCroix (c1782-c1821) married his first cousin, Celeste Hooter (c1793-1860's). See page 297.

VI E. Catherine LaCroix (c1783-c1848) married c1800 to James Holloway (1779-c1827). See page 301.

VI F. Stephen LaCroix (c1785-2/24/1815) is discussed on page 333.

VI G. Peter LaCroix (10/8/1791-6/22/1862) married c1815 Mary Willson (1/23/1797-1/27/1863). See page 335.

VI H. Barbara LaCroix (3/2/1793-c1821) married c1811 to Isaac Frazier, Jr. (1788-a1850). See page 477.

JEAN LOUIS LACROIX and MARIE BARBARA HOOTER LACROIX probably lived in the Natchez area when first married. They stayed close to the Hooter family and lived some in St. Landry Parish. They moved to Avoyelles Parish about the same time the Hooters moved there. The family lived on Section 81 T4N R3E which included Section 7 T3N R3E until the early 1790's. They then moved to Section 35 T3N R3E where they were living when John Louis died. This is on present Hwy. 115 about halfway between Effie and Deville, LA.

Their next door neighbor was Hugh Bailey. When John Louis LaCroix died, his widow married Hugh Bailey and moved to his place. Hugh must have been a good husband to Mary and a good stepfather to the children. In her will, Mary left almost everything to Hugh. At the estate settlement, the property left had been community property between Mary and John Louis, and subsequently it was divided among the children. The list of children in this succession provided the basis for the historical foundation of their descendants. Without that information, some of the family would not have been located and included in this book. That will is shown below.

In the Name of God, Amen.

Hugh Bailey purchased an operating ferry, inn, and farm on the River on the old road from Marksville to Alexandria. He sold half interest in it to an attorney in Alexandria. Here all the LaCroix children that were still at home learned the operation of the ferry and the inn. This served Peter LaCroix well in later years.

V G. Marie-Geneviève LaCroix (9/18/1753-12/8/1757)

V H. Marie-Geneviève LaCroix (3/1/1756-8/28/1758) died at Québec.

V I. Jean-Francois LaCroix was born 12/22/1760 and married 2/4/1783 Marie-Josephe Helot.

In 1755 the Acadians were forced to leave their lands and many of them went to the nearest French-controlled territory. Many went to Québec, and others went to Santa Domingo, Martinique, France and Louisiana. Our LaCroixs were old-time residents of Québec at that time and thus were not in the forced relocation that sent the first group of Acadians to Louisiana. The increase in population in Québec due to the refugees and the normal increase in population of the residents did cause a scarcity of good land in the Québec Region. In 1759 an expedition by the English was made against Québec and they penetrated the defenses of the city and it fell in May 1760. The citizens of Québec were not forced to leave their land as the Acadians were. However, knowing what had happened to the Acadians and fear of a similar situation in Québec probably prompted the departure from Québec of Joseph, his family and two nephews. Others of the family may have started on the trip and dropped off along the way. Some of Joseph's children may have stopped along the river and stayed. All of the Louisiana Territory belonged to either Spain or France at this time. Either would have been friendly to the Québec refugees. The year 1760 is probably the year the LaCroix group left Québec. Many members of the family stayed in Québec and became English subjects. Records of the family members continue until the present time in that area.

THE TRIP TO LOUISIANA

The data is sketchy on how Joseph LaCroix, some of his family and his two nephews came to Louisiana. One of Joseph's sons, Pièrre LaCroix, married in 1767 in St. Louis, Mo. This tends to support a river trip from Québec to Louisiana. This could be accomplished by a land trip from the Great Lakes to the Illinois or Wabash Rivers. The Indians had been incited to cause trouble with the French on the Ohio River at that time. A river trip down the Illinois and Wabash Rivers to the Mississippi River and on down to Missouri, Arkansas and Louisiana is probable. They probably stopped for some time in each area as they came down the river. Spanish claims for land were made in the Illinois Territory by our folks. Most were old settlements that had been abandoned and were not approved.

Pièrre LaCroix, eldest son of Joseph, married in St. Louis and Michel LaCroix probably married the first time before he arrived in Louisiana. Jean Louis LaCroix could have married Marie Barbara Hooter before they arrived in Louisiana. There are records that the Hooter family was in Pennsylvania prior to arriving in Natchez and then Louisiana. The Colonial records of the Pennsylvania and Illinois area have not been sufficiently searched to determine if there is additional data on these families.

In the 1770's Joseph, some of his family, and two nephews, Michel and Jean Louis LaCroix arrived in Louisiana. All members of the family were experienced river travelers. Joseph and the remainder of his family took up residence in Iberville Parish near the town of Placquemines. Michel spent some time in the Natchitoches area and then settled in Pointe Coupee Parish just north of the town of New Roads. Jean Louis LaCroix stayed near his wife's family, first around Natchez, and then St. Landry Psh. and lastly, in the Point Maigre area of Avoyelles Psh.

A puzzle had existed for some time regarding the parents of Jean Louis LaCroix. In the four baptismal records located of the children of Jean Louis LaCroix and Mary Barbara Hooter, all list her parents, but in the place for his parents two say "unknown" and the other two are blank. This indicates certainly that Mary Barbara Hooter did not know Jean Louis's parents and that possibly Jean Louis did not know. Jean Louis was only three years old when his mother died and it is easy to see that he would not have remembered his mother's name. His father remarried the following year. Did Noël Gourmelon care for Jean Louis as he did Marie-Geneviève? Michele gave the name of his parents as Louis LaCroix and Marie LaMontagne on his second marriage license. Why did Michele know the name of his parents since he was only two years older than Jean Louis? The answer may lie in the areas traveled and the associations after maturity. Jean Louis led a farming and cattle ranching life with some travel on the Red River. Michele, on the other hand, spent his time trading and travelling the Red and the Mississippi Rivers. He probably stopped occasionally at his Uncle Joseph LaCroix's in Iberville Parish and the conversation likely turned to earlier times and ancestors. Placing Jean Louis LaCroix in this family is based on his close association with Michele, and Michele's parents having a son Jean Louis the right age to be our Jean Louis. There was a Jean Louis LaCroix in New Orleans who for years I thought was ours. He was born 11/23/1750 and was the son of Jean Baptiste LaCroix, a wood cutter and joiner, and Jeanne Hervieux. This New Orleans Jean Louis LaCroix is not ours for he was living in the 1810 census which was years after our Jean Louis was dead. It is believed that the LaCroixs in Natchitoches, LA, were members of our family, but data is too sparse to try to make that connection. These stopped in Arkansas for some time prior to coming to Natchitoches. This would be compatible with the travel path that our family took.

A MAP SHOWING THE PROBABLE PATHS TAKEN BY OUR FAMILY FROM QUÉBEC TO LOUISIANA A is the most probable route for Joseph LaCroix and his family. B is a route that some settlers took. C is the most probable route that the Hooter family took from Pittsburgh to Natchez and D is a possible route for that family.

JOSEPH LACROIX

While Joseph LaCroix is not a direct ancestor to our LaCroix family, he is nevertheless of interest. He was an Uncle to our ancestor JOHN LOUIS LACROIX I, and he moved to Louisiana. He is probably the reason that our ancestor and his brother came to Louisiana.

HOOTER

Clues and data on the Hooter family were supplied by Judge Tom Sullivan, Clifford B. Evans and Mrs. Veda H. Nugent.

Michael Hooter (c1727-c1793) married c1755 to Mary Barbara Kimble (1733-12/22/1796). They were from Germany and settled first in Maryland. They moved from Maryland across the state border into what is now Fayette County, Pa. Michael Hooter's name was on a 1768 list of settlers near Red Stone, Pa. At the time, the area was not open for settlement and they were removed from there despite their protests. This settlement was on the Monongahela River which empties into the Ohio and then into the Mississippi. The Natchez Area was owned by England at this time and was open for settlement. Because of the displacement from the Fayette County Area, they were probably offered lands in the Natchez District (British West Florida). They could have made rafts and floated to Natchez, but they would have had to travel through French held territory to get there. There was enmity between the American Colonies (English) and the French at that time; so, the Hooters probably took an overland route to Natchez. Their Germanic background probably would have made them acceptable to the French. They arrived in what is now the Natchez, MS, area prior to 9/21/1772 when they received a 450 arpent land grant on Second Creek, ten miles east of the Fort at Natchez under a British patent. This grant also mentions Michael's wife Mary. Michael apparently sold this land on 3/8/1776 to Isaac Johnson who in turn sold it to Benjamin Farrar. Michael Hooter and his family are shown on the 5/4/1777 Census of St. Landry Parish, LA. They were living in Avoyelles Parish by 1790. Some of their children are shown on the 1777 census, some were located on the quit claim-deed to the property of Mary Barbara Kimble Hooter to Joseph Hooter, and one was located in the St. Paul the Apostle Baptismal records. One suspected child, Marie Josephe Hooter, was located as a grandparent on a baptismal record.

The following document, in English, was located among the Avoyelles Parish Colonial documents.

Rapids district 1st January 1797

Be it known that Barbary Hooter widow of the before deceased Michael Hooter departed this life on the 22nd day of December last past, and at the time of her decease, possessed some property or effects, and was likewise a little indebted to others.

And whereas immediately after her decease a meeting of the children or heirs took place when it was mutually and unanimously agreed upon that the whole property she possessed at her death shall be peaceably possessed and enjoyed by Jacob Hooter, one of the children, his own proper right for ever without any molestation, or from whomsoever he hereby promising to pay all the debts the deceased owes, for the mutual and true performance of this contract or agreement we the parties concerned, hereunto sign our hands, binding ourselves, our heirs and executors duly to perform these agreements. MICHAEL HOOTER III

Most of the information on this family and his brother, James Hooter, was supplied by Clifford B. Evans.

1. Michael Hooter (4/8/1791-11/30/1867) married (1st) 11/10/1810 Cynthia Harrison. He married (2nd) 9/10/1829 to Sarah Ann Potter (4/11/1811-3/16/1854). He married (3rd) 6/3/1855 the widow Nancy Suttle or Settle who was born c1808. He lived in Yazoo and Jefferson Counties, in Mississippi. The following is an excerpt from the Southern Folklore Quarterly, Vol. XIX, No. 2, June 1955.

Mike Hooter - The making of a Myth by John Q. Anderson--Behind this legendary Mike Hooter stands an actual man, Michael Hooter, stalwart pioneer of Yazoo County, a man whose industry and religious faith produced a fortune and family that even the destruction of the Civil War could not entirely sweep away. Michael Hooter was born on Red River in Louisiana in 1791. His parents had been granted land on the Red River in Louisiana in 1772, to which they had moved from the vicinity of Natchez, the British West Florida. About 1800 the Hooters moved to Jefferson County, MS, and by 1833 Michael Hooter was living in Yazoo County as his name appears on county tax rolls in that year. He was obviously a small planter at that time for he owned six slaves. During the following years Hooter acquired additional land and additional slaves and became a planter. Yazoo County, rich in soil and easily accessible by steamboat on the Yazoo River, rapidly became one of the leading cotton growing sections of the ante-bellum South, as the 37,500 bales of cotton shipped from Yazoo City in 1839 indicate. By 1857 Michael Hooter owned twenty-five slaves, and in 1860 his real estate was valued at $15,600 and personal property at $27,670- no small fortune.

A community-minded man, Michael Hooter was active in political and religious affairs in his part of the country. When the Whigs nominated the frontier hero, William Henry Harrison, to oppose Martin Van Buren, who was popularly blamed for bank failures and depression in the South and West, "Tippecanoe Clubs" sprang up all over the country in support of Harrison for president in the Presidential Campaign of 1840. Several "Tippecanoe Clubs" were organized in normally Democratic Mississippi, and Michael Hooter was very active in the club organized in Satartia. In addition, Michael Hooter was a loyal and faithful member of the historic Mount Olivet Methodist Church, still in existence in the southwestern part of Yazoo County. A devout man, he required his household servants and slaves to attend evening prayer service held at the back door of his house. The brass bell which he used to call his people to worship is now in the possession of Harold C. Fisher of Yazoo City, a descendant.

The Civil War reduced Hooter to near poverty, as it did most Southern planters. At the beginning of the war, he lived in a large brick house called "Hooter's Inn" in Mechanicsburg, and he owned land in Satartia and a plantation nearby. When the Union army moved across the country south towards Vicksburg in June 1863, Hooter's home was burned as were all other buildings in Mechanicsburg. At the time of his death, about 1865, Hooter was broken in health and almost penniless. according to family tradition, he was buried in the Mechanicsburg cemetery, though no tombstone marks his grave, few people being able to afford markers at that time.

LAND CLAIMS

In 1803 when the United States made the Louisiana Purchase, quite a stir was created as to what would happen to the lands that had been granted to the settlers by the French and Spanish governments. The Acadians expected a repeat of the situation when they were forced from their Acadian homes by the British and American takeover of that area. The United States, however, honored the previous grants. The problem became one of proving the grant. The Louisiana land permits to settle had been easy to obtain. One normally applied to the commandant of that district in person with a Requete (written request). The request was usually approved by writing on the bottom and handing the requete back. These became important documents in proving ownership of the land after the U.S. purchase of the Louisiana Territory. To the English-speaking citizens, these became known as ricketts. Many of the settlers had moved onto the land, built homes, cleared land and had never applied for title to the land. There was plenty of land and the commandant kept track of which land was occupied. The land was usually granted fronting on a water course. The water was the main source of transportation. These Spanish and French grants can be readily recognized on present day quadrangle charts, for the boundaries are almost never north, south, east and west. Section numbers are usually above thirty six.

After the Louisiana Purchase such a tangle of people applied for the land, and so few records were available that a rule was passed whereby, if prior to December 20, 1803, a person had a home on the land, lived on the land, cleared some of the land, planted a crop and was over 21 years of age with a family, the land would be granted to that person on a non-interference basis. This rule brought out all sorts of neighbors testimony about when land was settled, and the nature of his family. The neighbors would all get together, appear before the commission and give their testimony for each other. Often, the testimony didn't even skirt the truth, but was outright incorrect. Sometimes the original settler on the property sold it to another party, providing a bill of sale with testimony on it as to when it was settled. If a requete had been issued and the document was still in the possession of the settler, that would be attached to the land transfer. Normally, that information would be sufficient for the purchaser to obtain a valid title to the property. Some of the testimony abstracted from these proofs of occupancy follow.

The deposition of William Brown, taken in the claim of John Louis Lacroix, the deponent saith that the claimant went to live on the land claimed in the year 1807 and has resided thereon and cultivated the same ever since. Wm. Brown. (E.W.M.- This deposition and the two just previous were taken to support the claim by John Louis LaCroix for a tract of land on Bayou Rapides that Michael Hooter, Jr. had first settled. Michael Hooter, Jr. had just moved off the land about 1806 or 1807 to Sicily Island and concentrated on establishing his claim to the land up there. John L. LaCroix had a requete that was issued to Michael Hooter, Jr. for the place on Bayou Rapides, but he had no transfer from Hooter to him. This created a problem in establishing the title, particularly since John L. LaCroix had two claims established already. It was finally confirmed to him about the time he died.

Joseph Hooter- settled on the land about 15 years ago and sold to claimant, Pièrre Roberts. It is in Long Prairie of Point Maigre in Avoyelles Parish. It was leased to Samuel Glass and was put in the possession of Pièrre Amon. The application was made in 1816.

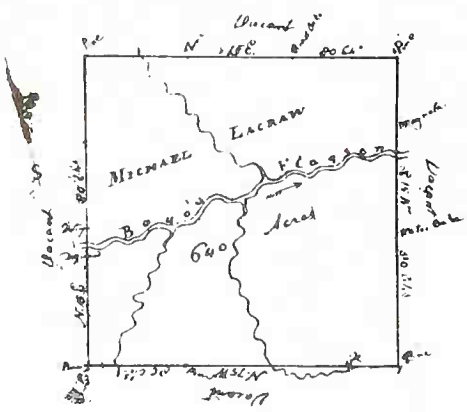
MAP OF EARLY FLAGON BAYOU AREA, SHOWING EARLY SPANISH LAND CLAIMS.

Michael Lacroix LAND GRANTS ALONG BAYOU FLAGON Mc Barrow



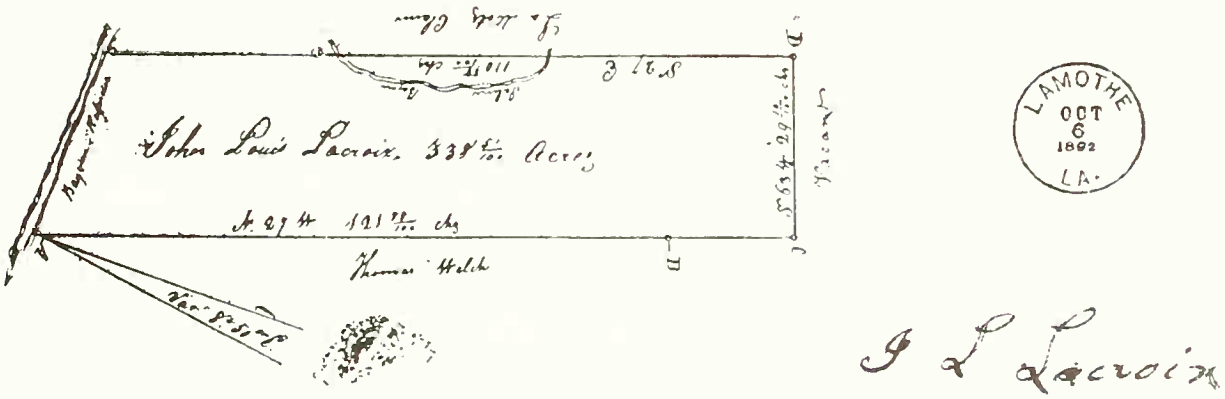
The land along a navigable water source was more valuable than the land back away from the water because of the easy access. Land grants were made with a narrow water access on one side of the water and a longer depth. Several of our kin applied for square land grants trying to secure a more valuable piece of property, but they were almost all rejected. The survey to the left was a bold move to try to get a square claim on both sides of the water. It was rejected.

JOHN LOUIS LACROIX, JR.

John Louis LaCroix, Jr. was born 6/1780 and died c1833. He apparently married twice, but no record of either wife has been found. John Louis LaCroix, Jr. had two Spanish Land Grants in Avoyelles Parish. One was in his own right, and the other was his father's claim which he purchased after the settlement of his father's estate. He sold both of these. Afterwards he established himself on the north side of Bayou Rapides at what is now known as Lamothe's Bridge. This was a thickly settled area that had been settled in the 1780's. Here, he took over the operation of his Uncle Michael Hooter's Spanish Land Grant and lived on it many years. The earlier occupation of the land by Michael Hooter, Jr. had created a question about the title. The original Requette was issued to Michael Hooter, Jr. Finally, rules were changed on the acquisition of property and he was established in his claim. John Louis's nearest neighbor was Pollicarpe LaMothe (Lamotte), whose wife was Editha Wells. They had a son Samuel Valcient LaMothe.

In 1809 John Louis LaCroix sold a slave to Richard C. Wilmore taking a mortgage on the slave until he was paid for. Mr. Wilmore moved out of Rapides to Concordia Parish prior to the note on the slave becoming due. John Louis was concerned about the possibility that Mr. Wilmore would cross the river into Mississippi with the slave and he would not get paid. He promptly filed suit in Concordia Parish and required a bond be set so that if he did leave John Louis would still get paid for the slave.

John Louis LaCroix, Jr. was the executor of his mother's estate in 1814 in Avoyelles Parish, LA. At that time he lived at least part of the time in Avoyelles Parish. John Louis LaCroix also lived on Bayou Cotile some. John Louis LaCroix's only child to live was a daughter, Aphia (Alphia) Marie Xavier LaCroix, who was born in 1822. When her father died, about 1832, she was placed in a Convent. At age fifteen she was anxious to leave the Convent and the opportunity arose when the next door neighbor Samuel Valcient LaMothe asked her to be his bride. They were married in 1837 in Rapides Parish, LA. Eight months later, in 1838, they moved to Texas. Three months after that, their first child was born and died an infant on 11/18/1838. Their second child was John Polycarpe LaMothe (9/19/1840-3/17/1885) and he didn't marry. John P. LaMothe served in the CSA and was taken prisoner at Port Hudson, LA. He is buried at the Wm. C. C. Martin Cemetery at Martin Springs near LeCompte, LA. He is shown on the 1860 Austin County, Texas census. He is on the 1870 Burleson County, Texas census. In the 1880 census he is shown living near his Aunt Sophia Martin in Rapides Parish. In 1842 Aphia LaCroix LaMothe died, and reportedly is buried in the Houston, Texas area with a marker. Samuel Valcient LaMothe married three more times and died in 1861. Additional information can been obtained from The Wells Family of Louisiana.



JOHN LOUIS LACROIX, JR.'S LAND GRANT ON BAYOU RAPIDES

MARY LACROIX GLASS

Mary LaCroix (7/1780-1847) was a twin to John Louis LaCroix, Jr. She married c1800 to Samuel Glass (c1775-1838). Samuel and Mary owned a Spanish Grant in the Point Maigre area of Avoyelles Parish. This was north of Red River and thirteen miles from Marksville. This was apparently near the present town of Effie. The hill land was described as useless for crops, and it seemed to be true to the meaning of its name. Maigre in French means meager, poor, barren etc. Their house was modest. Although the land was not the best for crops, the climate was more healthy than some of the river land the relatives chose that was prone to encourage malaria, cholera and typhoid fever.

Mary and Samuel were hard working and thrifty. Their big disappointment in life was that they had no children. Samuel and Mary purchased Millie an 18 year old slave from John Say on 8/10/1811. The record of Millie is obscure. She may have died, she may have been sold, or she may have been renamed Tamar who is the subject of most of this section. Tamar, a female slave, was born about 1803, and came into prominence in the early 1820's. Tamar is a Biblical name, applied to two people in the Old Testament. Tamar was the name of the wife of Judah's son Er who bore unto Judah, Pharez and Zarah (Ge. 38:6-30). Tamar was also the name of David's daughter who was forced by her brother Ammon. (IISam. 13:1).

According to the census records there was only one residence and no slave quarters, so Tamar lived in the home with Samuel and Mary. Tamar's children were Betsy who was born in 1823, Bill who was born in 1827, Jackson Maxwell who was born in 1829 and Jim who was born in 1831. Two of the children were very light complexioned and were classified as mulattoes in the inventory of the estate. The other two were classified in the census later as mulattoes. They were all reared as members of the family, as they may well have been. The nearest neighbor was William Maxwell who was a baker and born c1808 in PA. Tamar's third child, Jackson Maxwell, was particularly different in that he had a double name. It is the only case of a first and last name assigned to a slave that this writer has ever encountered. There was a close association between Jackson Maxwell and William Maxwell's descendants that will be mentioned further in the story.

In early 1838 Samuel Glass became ill and died. His death bed request to his wife was that Tamar and her children be given their freedom upon Mary's death. Shortly after Samuel's death, Mary made the following will.

Parish of Avoyelles,
State of Louisiana

In the name of God Amen. I Mary LaCroix, surviving widow of Samuel Glass deceased, of the Parish of Avoyelles, State of Louisiana considering the uncertainty of human life and being of Sound and perfect mind and memory blessed be Almighty God for the same and in pursuance of the last wishes of my deceased husband Samuel Glass and in consideration of the long and faithful services of my negro woman slave Tamar aged now about thirty four years and her four children, Betsy aged about fourteen years, Bill aged ten years, Jackson Maxwell aged about eight years and Jim aged about six years and in consequence of my leaving no descending or ascending heirs do make and publish this last nuncupative Will and Testament by private act in the manner and form following to wit.

1st. I do give and bequeath my body to the earth from whence it came and my soul to God who gave it.

2nd. I do give and bequeath unto my five slaves Tamar, Betsy, Bill, Jackson Maxwell and Jim their liberty freedom and emancipation to be free from all kinds of servitude to me and my heirs or assigns, their freedom to take place after my death in pursuance of the laws of Louisiana which do exist or may exist at the time of my death.

3rd. I do further give and bequeath unto each of my above mentioned slaves a cow and calf at my death.

4th. I do further give and bequeath the three slaves Bill, Jackson Maxwell and Jim a young horse to be delivered to them as they shall be emancipated.

Finally, I do by these present appoint my friend Robert McNeil my sole executor of this my last will and testament and he is hereby authorized, required and requested to execute the same after my death in all its parts and stipulation and clauses. My said executor is required to execute this my last will and testament immediately after my death and with as little delay as the law may require.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto made my ordinary mark, not being able to write my name this third day of March in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty eight in the country and place of my domicil in presence of the witnesses residing in the place. Signed, published, declared and read by one of the witnesses to the testatrix and to the other witnesses. The said Testatrix has presented this will in which she has caused to be written in the presence of the witnesses by one of the same declaring the same to contain her last will and testament.

The said signing, declaration and reading done by one of the witnesses in the presence of this testatrix and our presence. Mary (her X mark) LaCroix, Ralph Cushman, William Scroggs, Isaac Mathews and William Maxwell witnesses.

The subject of freeing slaves was a very touchy one at that time in Central Louisiana. Slave holders felt that it would be disruptive to their own slaves to know that some in the neighborhood were freed. There was also a severe scarcity of slaves. To see one set free rather than sold just didn't set well with many of the local folks. There were not many slaves in the area of Point Maigre for two reasons. The area was thinly settled to start with and the nature of the fertility of the land was such that farming was not particularly profitable. It was primarily an area to raise livestock. Mary had to try to choose those neighbors whom she could trust to carry out her wishes despite the pressure from other neighbors and heirs. The nieces and nephews of Mary would be particularly upset at the freeing of the slaves because by far the largest part of the value of the estate was in the slaves. All the witnesses needed to remain silent.

Mary's choice of persons to witness and carry her husband's wishes through appeared good. Ralph Cushman was a local judge who wrote the will according to Mary's instructions, read it to Mary and the witnesses and had the witnesses sign it. He was still living when Mary died, but the matter drew on until after his death and his expert testimony was absent from the proceedings of the settlement of Mary's estate. Isaac Mathews was a resident of Rapides that Mary knew and thought she could depend on. However, when the estate was settled, he was either dead or had moved away.

William Maxwell was Mary's nearest neighbor with whom Mary had previously done business. He was one of the two witnesses still living when the will was probated. His first wife had died and he married the second time 5/22/1851 to Nancy A. Williams. He apparently had several children of the first marriage, but Mary Ann Maxwell is the only one this writer has researched.

William Scroggs was born c1776 in N.C. He had been a near neighbor since 1816 and lived about two miles away. He was the other witness still living when the will was probated. William Scroggs' descendant, William Walter Scroggs, born 1878, married in 1899 a LaCroix descendent, Mary Olevia Paul. Other neighbors that were not called to be witnesses to the will were James Cole who lived one and a half miles, James Jones who lived about two miles, and Laurent Dupuy who lived about two miles from Mary. Possibly, these other neighbors had different views on emancipation and Mary distrusted them and did not call them as witnesses, or possibly it was just not convenient for them to attend that day. As William Scoggs later testified, the neighbors owned stock and were frequently engaged to attend to the stock. This compelled them often to be absent from their home the whole day and sometimes two or three days.

Robert McNeal (McNeil) (1790-1839) was the fourth husband of Nancy Roe (1797-1850). Nancy Roe was the aunt of Daniel Marion Roe who married Rebecca LaCroix, and she was also the great aunt of William Joseph Tison who married Elizabeth LaCroix. She was the great great Aunt of this writer. Robert and Nancy Roe McNeal's son, Hugh McNeal, married 6/2/1853 to Mary Maxwell, daughter of William Maxwell. It was unfortunate, but Robert McNeal's death about 1839 left the position of executor of Mary's estate open. Mary could have filed a codicil to her will and named another executor, but she failed to do so. This allowed Mary's nephew, Peter LaCroix to be made executor of the estate.

For nine years after making the will, Mary, Tamar and her family lived a very peaceful life. Mary was content that she was obeying Samuel's dying wish, and the slaves felt they were members of the family. The slaves may well have been told of their upcoming freedom. If so, this gave them a hope for the future that they could still all be together and lead a peaceful life after Mary's death. Financial problems or the death of an owner always caused concern among the slaves of that owner. They were almost always the most liquid of the owner's assets, and would be sold readily to satisfy a debt. The concern about their new owner's disposition always provoked some fear among the slave upon his learning of his upcoming sale. Even though their present owner might not be very good, there was always the fear that their new owner might be much worse.

Mary must have had a premonition of difficulty at releasing the slaves. She sold all the slaves to Daniel Kennedy Richey May 20, 1841 and had that sale recorded. On May 31, 1844, he sold them back to Mary and that sale was not recorded. Apparently, the intent was to let the title appear to be in the name of Richey. Daniel Kennedy Richey was the fifth husband of Nancy Roe. Her fourth husband, Robert McNeal, had died about 1839 and she and Daniel Kennedy Richey married about 1840. Apparently, Daniel Kennedy Richey, who was born c1797 in TN, was sympathetic toward freeing the slaves.

At Mary's death in 1847 her nephew, Peter LaCroix, applied to be made the executor of Mary's estate. He made the statement that he and his sister, Catherine Holloway, were the only siblings of Mary still living. After appointment as curator, his first petition to the court was to request a sale of all the property that might depreciate. This included the livestock, farm equipment, and land. There were several attempts to sell the property, but at the early attempts only some of the livestock brought the appraised value. Apparently there was some concern among the neighbors, because no acceptable bids were made for most of the property.

The process of waiting and waiting set in. Somehow, the sale of the slaves from Daniel Kennedy Richey back to Mary was discovered, and they were inventoried as part of the property. No record was located of what happened to Tamar and the children during this period. Usually, in a case of an extended delay in settling the estate the slaves were rented out for income. There was no indication that this occurred in this case. By 1857, Betsy had two children. Polly, a mulatto, was born in 1848 and James was born in 1851.

The controversy about freeing Tamar and her children apparently was well known and wide spread. The Judge in answer to one petition stated, "That Mary Glass' estate is open is a widely accepted fact." The publicity must have been bad.

Things dragged on for ten years after Mary's death. In a quick move in early 1857, Peter LaCroix's lawyer, John P. Waddell, petitioned the court to appoint a dative testamentary executor to represent the best interest of the heirs and slaves. It just so happened this person was W. W. Waddell. John P. and W. W.

Waddell apparently were brothers as they are shown in the same house in the 1850 census and both born in Tennessee. A petition was then made to sell all the property of the estate of Mary Glass, stating it was deeply in debt. Ironically, the heirs were cited to show cause, if any they had, why the property should not be sold. With no opposition from the slave's representative, the order issued to sell all the property including the slaves. Slaves had no voice in legal proceedings. This order was carried out and completely reversed Mary Glass' expressed wishes. The terms of the sale of the slaves and land were one third down, one third in one year, and one third in two years.

Betsy, the eldest of Tamar's children and Betsy's two children, Polly aged about nine years and James aged about 6 years were sold 2/14/1857 to Mrs. Pualimeri Boyce, wife of Dr. Eugene Amet for $1500. To add further humiliation to Tamer, she did not bring the appraised value. Another petition to reappraise Tamar was made that stated she appeared older than she was and did not bring the appraised value. At the sale after the reduced appraisement, Mrs. Amet bought Tamar, aged fifty years for $360. Doctor Eugene Amet was born c1827 in France. His wife, Palmire Boyce Amet was born c1834 in LA. She is not shown in the household in 1870 and it is assumed that she died between 1862 and 1870. The Amet children, as pieced together from the census are listed below.

A. Valsie "Voley" Amet, a daughter was born c1857., B. Eugenie Amet, a daughter, was born c1858 and not shown in 1870. It is assumed she died. C. Eugene Albert Amet, a son, was born about March 1860., D. Laura Amet was born c1862.

A slave the right age to be Tamer was shown as a slave in Dr. Amet's household in the 1860 census. No subsequent trace of Tamar has been found and it is assumed she died prior to the 1870 census. Betsy was shown living with her brother Bill in the 1870 census but she has not been located after that. They both used the last name Maxwell. Her daughter Polly has not been located after the 1860 census. She may have married or left the area when they were freed. Betsy's son, James, is shown as Isaac and is listed with Betsy and William "Bill" Maxwell in the 1870 census.

Bill, the second child of Tamar was sold to Abraham Felsenthal for $1250.00 with one third down, and the remainder in two installments a year apart. Abraham Felsenthal was a merchant who was born in Germany. Abraham's wife in 1850 is shown as Juliene and in 1860 is shown as Celina. The ages were compatible and they were probably the same person. By 1870 the previous wife had died and his wife is shown as Elodie who outlived him. Abraham Felsenthal died between the 1870 and 1880 census, when Elodie is shown as a widow. Abraham Felsenthal's children are shown below as located in the census.

A. Herman Felsenthal, also shown as Henry, was born c1848., B. Rothline Felsenthal, a twin, was born in the Spring of 1850 but not located in the 1860 census and it is presumed that she died prior to 1860., C. Belverion Felsenthal, a twin, was born in the Spring of 1850 and at home in 1860 but not 1870. It is assumed she married, but it is not known to whom., D. Martha Felsenthal, also shown as Jacobias in 1870 was born c1853., E. Hannah Felsenthal was born c1855., F. David Franklin Felsenthal was born c1859. G. Benjamin Felsenthal was born 1/1869 and married 1892 to Sarah___ who was born May 1874., H. Hester Felsenthal was born c1872.

No slave the right age to be Bill was shown in the home with Abraham Felsenthal in the 1860 census, and he must have been leased out or sold to a neighbor. In the 1870 census he and his sister Elizabeth "Betty" are shown near Jackson Maxwell's home, and using the last name Maxwell. In the 1900 census William is shown living with his brother James who had taken the name Voorhies. William continued to keep the name Maxwell. William Maxwell was born 3/1830. Nothing was located to indicate that William ever married.

Jackson Maxwell, Tamar's third child, was purchased by Hugh McNeal and his wife Mary Maxwell. Hugh was the son of Robert McNeal who had been named executor of Mary LaCroix Glass' will but had died before Mary died. Mary Maxwell was the daughter of William Maxwell, Mary Glass's nearest neighbor. This purchase seemed to have been out of concern for Jackson Maxwell both by Hugh and Mary. Jackson lived in the house with Hugh and Mary. A mulatto wife, Mary Jane (1835-1878), was obtained for him. Before emancipation, slaves could not be married, but after emancipation, on 2/10/1870 Jackson Maxwell and Mary Jane were legally married. She used Janis, a modification of Jane, as the last name. They had six children and these are listed below.

A. Cornelia A. "Nealy" Maxwell was born in 1860.
B. Andrew Maxwell was born c1862 married 10/31/1882 to Georgia Anna Hudson.
C. Minerva A. Maxwell was born in 1864.
D. Rollis Jackson "Rollo" Maxwell was born in 1869 and married 11/8/1888 Mary Ann "Eliza" Wythe.
1. F. Rollins Maxwell, was born 1889.
E. Elizabeth Maxwell was born c1874.
F. William Maxwell was born in May 1878 and he was living in 1900 with his father and Mayo McNeal, son of Hugh and Mary McNeal.

Jackson Maxwell was located in all the available census records through 1900 at which time he was living with Mayo McNeal, the son of Hugh and Mary Maxwell McNeal. Jackson Maxwell owned land which he purchased shortly after the war. Others of the family used this as home for a number of years.

Hugh McNeal (11/1826-a1910) married 5/27/1853 Mary Ann Maxwell who was born (6/1836-a1900p1910). They are shown in separate households in 1880, each with part of the children. They are shown together in 1900. An incomplete list of children is given below.

A. Martha McNeal was born c1854., B. Walter Winn McNeal was born 1859 and married 6/19/1884 Telty "Nettie" Cole who was born 5/1865., C. Hugh McNeal was born 9/6/1863 and married 4/16/1885 Ellen Cole who was born 9/11/1868.
D. William A. McNeal was born 5/16/1866., E. Oscar McNeal was born in 1869.

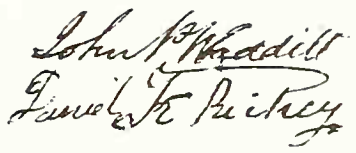
James, the youngest of Tamar's children, was purchased by Francoise Taussin (1810-c1859) for $1555.00. Francoise Taussin was a farmer. Mary Glass' land was sold for $150.00 to Francois Taussin on 2/14/1857. It was described as containing 528 acres in Point Maigre bounded on one side by lands of James Coal and on the other side by lands belonging to Aymond. Francoise Tassin's wife in the 1850 census is shown as Marcellin who was born c1817. Tassin is also shown as Taussin and Toussin. The children from the census are listed below.

A. Gervais Tassin was born c1835 and not shown in 1850, but is shown in 1860.
B. Selina Tassin was born c1842 and not shown in 1860., C. Joseph Tassin, a twin, was born c1846 and in 1870 was a clerk in a drug store., D. Josephine Tassin, a twin was born c1846., E. Marie Elodie Tassin was born c1849., F. Clementine Tassin was born c1850., G. Ambroise Tassin, a son, was born c1854.

James was shown in the 1870 census as Jacques Tassin aged 38. His wife was shown as Caroline aged 25 and they were living near Tassin family members. In the 1880 census he was shown in Rapides Parish using the name Voorhies which he continued to use. His wife in 1880 is shown as Lina, an Indian, who was born c1856. In the 1900 census, he was shown as a widower with three of his children and his older brother, William Maxwell, living with him. The 1900 census shows that James Voories was born 3/1833 which is in good agreement with the date shown in other records.
A. Jemail Tassin, a son, was born c1867 and shown as Stephen Voorhies in 1880.
B. Ferrier Tassin, a son, was born c1869 and shown as Cad Voorhies in 1880.
C. Stephen Voorhies was born c1871.

D. Bob Voorhies was born c1873.
E. James Voorhies was born c1875.
F. Luida Voorhies was born 2/1882.
G. Buck J. Voorhies was born 11/1883.
H. Rose Voorhies was born 5/1887.



After their sale, all of Tamar's children lived close to the place they were reared. James stayed on the Mary LaCroix Glass place which had been purchased by James' new owner. The 1860 and 1870 census show the Taussin, Amet and Felsenthal families to be close neighbors. Jackson Maxwell only moved to the next farm after his purchase by Hugh and Mary Maxwell McNeal. There were strict rules about slaves of one master visiting the slaves of another master, but they should have been able to hear from one another occasionally because of the nearness of their location. It is quite possible that they could continue to visit briefly with each other, but this was not anything like their own freedom which Mary and Samuel had planned for them.

After the Civil War and nationwide emancipation for all slaves, Tamar's children finally received the freedom that Samuel and Mary envisioned for them. In tracing ex-slaves through the 1864-1870 period, one of the big tasks is to determine the last name that was used by the person. By 1870 these ex-slaves were not yet accustomed to having two names and went by their first name given them by their last master. Often, the first name was changed by a new master. In the 1870 and subsequent census the person could select a last name, or in lieu of that the census taker could assign a name. Often, the person was given the last name of the last owner, but if that was not desirable they would choose, or be assigned another name. Some of the assigned names were humiliating and outright cruel. Luckily, by the 1880 census, that person had often forgotten the 1870 name and still had the option of any name he wanted. Since Jackson Maxwell had two names, and seemed satisfied with them, that name was used in all the census in which he has been located. In addition, Bill and Betsy used Maxwell at least part of the time. This made the tracing of these people possible into the 20th century.

As tragic and regrettable as this story is, the settlement of this estate in 1857 listed all of the living heirs of John Louis LaCroix. Without that information, this entire family history would not have been nearly as accurate. This list compared with the record at the settlement of Mary Barbara Hooter LaCroix Bailey's estate provided the basis for this entire book.

MICHAEL LACROIX, SR.

Michael LaCroix, Sr. was born c1781 and died in the 1840's. He married in September 1803 to Rebecca Frazier who was born in 1783 and died in the 1860's. Rebecca Frazier was a sister to Olivia Frazier Price and Isaac Frazier, Jr., both of whom figure elsewhere in this book. There is a question about whether Michael LaCroix, Sr. or John Louis LaCroix, Jr. is the older. The Baptismal record of John Louis LaCroix, Jr. was located, but no corresponding document has been located for Michael. In her will, Mary Hooter LaCroix Bailey mentions Michael first, as though he were the elder, but John Louis LaCroix, Jr. was the executor of her estate. This may have been because John Louis LaCroix, Jr. was living in Avoyelles Parish and Michael was in Rapides Parish at that time. The children of Michael LaCroix, Sr. and Rebecca Frazier LaCroix follow:

A. Olivia "Love" LaCroix (7/11/1804-1878)[154] married c1824 Robert Willson II (c1802-c1845). See page 46. Robert Willson II was a brother of Mary Willson who was the wife of Peter LaCroix. They were children of Robert Wilson, Sr.

B. John LaCroix was born 10/5/1806 and died young.

C. Mary LaCroix (5/17/1808-a1880) married c1829 Joseph Emmons Price (c1808-9/19/1882). Joseph Emmons Price was a brother to John W. Price who married Laura Eleanor LaCroix. Mary and Joseph spent their later life in what is now LaSalle Parish. See page 91 for this family.

D. James LaCroix (4/9/1810-a1867p1869)[97] married (1st) c1835 Emoline Barrow (c1815-c1852), who was the daughter of McCuin Barrow. James LaCroix married (2nd) c1853 to Arrena Jones (c1820-c1898)[97] The marks and brands book in Rapides Parish show Arrena's husband as Thomas Jefferson LaCroix. This is the only reference I have found to that name. All other documents have shown James LaCroix. All of the older descendants recalled it as James and the census records show it as James.[97] This family starts on page 111.

E. Michael LaCroix, Jr. (1/17/1813-a1860) married c1838 the widow Cynthia Jane Rothrock Brunson (c1810-a1850).[108] She is buried at Mangham, LA. His burial place is unknown. This family starts on page 163.

F. Stephen LaCroix (7/12/1816-7/15/1868)[97] married c1838 Bersheba Gilmore (5/20/1821-9/30/1896) who was the daughter of Abner Gilmore.[97] This family starts on page 171.

G. William LaCroix was born 9/19/1817 and died young. He apparently did not marry.

H. Rebecca Eliza LaCroix was born 7/17/1819 and died young. She apparently did not marry.

I. Isaac LaCroix (1/3/1823-2/29/1879)[97] married 7/12/1849 Theodosia Ann Vance (11/5/1828-9/28/1871).[97] This family starts on page 263.

J. Sarah "Susan" LaCroix (c1825-1860) married (1st) Daniel Gilbert Folk (1811-1859). Susan married (2nd) 10/31/1859 to James L. Routon on whom we have little information. This family starts on page 293.

OLIVIA LACROIX WILLSON

Olivia "Love" LaCroix was born 7/11/1804 and died in the Fall of 1878. She married about 1826 to Robert Willson, Jr. who died between 1842 and 1850. Robert, Jr. was a brother to Mary Willson, wife of Peter LaCroix. There are few records of the Willson family prior to 1864 because the Rapides Parish Courthouse was burned in that year. Subsequent generations spelled the name Wilson by dropping one "l" and that spelling will be used for these descendants.

WILLIAM WILSON

1. William Wilson (c1826-early1880's) married 12/13/1865 to the widow Sarah Jane Lott Henderson (4/17/1846-1/5/1928)[186], widow of John Henderson who was a Confederate soldier and was killed 9/17/1862 in the battle of Sharpsburg. William and Sarah had no children, but Sarah had a son by the first marriage to Mr. Henderson. This son grew up in the Central Louisiana Area and was in all respects treated as a member of the LaCroix family. Sarah Jane lived with her son and family for a number of years. While walking with her granddaughter, Annie, she fell and broke her hip. This injury led to the illness that caused her death.

JEFFERSON DAVIS HENDERSON

a. Jefferson Davis Henderson (7/31/1861-10/2/1938)[78] married Martha Jane Crooks (10/6/1884-2/6/1949).[78] Jeff Henderson owned a store for a number of years where people could buy such staples as flour, meal and sugar. After he closed the store, he bought a grist mill. Folks would ride their horses or drive out in their buggies with their corn to have it ground into corn meal. With little protection for the meal, it lasted in hot weather only about two weeks and then meal worms would hatch in it. These worms turned into little black weevils. The whole corn kept much better as dried corn than it did when ground. People would have just enough corn ground to last two weeks, and then go back and have more ground. Most families had a small hand grist mill that they would use to grind the corn to meal, but it was time consuming as it had to be reground several times to get it into fine meal. A horse powered or water powered grist mill in the area was a welcomed relief. Jeff Henderson was a hard working man and reared his family of eight children teaching them all to be industrious.

In the year 1845, Charles Frederick Banks relinquished his title and estate to his brother and left his home in Saxony, Germany. Despite his fine education, he spoke seven languages, he was dissatisfied. He wanted to ramble and see the world. Especially was he interested in America. He left his parents and small sister and one brother and started for America. He entered via Canada. He then moved to Chicago and entered the U.S.A. Army serving throughout the Mexican War. Charles Frederick Banks was trained as a cooper in his youth. This training served him well in his various undertakings. He owned ten acres of land on the river in the Chicago.

At the end of the war, he stayed southward, going to Louisiana and made his home for several years in Pineville. While living there he attended dances at Center Point, Ruby and at Big Island. While dancing at Big Island, he met Selestine Aymond, whose parents were French and German and they later married. They moved across Red River settling about nine miles south of Alexandria. From there, he moved to St. Landry Parish and claimed a homestead. In 1861, he entered the Civil War.

Celestine died at the age of sixty two in the town of Bunkie. She is buried in the Catholic Cemetery at Cottonport, LA. The last four years of Charles's life were spent in blindness and he died on Friday November 27, 1903 and is buried in the National Cemetery at Pineville, LA.

A DEPLORABLE TRAGEDY

Thomas Willbanks, 14 year old son of Robert J. Willbanks, of Montgomery, LA, formerly of Pineville, was instantly killed Wednesday morning when a five ton truck loaded with logs ran over him in the streets of Montgomery.

It is stated that Mr. Willbanks left his home, a mile out of Montgomery, with a load of logs on his five-ton truck, and his son Thomas, who attends school in the town had walked on ahead. Mr. Willbanks overtook the boy on the road, only a short distance from the school. He started to board the truck while it was in motion, but the father warned him off, telling him not to get on, but the boy persisted, and, just as he was about to spring onto the front end of the truck, he slipped and fell and the wheels passed over his chest, crushing him to death almost instantly.

It is related that a young lady, seeing the accident, ran out in the road and raised the boy's head onto her lap, and she stated that he breathed for a moment and then expired. The father stopped the truck and ran back to where the boy was, but before he could secure assistance of a physician the boy expired.

The funeral of young Willbanks took place Thursday morning in the Spring Hill cemetery near Ball, LA, the service being conducted by Rev. C. K. Smith and Rev. E. J. Vallery, of Pineville. Thomas was spoken of by those who knew him as a good boy and very studious.

An occurrence that was amusing to us but not to the participants, is recorded in the Grant Parish Court Records that involved several of our Willbanks Family.

A Syndic was the local governing person of a road district and had the power to summons those that lived in that area to work on the road. Those persons had to work free until the work was completed. That work was usually done when the crop was laid by so that it didn't badly hinder the farming operation. In 1892 it appeared to be hard to get anyone to work the roads without getting your political supporters mad enough to elect another Syndic at the next election. Job Tison, the Syndic for the Claiborne Road seemed to have attempted a unique solution to the problem of getting your political supporters mad at you for working them too hard. He summoned those not in his district to work his road.

A group of men which included William W. Willbanks, Samuel D. Willbanks, Joseph K. McWilliams, Alex E. Crump, Samuel Ates, Wesley DeLaney, Rufus Terrell, William Hill, George W. Jordan, John DeLaney, Luke Barton, and William Maxwell all lived about one and a half miles from the Harrisonburg Road (near present Hwy 165) and about 3 miles from the Claiborne Road (near present Hwy 167).

William Jordan was the syndic of the Harrisonburg Road and summoned them in August of 1892 to work the Harrisonburg Road. This they did and they were discharged by William Jordan. Shortly thereafter they received a summons from Job Tison to work the Claiborne Road from the Parish line to the thirteen mile post. Their appeals to Mr. Tison were to no avail and when they refused to work the road on the basis they had already worked their road he was undaunted. He summoned them to appear before the Justice of the Peace, William Edward Pollard, who just happened to be Job's brother-in-law. When a fine was assessed against Mr. McWilliams for seventeen dollars, the tactic was appealed to the District Court and an agreement was made by Mr. Tison and Mr. Pollard not to enforce the fine against Mr. McWilliams while the appeal was pending. While that appeal was pending Mr. Tison continued to summons the other men and fine them. The men got together and filed suit and obtained an injunction against both Mr. Pollard and Mr. Tison to stop the harassment until it could be decide which road they had to work.

Robert Wilson and Joseph. E. price.

The above is the survey of the land claimed by Joseph E. Price and Robert Willson on Bayou Flagon and is the SE4 of S26 in T5N R1E. It was settled in 1833. The application for the land was made in 1835 and it was granted in 1839. Robert Willson and Joseph E. Price had separate houses and cultivated in separate fields according to the application. The survey shows the location of the two houses and fields. Since they both had cultivated on this quarter section, they were privileged to purchase another quarter section at one dollar and twenty five cents per acre. FANNIE ELIZABETH PRICE STINSON

g. Fannie Elizabeth Price (7/23/1895-9/24/1986)[104] married 8/8/1928 Mr. Lewis Albert Stinson (10/2/1879-7/14/1964).* The following family story was told by her daughter, Mrs. Evangeline Wills.

My mother, Fannie Elizabeth Price was born 7/23/1895 to Isaac and Fannie Humphries Price of Walters, LA. Her mother died when Fannie was 11 months old and Isaac Price never remarried; so Fannie was reared by her sisters Lou Allie and Mary Ann. Fannie started going to school, at least part time, at age three with her sisters. Her dad was on the school board and teachers often boarded with them during the school year. Fannie went to school through only the fifth grade because Lillian finished the eighth grade that year and Fannie was to stay home and help.

Her father was very strict but she was paddled only once. The sisters were allowed to attend church functions but mostly family gatherings otherwise. During their late teens or twenties, their father bought a Chevrolet, one of only a few cars in the area, for them to drive to church on Sunday afternoons.

During World War I, Fannie was engaged to a soldier named Joe___ who died in the army of tetanus.

After their father died, Lillian went to work for the telephone company at another town and Mom stayed home to take care of livestock. It may have been during this time that she joined a Lonely Heart Club. One of the people she wrote to was Mr. Stinson. He wrote using another name. They were married, and later when Fannie learned of the wrong name being used, they remarried.

They lived first around Brady, Texas, where my dad bought a sheep and goat farm. This was around the beginning of the depression and they were broke. Mr. Stinson worked at any job he could get, and they finally moved to Oklahoma where he owned heavily mortgaged land. My folks farmed and raised sheep and cattle. By 1940 or 1941 the sale of sheep allowed them to pay off the mortgages. Fannie would milk cows and sell cream and eggs to buy school clothes for the children.

Fannie and Mr. Stinson divorced in 1952. Fannie kept her part of the land and cattle and tried to farm. The gas wells on her land as well as help from her son and his children allowed her to stay on the farm. She handled her own business and drove her car until the age of 87. She was 91 when she died.

Fannie is remembered with much love and respect by her two children.

BACK WATER

High water, or back water as it was called, was a real threat to the Price family during the Spring and other rainey seasons. When it became high enough that the livestock could not find forage, they were standing in water all the time, or the hay became exhausted, they had to be moved out on rafts or boats to the hills. Here two unidentified family members look over the situation as the back water continues to rise. Cholera and other diseases were common during high water. Deaths were common and burials were a problem. Joseph Daniel's first wife was buried near Deville because of the high water. A series of locks, dams and levees were built to help this situation, but the problem has reappeared recently.

The following account of Isaac Gole Cooper was written by his daughter, Cherie.

Our father, Isaac Gole Cooper was born and reared on French Fork or Walters, LA, in Catahoula Parish. He is a small man in statue; his mother always told him that he was the "runt" of the family. He lived most of his life close to the place where he grew up. He built a home and a little country store right across the bayou from his old home place. He named that store "Cooper's Grocery". He operated the store from 1932 until 1973. The store building and the home were all under one roof. All that remain of the old place now are memories and ashes. It was destroyed by fire in later years.

Gole attended the little country school in the community named Mt. Herman School. That school later collapsed during a flood. It was rebuilt and renamed Mt. Island School. He never had the opportunity to attend college. He did enjoy his Masonic Lodge and was very active in this organization. He achieved the Royal Arch Degree.

There was always an "open house" effect at our home. Men working in our community for oil companies, logging employees, etc. would stop in the store in the early morning to buy their lunch meats, breads, drinks, etc. for the day. Our parents got up early and always had the coffee pot brewing. These early customers were always welcomed to come into the kitchen and have early coffee, hot biscuits, etc. We children grew up never knowing who would be seated at our table for breakfast, dinner or supper. Our parents had a very popular kitchen. Mother always made hot breads three times a day to go with the big meals she would prepare. There were always coffee cups to wash throughout the day. They never used less than one pound of coffee per day.

Daddy and mother reared and educated four living children from what they made in that little country store. They continued to sacrifice, save, and work hard. Daddy tried to keep most everything in stock in their store from kerosene, animal feed, clothing, shoes for the family, groceries, hardware of all kinds, tires, gasoline, etc.

This community was about the only place my father ever lived until 1973. There was a terrible flood that year. Also, during that time of scaffolding our belongings up from the high water, we realized that our mother, Louise, was gravely ill. She was hospitalized and diagnosed as having brain cancer on 5/31/1973. We children moved them to Natchitoches to be near Cherie, their elder daughter. Mother died 1/5/1975.

Daddy continues to live with Leonard, his elder son, in Natchitoches. We know that he misses all of his old friends and friendly faces he became so accustomed to in his 73 years down on the River, as he calls Walters, but he has adjusted pretty well. He continues to talk about all the people he knew. He has never been a complainer, so he doesn't fret or fuss. He is 90 years old now and has almost lost his eyesight, but his mind is very keen. We will continue to love and care for him for as long as God will grant us that privilege.

JAMES LACROIX

This section on James Lacroix is dedicated to Mrs. Mamie Murray Hardgrave who helped with the family history from 1970 until she was no longer able.

James LaCroix (4/9/1810-a1867-p1869) was married c1835 to Emoline Barrow (c1815-c1852) who was a daughter of McCuin Barrow and his second wife, Jemima Leavens. Jemima was the daughter of Nicholas Leavens and Elizabeth Fowler. McCuin Barrow was an early resident of Central Louisiana and a near neighbor of Michael LaCroix, Sr. James LaCroix married (2nd) c1853 to Arrena Jones who was born c1820 and died c1898. James lived most of his life on Bayou Flagon on the old Michael LaCroix Spanish Grant. He also acquired Lot 1 of S26 T5NR1E and was living on it in 1865 when he sold it to Asa Bell. That deed reads --"upon which the residence of Jas. LaCroix is now situated." He and his wife are probably buried in the old LaCroix cemetery near the place. The children of James LaCroix and Emoline Barrow follow:[97]

1. Charlotte LaCroix (6/22/1836-6/16/1913) married c1856 Asa Bell who was born 11/26/1834 and died 1/24/1870 or later. I have found legal documents signed by Asa Bell that were dated in 1872. The 1870 date is from the tomb and it may have been misread.[156] See page 112.

2. Laura Eleanor LaCroix (3/23/1839-9/22/1910) married (1st) John Price (1827-1869). Laura married (2nd) George W. Legg.[156,14] See page 114.

3. James LaCroix, Jr. (1840-2/25/1863) died in the Confederate Service. See page 122 .

4. Michele "Shell" LaCroix was born c1842 and apparently died in the Confederate Service at New Iberia, LA. The absence of his name on the document mentioned under Isaac LaCroix where the heirs are re-establishing Isaac's title to the property tends to indicate that he either died or moved out of the area by 1870. See page 123.

5. Martha Ann LaCroix (1844-1873) married c1859 Stephen Nugent (9/15/1836-5/29/1914). See page 123.

6. Emeline LaCroix (1846-c1900) married (1st) William Willson (Wilson) and (2nd) Jim Killen. See page 131.

7. Sarah Jane "Aunt Dink" LaCroix (6/22/1849-3/20/1925) married 10/13/1870 Elijah "Lige" Lee (4/9/1847-2/24/1915)d who was a brother of Henry Richard Lee who married Martha Florence LaCroix. See page 133.

8. Octavia "Tavie" LaCroix (6/21/1850-2/15/1905) married (1st) 5/8/1865 to O. Ortego and she married (2nd) 5/1/1869 to Reuben "Rube" Lemmons (9/15/1844-10/30/1903). See page 137.

The children of James LaCroix and Arrena Jones LaCroix follow:

9. Caroline LaCroix (7/6/1855-2/24/1920) married (1st) 10/19/1870 John W. Burks (c1850-c1879). She married (2nd) Thomas Mitchell "Mitch" Hooter (8/17/1857-7/5/1927). See page 145.

10. Mitchell Neal "Mitch" LaCroix (9/5/1856-3/6/1934) married (1st) 7/8/1879 to Martha B. "Mattie" Bruce (c1862-c1888). He married (2nd) 6/17/1890 Virginia Hester LaCroix Nugent (1/6/1860-5/16/1905). He married (3rd) 9/24/1908 to Mrs. Mary Ella Kirkland Teddlie (9/14/1878-8/5/1963). See page 155.

Asa Bell CHARLOTTE LACROIX BELL Charlotte Bell

1. Charlotte LaCroix (6/22/1836-5/12/1912) married c1856 Asa Bell (1/26/1834-1/24/1870). I have located legal documents with Asa's signature on them dated as late as 1872 indicating that the 1870 date read from his tomb may be in error. Asa Bell was a close friend of all of the LaCroix clan. He went the bond of several of the Peter LaCroix descendants when they married in Rapides Parish. He appeared to be the neutral arbitrator of several family disagreements. He was one of the men who all the kin living out of the Parish requested to do Rapides Parish legal work, such as inventories and appraisals in Rapides Parish. Asa Bell's Confederate Service Record is almost identical to that of his brother-in-law Michele LaCroix. He entered as a Private in Co. G of the Second Louisiana Cavalry on Sept. 24, 1862. The roll for January and February 1863 show "Absent Without Leave." What caused Asa's early death, I do not know. He seemed to know that death was close for late in 1870 he started selling most of his real estate. He owned large real estate holdings and was involved in early timber transactions. Although she was a widow many years, Charlotte did not remarry. The children of Charlotte LaCroix Bell and Asa Bell follow.

a. Asa Bell, Jr. was born c1858 and died in infancy.

WALTER BELL

b. Walter "Dick" Bell (6/7/1860-6/16/1913) married 11/12/1879 Mary Alice Burnaman (1/12/1860-3/2/1943). Mary Alice Burnaman was a daughter of the first marriage of Charlie Burnaman who married (2nd) Neoma Ann Nugent, a first cousin to Walter Bell.

(1). Cora Bell (4/21/1882-4/7/1911) married c1899 James Nugent (6/29/1875-6/11/1964). James Nugent was a son of Stephen Nugent of his marriage to Lavinia Clark. Jim was a half-brother to the children of Martha Ann LaCroix Nugent.
(a). Lavinia Nugent was born c1900.

JAMES LACROIX, JR.

3. James LaCroix, Jr. was born c1840 and died 2/25/1863 in the Confederate Service. He was in the New Iberia McWaters Rangers, Second Louisiana Cavalry. He entered 9/26/1862 as a Private in Company G. He sent the following letter to his sister Laura Eleanor LaCroix Price Legg. It was submitted to the Alexandria Daily Town Talk for publication by Viola Legg Murray.

Bayou DeGlaze, LA, Nov. 30, 1862.
Dear Brother and Sister:

After my respects to you and family this is to let you know that I am well at this time and hoping these few lines may find you all in good health. I have nothing new to write. I have written to you and have not heard from you yet. I have written nine or ten letters home and I can't hear from them. I wish you would tell papa and mamma to write to me. I would like to see you all very much. I do not fancy this life; it is a hard one. You have no idea what a soldier has to do. It was about two weeks that we got one meal a day, and then not enough. We had to retreat seven days and then we got, in that time, about four or five meals and the rest of that time we lived on sugar cane and oranges. Our company had to cover the retreat and we got one night and a half sleep.

The militia and infantry are naked, in a manner. There are some of them that have no shoes, some no blankets others no clothes and not much to eat, and we are not much better off. We are all short in the clothes line. We were detached from the regiment and have been out here for three weeks. We get a tolerable plenty to eat. For myself, I do very well now, for I am a courier and have been for nearly four weeks.

We have the measles and typhoid fever in camps, and the way the conscripts desert is a sight. They are getting away and some nights eighteen and twenty leave and go to the Yankees to get paroled.

I want you to let me know whether old Charlie got home or not. The Yankees got him. There was one of our company went to them the other day. He was a Frenchman. They are the ones that leave. You must give me all the particulars when you write. Let me know what has become of the boys that took to the woods. Let me hear from them all.

Laura, you must tell the girls at home to knit Shell and me some socks and gloves, if you please, for we can't get any here. Shoes are worth $12 and $15 a pair, and are scarce at that. To tell the truth there is no clothing nor anything else here. Soldiers nearly naked is all.

Give my love to pa and his family, my respects to my inquiring friends, if I have any, my love to all. Adieu, for the present. Write soon. Your brother until death.

James LaCroix -New Iberia McWaters Rangers -Second Louisiana Cavalry

MICHELE LACROIX

4. Michele "Shell" LaCroix was born c1842. This is without doubt the "Shell" that James referred to in the above letter. He entered as a Private in Co. G. Second LA Cavalry on 9/24/1862. He is shown as M. L. LaCroix on the records. He apparently deserted shortly before his brother, James, died. The only other entry in his service jacket gives "Roll for January and February 1863 shows him Absent without Leave." His service record is essentially identical to that of his brother-in-law, Asa Bell. Some of the family thought Shell had died in the service. Other members of the family insist he lived on into the 1890's. He certainly could be the Louis LaCroix who was captured and paroled at Labadieville, LA, on October 27, 1862. He has not been located on any census after 1860. A great deal of effort has been put into trying to determine what happened to Shell, but no positive results were achieved. He was not mentioned in the title clarification described under Isaac LaCroix; so, he must have been dead or out of the area in 1870.

Michael LaCroix, Sr. and Michael LaCroix, Jr. applied for the NW4 of S31 T5 R1E and stated they had cultivated it prior to June 1834. The property adjoined on the South the Spanish Land Grant to Michael LaCroix, Sr. The statement was made by Michael LaCroix, Jr. that he cultivated the land claimed but lived on an adjoining quarter section. The statement was made that they cultivated separate fields and lived in separate houses, but the houses were on the other side of the bayou. Since they had claimed it together they were entitled to purchase another quarter section which they did in 1835. This was the NW4 S23 T19 R12E.

MICHAEL LACROIX, JR.

This section on Michael LaCroix, Jr. is dedicated to Mrs. Nina LaCroix McClure (2/27/1920-10/16/1987) who worked diligently on gathering this information. The assistance of Mrs. Elsie Bell Terral is much appreciated.

Michael LaCroix, Jr. was born 1/17/1813 and died in the 1860's. He married c1838 Mrs. Cynthia Jane Rothrock Brunson who was born c1810 and died in the 1850's. Cynthia is reportedly buried in a family cemetery in the Mangham, LA, area. It is not known where Michael LaCroix, Jr. is buried. They are shown on the 1850 census of Catahoula Parish, LA, The children remained in Catahoula Parish until after the 1870 census when some of them moved to the Mangham area. How Cynthia came to be buried there is a mystery since she almost certainly died between 1850 and 1860. Michael LaCroix, Jr. was the administrator of the estate of his sister Sarah LaCroix Folk and was the tutor to her children. Sarah's husband, Daniel Gilbert Folk had left a very valuable estate of land, slaves and other convertible assets. In the capacity of administrator, Michael, Jr. invested the excess cash heavily in slaves just prior to the Civil War. This caused a severe monetary problem after the war.

STEPHEN LACROIX

Stephen LaCroix was born 7/12/1816 and died 7/15/1868 or 1869. He married c1838 to Bersheba Gilmore who was born 5/20/1821 and died 9/30/1896. Bersheba's name was probably the local pronunciation of the Biblical name Bathsheba. They stayed on the old LaCroix land grant until Stephen died and then Bersheba and the younger children moved to the area near where Bashie LaCroix Pollard lived. That property was a part of Bersheba's place. They are buried in the Old LaCroix Cemetery on the grounds of Camp Beauregard. Their markers are two of the three markers there. The children of Stephen and Bersheba follow:

1. William "Bill" LaCroix (9/7/1839-1/3/1911) married 2/8/1861 Elizabeth Collins (5/21/1846-8/5/1909). See page 173.

2. Stephen Benjamin "Ben" LaCroix (c1841-11/12/1882) married 12/9/1871 Emma E. Davis (5/19/1854-2/8/1932). See page 205.

3.Rebecca "Becky" LaCroix (10/20/1844-4/18/1912) married 2/14/1868 Daniel Marion Roe (10/25/1841-7/8/1912).[65] See page 214.

4. Elizabeth LaCroix (1846-1874)[97] married 8/10/1865 William Joseph Tison (8/15/1846-1/2/1921).[145] After Elizabeth LaCroix Tison died William Joseph married Laura E. Satcher (9/11/1855-4/9/1925).[145] See page 221.

5. Sarah Jane LaCroix (6/22/1849-7/3/1924) married 12/9/1870 Lewis Kanada Honeycutt (10/19/1831-1/8/1920).[186] See page 233.

6. James A. "Jim" LaCroix (10/1850-2/6/1935) married 3/23/1880 Margaret "Maggie" Baden (10/9/1851-4/18/1935). See page 238.

8. Emma Esther LaCroix (4/13/1855-8/23/1915) married 1/4/1872 to James Thomas Gray (6/29/1850-9/26/1901).[186] See page 239.

9. Basheba Alice LaCroix (2/14/1858-7/18/1903) married 1/22/1878 George W. Sillavan (3/5/1854-12/12/1937).[150] See page 261.

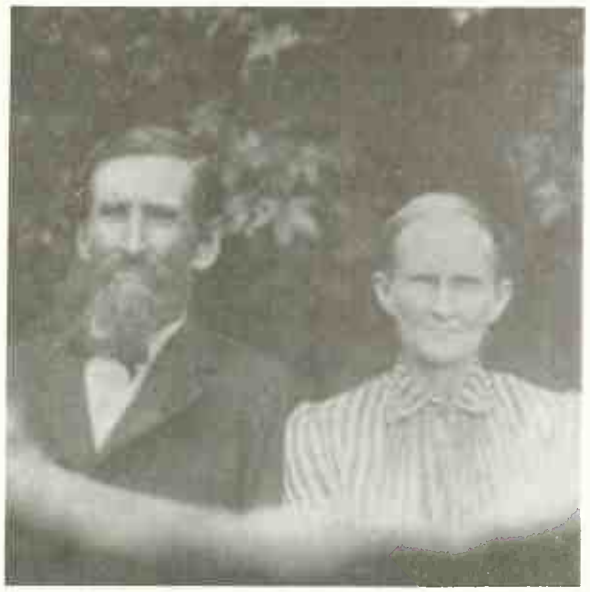
Signatures often changed through the years. James A. LaCroix, in his early adulthood, did not close the top of the A and left the impression that it was an H. In later life and in legal documents it is shown as James A. LaCroix. This confirmed his nieces' insistence that it was "A". Speculation was that the middle name was Abner for his grandfather Gilmore, but that was never confirmed.

WILLIAM LACROIX

This section on William LaCroix is dedicated to Mrs. Ruth Brown Hollingsworth and Miss Edith Bailey. Both of them have worked very hard on the LaCroix Family History. Miss Bailey was the historian of the LaCroix Family Reunion for five years.



1. William "Bill" LaCroix was born 9/7/1839 and died 1/3/1911. He married 2/8/1861 Elizabeth Collins who was born 5/21/1846 and died 8/5/1909. Elizabeth was the daughter of David Collins and his first wife Hester___ Collins. Elizabeth's obituary is very interesting and is quoted in part below:

William and Elizabeth Collins LaCroix

The deceased was a daughter of the late David Collins and was reared near where the town of Dry Prong stands. She has many distant relatives in that section. She married William LaCroix prior to the Civil War and while her husband was engaged in that bloody conflict she remained at home and cared for their small family and went through the struggle and hardships of that memorable period with courage and devotion characteristic of the mothers of those days.

After the war and the return of her husband, they moved to the Flagon community and started life anew, rearing a large family of sons and daughters, giving them such advantages of education and training as the country and conditions would permit. Six sons and four daughters, with her husband, survive to mourn her death.--

The deceased died from cancer, from which she suffered since January last when the trouble was so diagnosed. She endured her suffering with patience and Christian fortitude. She was for many years a member of the Spring Hill M. P. Church and died firm in that faith.

A short time before the last and final summons came she roused up and talked to her loved ones around her bed. She told them that she had seen her eternal home, had been permitted to see all the glories of Heaven, and that she had seen and talked with Jesus and that He was with her in the journey she was about to take across the River of Death. Someone asked her to deliver a message to a loved one who had gone before and she said she would deliver the message. She expressed a willingness, almost an anxiety, to go and be with her Savior in the beautiful home she had seen. The fact that she was perfectly rational during this few minutes talk caused those about her to listen to her words with a reverence and a feeling that they were heavenly inspired.

STEPHEN WILLIAM LACROIX

a. Stephen William "Steve" LaCroix was born 12/3/1861 and died 5/30/1922 married 12/9/1881 Elenora Louisa Davis who was born 2/10/1859 and died 7/18/1947. Elenora Louisa was a member of the Davis and Gray family that figured so prominently with the LaCroix family. Stephen W. LaCroix entered homestead application for the W2 of NE4 and E2 of NW4 of Sec. 36 in T6N R1W in 1891, stating that he built a house and moved on it in 9/1883 and in 1890 had 18 acres in cultivation. At the time of the application it was stated he had a house, a kitchen, two cribs, a smoke house, and a seed and cotton house. Kitchens were separated from the house for two reasons. If a fire were to start in the kitchen, the house may be saved. The old wood stoves heated not only the food but the entire room. In the summertime the main house, separated from the kitchen, could stay more comfortable. In the winter the kitchen was a popular place to hang out. Stephen William LaCroix developed diabetes in early 1921 and it caused his death. For many years he practiced law to some extent, but his principal occupation was farming and raising livestock. The Children of Stephen William LaCroix and Elnora Louisa Davis LaCroix are listed below.

(1). Annie Elizabeth "Lizzie" LaCroix (11/10/1882-8/10/1971) married 6/25/1913 to Ralph E. Brown (2/10/1875-2/20/1950). Miss Lizzie LaCroix was a school teacher at Nugent, 16th Section, Prospect, Corinth and other schools in the area. She also taught at rather distant places including McCurtain, Ok. where some of her Davis relatives had settled. From all accounts her teaching efforts were outstanding and many of her students still praise her and her teaching. Miss Lizzie started a LaCroix and Davis family history which has been used extensively in collecting data for this book. Miss Lizzie was an early photographer and her collection of photos was the first very large collection that was located. All of these have been copied and some are in this publication.

Miss Lizzie would teach in one area for awhile and then for one reason or another have a different school the next year. While in an area she would board with a family near the school. The following is a listing of the known schools where she taught:

1903-	A Private School at Poland, LA
1904-05	16th Section School Near Alpine Church
1905-1907	Prospect School
1907-1909	Corinth School
1909-1910	Bush, LA
1910-1911	New Nugent School
7-9 .1911	McCurtain, OK
9-1911-1912	Glen Ray School Jennings, LA
1912-Jan.1913	Lewis School Lewis, LA
Jan.-May 1913	Monterey School Vivian, LA
1914-Feb.1915	Hutchinson School Elton, LA
1924-1928	Home School Hunter, AR

In her busy teaching schedule, she and Miss Delaney operated a millinery shop in Pollock specializing in hats. To see some of the hats they made, notice some of the photos of her sisters. The Chronicle of 2/1910 carried the following announcement.

> Two ladies from Pollock, Miss Delaney and Miss LaCroix, have opened a stock of millinery goods at the stand formerly occupied by Lawrence, on Railroad Ave.

On one occasion home Miss Lizzie penned the following lines:

"Here I am at Simms Louisiana, enjoying the sights and cheer Everything's great and I'm feeling first rate, but Oh! how I wish you were here."

Whether this pining was for her future husband, we do not know. While she was teaching in the Jennings area at Elton, she met Ralph E. Brown in the Methodist Church at Raymond, LA. Ralph E. Brown (2/10/1875-2/20/1950) was a teacher, also. They married 6/25/1913. It was customary to select an unmarried teacher because it was assumed that a married lady would soon be expecting a child and would not be able to complete the school year. Miss Lizzie taught one term at the Hutchinson School after she was married and did not teach again until the youngest child was two years old and then the teaching was in her home to her children and the neighbor children. From Elton they moved to Hunter, Arkansas, and then to other places in Arkansas. Miss Lizzie and her brother, Harvey LaCroix, both travelled extensively and at least one of them holds the record of the most travelled member of the family of that generation. It appears that Miss Lizzie probably should be given the Most Travelled Award.

About 1946 Miss Lizzie and her family moved back to Central Louisiana and lived in the old Stephen William LaCroix home place at Simms to care for her mother. This was the house she had been reared in, and although the neighborhood had changed greatly, it was still home.

JOHN LOUIS LACROIX

I appreciate the work done by Mrs. Melba Kees Street in collecting data on this family.

b. John Louis "Joe" LaCroix (9/13/1864-10/11/1935) married (1st) 2/24/1884 Linnie Ann Davis (8/29/1865-7/29/1907).[119] Linnie Davis was a sister of Louisa Davis, wife of Stephen W. LaCroix, and a sister of Emma Davis, wife of Stephen Benjamin LaCroix. John L. LaCroix married (2nd) Lottie Baden (6/28/1872-1/30/1912).[119] Lottie was a sister to Maggie Baden, wife of James A. LaCroix. John L. LaCroix married (3rd) Mrs. Mary Emma Richardson James (11/20/1874-12/5/1925). He married (4th) Mary Boykin. Reportedly, all four wives died of cancer. All of the children were of the first marriage. Joe LaCroix was one of the major independent lumbermen of the area. He owned several mills and owned an interest in others. He owned a mill on Flagon

Creek. At one time he owned the Dixie Mill. He owned land and also bought timber off of other land to saw. At his mill on Flagon he fashioned wooden rails for the ox wagon wheels to travel on to prevent them from miring down. This was an innovative solution to an aggravating problem. He was a man of many talents. The minutes of the Oak Grove Baptist Church tell of his leading singing there at a singing convention. He owned a large sawmill near Oak Grove Community (Grant Parish) in the 1890's. His application for homestead of the S2 of NW4 and N2 of SW4 of S2 in T5N R1W states that he moved on that place in 1886 when the improvements were a common log house and a crib.

The JORDAN FAMILY

The Louisiana branch of the Jordan family consisted of two brothers; Clark Jordan born in 1842 in MS and William H. Jordan born in 1844 in MS. They were living in the Wilson Williams Household in Covington County, Ms. in the 1850 census. Two houses from there was Benjamin L. Jordan who was born about 1832 in AL.

1. Clarke Jordan (4/17/1842-6/27/1906) married c1867 to Martha ___ who was born c1841.

2. William H. Jordan (3/1/1844-3/22/1928) married c1865 to Mary Elizabeth Mathis (6/14/1844-1/11/1932). The William H. Jordan family moved from Covington County, Ms. to Caldwell Parish, LA, in the late 1860's or early 1870's. Their near neighbor in Caldwell Parish was the Martin Trantham Rice family. These neighbors got along well and helped each other in their many tasks. In the mid- 1870's the William H. Jordan family moved to Rapides Parish, LA, and finding good land available and other things to their liking, sent word back to Caldwell Parish to the Martin Trantham Rice family that they liked it in Rapides and gave good accounts of their situation. In a few months the Martin Rice family packed up their belongings, loaded them into their wagon, hooked up the mules to the wagon and started to Rapides Parish. After several inquiries along the way, late one evening, they headed up the lane to the Jordan house. One of the Jordan boys had observed the wagon for awhile and said, "That looks like the Martin Rice rig." The family members quickly ran to meet them and the two families were once again joined as near neighbors.

2. Stephen Benjamin "Ben" LaCroix (c1841-11/1882) married 12/9/1871 Emma E. Davis (5/19/1854-2/8/1932). Emma E. Davis was a sister to Louisa Davis, wife of Steve LaCroix and also a sister to Linnie Davis, wife of Joe LaCroix. Ben LaCroix has the record for height in the family. In describing him, his niece said that you started looking up and finally came to the knees and kept looking on up and way on up there was the face. Of course, her description was from a child's stand point which made him sound taller. Miss Lizzie LaCroix wrote that at one time he was the tallest man in Louisiana. This same characteristic was passed on to his children. His niece said he was buried at the LaCroix cemetery, and although he didn't have a marker, you could tell which grave was his. It was the longest one there. His widow lived almost fifty years after he died, but she did not remarry. Steven Benjamin LaCroix's Service Record is identical to his brother William's. Ben served in Smith's LA Cavalry and was paroled 6/6/1965 at Alexandria, LA. An effort to locate his physical description was to no avail. Efforts to locate photos of either Ben or Emma have failed thus far.

Daniel Marion Roe and Rebecca "Becky" LaCroix Roe

Rebecca Lacroix REBECCA LACROIX ROE Daniel Marion Roe

Much of this information on Rebecca LaCroix Roe was given to me more than thirty years ago by Mrs. Florence Roe Grant. Additional information was furnished by Mrs. Billie Conn Keiser.

3. Rebecca "Becky" LaCroix (10/20/1844-4/18/1912)[65] married 2/14/1868 Daniel Marion Roe (10/25/1841-7/8/1912).[65] Daniel Marion Roe was a brother of Sarah Ann Roe, mother of William J. Tison who married Elizabeth LaCroix. Elizabeth and Rebecca were sisters. Uncle Marion and Aunt Becky lived adjoining the L. K. Honeycutt place. Crystal Parrino pointed the old homesite out to me some years ago.

Uncle Marion Roe enlisted as a Private in Co. F, 1st LA Calvary on 5/26/1863. This was a Union organization and he received some criticism for that later in life. His personal description given in his pension application is that he was six feet 1 inch high, fair complexion, black hair and blue eyes. He received a gun shot wound in the ankle at the Battle of Mansfield, for which he was hospitalized in New Orleans. He was discharged on 7/7/1865.

He married on 2/14/1868 to Rebecca "Becky" LaCroix. They stayed on the Old LaCroix place and helped farm and raise livestock for awhile after their marriage. Uncle Marion filed homestead on 12/9/1871 for 80 acres in Section 22 of T6N R1W. They had one child buried in the old LaCroix Cemetery but there is no marker for it. Marion Roe's father, Sam Roe, lived near Prescott, AR, and Sam kept asking Marion to come up there and help him farm and he would leave him the farm when he died. About 1878 Marion and Becky and the children moved up there. No sooner did they get there and locate a house to live in than Sam Roe, Sr. married for the fourth time. This caused Sam to renege on his promise to give Uncle Marion the farm, for now he had a wife and stepchildren to support and he would need to leave anything he had to them. Marion and Becky and the family farmed two years there and by 1880 many of the relatives were moving to Texas which was considered the answer to all problems. There was still good land in Texas that one could homestead. There were many ranches where men could find additional work for pay. The economy in Texas was really booming. In 1880, After the crop was in, Uncle Marion left his wife and children temporarily in Arkansas and went with his nephew Thomas Jefferson Roe to Texas to look the situation over. Thomas Jefferson Roe stayed for a couple of years, but Uncle Marion went back to Prescott and packed up his things and moved back to Louisiana. Uncle Marion moved on the SW4 of NE4 and NW4 of SW4 of S 35 T6N R2W and started clearing the land and building a house. He cleared enough land to raise a crop in 1882. They were living there when their daughter "Sallie" died and was buried in the Frazier Cemetery. His improvements consisted of a dwelling house (one room), a kitchen, 2 cribs, a smoke house, cotton house and a well. Those attesting to the length of stay on the property were near neighbors and kin, Oliver A. Tison, Louis K. Honeycutt, Maxamillion Goree and Burrell Holston, Sr. They lived the rest of their lives here near their kinfolks and long time friends.

The following article appeared in the Alexandria Town Talk.

Died -Roe- at her home near Morris, LA, on Thursday morning, April 18, 1912. Mrs. Rebecca Roe died suddenly from heart failure.

On the morning of her death, Aunt Beckie seemed to be well, and after going to the garden returned to the house and bade her daughter Lydia get ready for school. Lydia went to her room and on looking back in a few seconds saw her mother lying face down on the kitchen floor. She went at once to her mother and did everything she could to resuscitate her, but life was extinct. Thinking she had fainted Lydia called her father, and on finding that she was dead, her husband, Uncle Marion Roe, went to the school house and notified the teacher and telephoned to Pollock for daughter and a physician. On arrival of a physician an examination was made and the doctor said that she died instantly. No bruises were visible except where she fell on her nose.

She leaves a husband, three daughters, two sisters, one brother, four grand-children and one great-grand-child to mourn her loss, besides a host of other relatives and friends. Dear bereaved ones, do not weep, for she can not come back to us, but we can go to her if we try. It was a great shock to give up our dear one, but God knows best. Let us all strive to meet her in heaven. She is not dead but is sleeping with God.

Aunt Beckie was a member of the Baptist church and had lived a Christian life. She never had a harsh word for any one and was loved by all who knew her.

She was laid to rest in the family grave yard on Hudson Creek, by the side of her two children who had preceded her to the grave. A large concourse of sympathizing friends attended the funeral.A niece.

Uncle Marion was already ill when his wife died for he had taken ill on March 11th, 1912. Shortly after Aunt Beckie died Uncle Marion needed nursing and constant attention. He was swelling in the abdominal tract badly. He was moved to his nephew E. W. Pollard's, residence so that he could be nursed. His condition grew continually worse until he could no longer get out of bed. Those that nursed him were, E. W. Pollard, Florence Roe, Liddie Roe, Callie Gray, James Bruce, Mrs. Alden, C. L. Allen, O. Hattaway, Steb Gray and John Crosby. They had the following doctors attend him to see if the cause of the problem could be corrected. Dr. H. T. Kent of Bentley, Dr. J. M. Bonnett of Pollock, LA, Dr. Leander Willett of Pollock, LA, Dr. F. O. Maxwell of Pollock, LA, and Dr. Will Smith of Fairmont. For the doctors' visits and the medicine, the total bill ran $118.50.

This writer spoke with Jim Bruce not long before Jim died and mentioned this information in Uncle Marion's pension application folder and asked him what he thought was the cause of death. He was of the opinion that it was cancer of the intestinal tract for he had seen several cases like that since they knew how to diagnose such ills.

Uncle Marion's body was laid to rest beside his wife and two children in the Frazier cemetery.

In Memoria

Died, at his home on Hudson Creek, Grant Parish, LA, Lewis Kanady Honeycutt. The deceased was born in Anson County, North Carolina, Oct. 19, 1831. He was a son of the late R. R. Honeycutt and Mary Reeves. His mother died when he was only six years of age in Alabama. He left Alabama and went to California in the opening of the gold mines, and spent 18 years of his life in the gold fields of that country. He joined Gold Field Lodge No. 32, F. and A. M., Lincoln, Placer County, CA, at the age of twenty one years.

He came to Louisiana in the fall of 1869 and was married to Miss Sarah Jane LaCroix on Dec. 18, 1870. To this union were born two sons, S. L. and D. N. Honeycutt. Both survive their father. He is also survived by his wife and two granddaughters, one half-brother, Mr. W. C. Honeycutt, of Boyce, a half sister, Mrs. Catherine Thompson of Wells, TX.

He was a member of the M. P. Church in good standing. He publicly professed his faith in Christ before he joined the church. He often expressed his willingness to meet his Savior.

He was laid to rest in Spring Hill cemetery on January 9, 1920. Rev. G. J. L. Brown paid the last sad tribute to his memory.

Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep, From which none ever wake to weep.
A calm and undisturbed repose, Unbroken by the last of foes.

His son, D. N. Honeycutt

In Memory of Mrs. Sarah Jane Honeycutt

In loving memory of Mrs. Sarah Jane LaCroix Honeycutt, born June 22, 1849, departed this life July 3, 1924, at the sweet old age of 75 years and 13 days.

December 18, 1870, she was married to L. K. Honeycutt and to this union were born two sons, Messrs. D. N. and S. L. Honeycutt, who survive their mother. Besides the heart broken sons she leaves two granddaughters, Mrs. Frank Ealy, of Polk, MO, and Miss Ruth Honeycutt, of Dry Prong, LA, Rt. 1 and one brother, Mr. LaCroix, of Dry Prong (James A. LaCroix).

She was buried at Spring Hill cemetery, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. C. K. Smith, assisted by Rev. Brown and Rev. C. C. Weir.

Grandma was a member of the Methodist church and had been ever since she was thirteen years of age. She was a devoted Christian and was kind and loving. Grandma was always ready to lend a helping hand to a friend. She was known as "Aunt Sally" or "Grandma" over the entire community and was loved by all who knew her.

Grandma was a bright and shining star in our home and now we know she is a bright and shining angel in heaven. When grief or sickness came to the family Grandma was ready to say "That is the Lord's will."

The home lost dear grand-mother, but we know she is happy and waiting for us on that happy shore over there.

We are sad when we go to her home and her sweet and smiling face does not greet us, yet we do not wish her back for she is through with her sufferings. She always bore her sufferings well, but the end came suddenly from heart trouble.

Grandma, we all loved you, but God loved you best, and we must live to meet you some day.

Written by her loving granddaughters, RUTH and LELA.

The Alexandria Town Talk carried the following interesting article.

Cat, 20 Years Old, Blind in One Eye, Teeth Gone

Out Near Rock Hill, LA, On Route 1, Dry Prong, at the home of Mr. S. L. Honeycutt, resides old "Spot", a cat which has the honor of being twenty years old on Feb. 8, 1942.

He is just a common ordinary house cat, in the best of health. He is blind in one eye and all his teeth are gone.

According to what older people say, this is the oldest cat in the country, or as far as that, the oldest cat that any one has ever known of.

This old cat was the property of the mother of Mr. S. L. Honeycutt and his brother Mr. D. N. Honeycutt. When their mother died in 1924, this old fellow went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Honeycutt, later he left them and went to live at the home of Mr. D. N. Honeycutt. Then again he has come back to the S. L. Honeycutt home and it seems as if he has decided to settle down and make his home permanently at the S. L. Honeycutt home.

If any of the Town Talk readers know of any cat as old as this one or older, the Honeycutt family would like to read an article about it.

At the bottom of the article was penciled, "No one reported any cats older than old Spot."

G. A. FOSTER, Pollock, Louisiana.

There were two brothers and probably other family members that arrived in Louisiana in the early 1830's. The elder brother, George W. Gray, is buried at the Gray Cemetery on the Breezy Hill Road East of Dry Prong. James Gray, the younger brother, is the one in which we have the most interest. Family tradition indicated these two men were brothers, but I had questioned that until I learned that when James died, George W. Gray was appointed under tutor to the minor children and also signed the bond for James' widow to be the administratrix of James' estate. This added strength to the family tradition.

James Gray (c1801-3/2/1864) married c1838 to Eliza Hollingsworth who was born c1818 in Georgia. Eliza had a known sister Tusette Hollingsworth who married William Nugent. There were probably other brothers and sisters for whom we have not made a diligent search. Eliza's mother was Elizabeth Hollingsworth (4/4/1793-5/21/1873) for whom we do not have a maiden name. After Eliza's father died, the widow Elizabeth married William Tison, Sr. She is buried in the Bradford Cemetery near Deville, LA. William Tison, Sr. was the grandfather of William Joseph Tison.

James Gray acquired a substantial amount of land as shown by the inventory of his estate. This included the SW4 of S34 T6N R2W, W2 of NW4 of S6 T9N R2W, W2 of SE4 & NE4 of SW4 of S31 T10N R2W, E2 of NW4 S6 T9N R2W, E2 NE4 S1 T9N R3W, and an undivided 1/2 interest in the SE4 of S34 T6 R2W. This totaled to 583 acres including the 1/2 interest. The inventory of his estate also included the following:

One gray horse, one bay mare, forty head of stock cattle, one yoke of oxen, one old wagon, 15 head of stock hogs, 23 head of sheep, 2 old saddles, one lot of farming tools, one spinning wheel, eight chairs, one bureau, one trunk, one rifle, one single barrel gun, one table, one lot of kitchen furniture, four beds and furniture, one account on Sanford Gorham for 23 bushels of oats, one note on Sam'l Holloway for $21.00 and one note on J. W. Jarter and Wm. Price. Using her widow's lien Eliza bought the estate at the sale.

1. Ann E. Gray (3/13/1839-10/31/1872)[233] married 4/14/1853 in Winn Parish, LA, to Thomas Davis (10/1/1826-10/29/1887)[233] who was born in Rankin County, MS. After Anne Gray Davis died, Thomas Davis married 9/14/1873 to Theodosia Ann Irwin (c1851-c1902).[233] See page 251.

THEODOSIA ANN VANCE LACROIX about 1870

Isaac Lacroix ISAAC LACROIX Isaac Lacroix

This section on Isaac LaCroix is dedicated to Mrs. Velma Alice LaCroix Meyer who worked so very hard on collecting information from 1970 until her death. It is regrettable that this book was not completed in time for her to see the completed work.

Isaac LaCroix (1/31/1823-2/29/1879) married 7/12/1849[33] Theodosia Ann Vance (11/5/1828-9/28/1871). Isaac LaCroix served in the Confederate Army along with his very young son, Isaac, Jr. They lived most of their married life on Bayou Flagon where they engaged in agriculture and raising livestock. At the settlement of the estate of his mother, Rebecca Frazier LaCroix, about 1861 Isaac purchased Lot no. 6 in S 21 of T5N R1E. When Union General Nathaniel Banks had the town of Alexandria burned in 1864, the courthouse and all the records were burned. In order to re-establish his title to this property Isaac asked other heirs to sign a statement that he had purchased that property. Those signing were; John L. LaCroix, S. E. LaCroix, C. R. LaCroix, M. J. LaCroix, E. J. Alter, I.F. Folk, S. R. Folk, M.E. Folk, Mrs. Mary Price, Laura E. Price, Charlotte Bell, Sarah J. LaCroix, Octavia Lemons, Arenia LaCroix, Martha L. Nugent, Caroline LaCroix, Mitchel LaCroix, Barsheba LaCroix, Elizabeth Tison, S. J. LaCroix, Rebecca Roe, Wm. LaCroix, S. B. LaCroix, and Mrs. Olevia Willson. This document was filed in August 1870, and is the last trace I have on several of the family members. While this record states that Rebecca's estate was settled about 1859, it must have been in the early 1860's for she is listed on the June 1860 census. Most of these names should be familiar to you. The first five were children of Michael LaCroix, Jr. The next three were children of Sarah LaCroix Folk. Mrs. Mary Price was the daughter of Michael LaCroix, Sr. and she was the wife of Joseph E. Price. Laura E. Price and the following seven names were the children of James LaCroix, except for Arenia who was James' widow. She needed to sign because Caroline and Mitchell Neal were under age. The names of Barsheba LaCroix through S. B. LaCroix were children of Stephen LaCroix. Mrs. Olevia Willson was the daughter of Michael LaCroix, Sr. The last name was written both as LaCroix and Lacroix, as it had been in earlier documents. The children of Isaac LaCroix and Theodosia Ann Vance LaCroix are given below.

1. Samuel Michael "Sam" LaCroix (11/5/1850-5/3/1913)[29] married 10/12/1871 Susan Ellen "Susie" Dean (3/20/1852-2/24/1924).[29] See page 265.

2. Harriet C. LaCroix (6/3/1852-c1912)[156] married c1867 James R. Martin (3/10/1843-2/12/1914).[156] See page 273.

3. Isaac LaCroix, Jr. "Buck" (1854-1871).[97]

4. Denvel Francis LaCroix (1856-1858)[97]

5. John Rentard LaCroix (1858-1859)[97]

6. Laurette LaCroix (11/18/1860-6/23/1917)[156] married 4/14/1881 Archilous Beneger (Benejah) "Arch" Whatley (10/2/1853-9/6/1910).[156] See page 279.

7. Charles Waters LaCroix (3/24/1863-7/28/1932)[29] married 2/13/1890 Louise "Lula" Gillett (10/30/1871-10/25/1942).[29] See page 284.

8. Frances Henrietta LaCroix (2/13/1867-6/11/1924) married 2/2/1888 Joseph Pinkney Lewis (9/4/1865-4/12/1929).[29] See page 289.

9. James Peyton LaCroix (9/3/1871-7/4/1944)[156] married 12/16/1898 Laura Alice Barron (5/17/1878-6/4/1961).[156] See page 291.

SAMUEL MICHAEL LACROIX and SUSIE DEAN LACROIX

SAMUEL MICHAEL LACROIX

Mrs. Estelle Long Fogleman collected most of the data in this section.

1. Samuel Michael "Sam" LaCroix (11/5/1850-5/3/1913)[29] married 10/12/1871 Susan Ellen "Susie" Dean (3/20/1852-2/24/1924).[29] Sam LaCroix was a prominent political and business figure in Colfax, LA. His family ties through the LaCroix family and through his wife's Dean family helped our Grant Parish LaCroix family members greatly. Charges against family members were sometimes dropped rather than prosecuted. Advice on legal maneuvering was given to family members. This sometimes prevented serious monetary loss.

Several newspaper accounts of happenings in the Colfax area involved Sam LaCroix. The Colfax Chronicle of 8/29/1894 carried the following story:

At precisely 12 o'clock Thursday night the citizens of Colfax were aroused by an alarm of fire. It proved to be the "Blue Star" store, the property of Mr. S. M. LaCroix, in which Price and LaCroix were doing business. The fire was already underway when discovered, the entire inside being in a blaze, and nothing could be saved from the store. The flames spread rapidly to the shed room, stables and market house in the rear, and in a few minutes the entire mass was a blazing sheet of fire, and nothing could be done but pay attention to the preservation of the court house, jail, and residences in close proximity. A bucket brigade was quickly organized and by a liberal use of water the fire was confined to the LaCroix square, although in three or four instances the sparks and blazing cinders caught the shingles of adjoining buildings, and further loss was only prevented by judicious use of water.

The burning is supposed to be the work of an incendiary. The buildings destroyed cost about $1200, and were insured for $1000. There was about $450 in drugs, groceries, and notions in the store, all of which were burned.

The store was soon rebuilt and Sam LaCroix and Leonidas B. Price were in business many years in Colfax. See the photo of the store on page 267.

Sam LaCroix was elected constable in 1878 and remained as such for a number of years. He was appointed deputy sheriff and jailer in 1880 and remained in that position until 1885. He was town marshall for four years and then resigned. He went into several businesses and made a success at all of them. The following article appeared in the Chronicle of 3/27/1886.

Struck by Lightning

The Palmetto Lightning Rod Company have been doing a thriving business of late. Messrs. Alphonse Teriana and S. M. LaCroix, who constitute the firm, lately returned from an extended trip through Natchitoches, where they put up about a thousand feet of rod a week. The best part of their success consisted in taking in a considerable portion of their bills in cash. These gentlemen are naturally clever and whole-souled, but feeling particularly good over their late success, on last Thursday they presented the Chronicle office with a neat lightning rod. Without saying so much as, by your leave, they simply climbed on the roof and put her up. Ye editor can now feel more comfortable when stray electric bolts come monkeying around.

Sam and Susie became the proprietors of the Tiger Hotel which had a twenty plus year, and noteworthy life in Colfax. He used rather revolutionary ways to attract business to his establishment. The following article appeared in the Chronicle of 3/27/1886.

LaCroix's tiger has an extra curl in his tail this week. The sub-boss is at home, and in honor of this event the boarders at the hotel have had the luxury of an oyster hash, and potato muffins seasoned with codfish.

While operating this hotel he had a few slight brushes with the law, but was very strong politically, and almost immune from serious prosecution for minor scrapes with the law. The following article appeared in the Colfax Chronicle of date 2/15/1906.

How Prohibition Prohibited in 1889

This is to state that in the year 1889, S. M. LaCroix and J. V. LeSage did set up and operate in the town of Colfax, LA, "blind tigers," to wit: Beginning as a semi-secret, but later generally believed and known to be saloons, in which almost any one "knowing the ropes" could buy a drink of whisky. The prohibition law was then in force in Grant parish. S. M. LaCroix ran his business in the building on the southeast corner of the Nash block, near the court house, while J. V. LeSage conducted his where the LeSage hotel is now standing. After they had been running wide open some thirty or forty days, the undersigned proceeded to make several affidavits against each of them and had them arrested and they gave bond in the several cases for appearance at court. The grand jury met, and true bills were found in all of the cases. Trial of these cases coming on, the attorneys for the defense moved to quash the indictments found by the grand jury because of some neglect of the Clerk. The Judge sustained the motion and the indictments were quashed, and the prosecution set aside on account of the alleged irregularity.

Steps were immediately taken to remedy the technical flaw, and revive the indictments. Messrs. LaCroix and LeSage, and their attorneys, came to the foremost citizens of the town of Colfax, and appealed to them to have the proceedings stopped, saying that they would shut up their shops, and not again attempt to violate the law. In those days prosecutions and convictions for selling whisky were regarded as very serious, both on account of the big fees charged by the lawyers and the fines imposed. The defendants claimed to have spent several hundred dollars, and to have been otherwise greatly damaged by the prosecution. The citizens of Colfax, not desiring to turn the prosecution into a "persecution" on the promise of the parties not to violate the law again, interceded with the District Attorney and had him to hold up renewal of the indictments, so long as these parties did not break their promise to observe the prohibition law. My recollection is that the parties each paid $100 fine, and the other cases were held up.

The undersigned will say that he firmly believes that Mr. LaCroix and Mr. LeSage have faithfully kept their promise from that day to this, and that neither of them, nor any one else, has ever attempted to run an "open saloon" in Colfax in defiance of the law. Moreover, I believe these gentlemen now recognize the open saloon as an evil, and both of them are heartily with the prohibition citizens in the present campaign.

The Chronicle of 1906 had the following notice.

Card of Thanks

The undersigned desires to return thanks to the citizens of Colfax who so promptly came to our assistance, and enabled us to save a portion of our household effects during the fire which destroyed our Tiger hotel.

In 1891 his address was shown as Howcott, LA, and on that date he had cleared land, built a 30 by 32 foot dwelling with galleries which had three rooms. His application for homestead stated that he used sawed lumber indicating that he was not too far from a sawmill. The old Howcott mill was at the intersection of Hwy. 123 and the Old Hwy. 165. Later during the five year process it took to homestead land, he showed his address as Lincecum. Apparently the post office at Howcott closed and the Lincecum post office was then the closest one. His application was for the S2 of SW4 of S5 and N2 of NW4 of S8 of T8N R1E. In 1896, other than himself, his family consisted of a wife and three children. Those helping him establish his claim were Dave Gatlin, John Clark, Charles R. Gillett and James LaCroix. They all gave their address as Lincecum, LA.

Mr. LaCroix was associated with the Urania Lumber Company for over twenty-five years. He built the Iatt Lumber Company plant near Colfax which was a division of the Urania Lumber Company.

Some members of the family recall the name spelled as Faulk. Daniel Gilbert Folk was a well educated man and signed his name. Thirty or so of his signatures in the Catahoula Parish Courthouse that I've found all show it Folk. When Daniel Folk died and Susan died, John Louis LaCroix III became the administrator of the estate and the tutor for the children. In that position he invested heavily in slaves just before the Civil War. After the war very little of the property remained in the possession of Susan's descendants. JOSEPH LACROIX

Joseph LaCroix was born about 1783 and married about 1808 to Celeste E. Hooter, who was a daughter of Joseph's Uncle Michael Hooter. Joseph LaCroix was pressed into service in Avoyelles Parish on 1/9/1815 in the 17th, 18th and 19th Consolidated Regiments. With him were his two brothers, Stephen and Peter LaCroix and his three first cousins, John Lovelace Hooter, Michael Hooter and Lewis Hooter. The regiment did not arrive in New Orleans in time for the battle there, but stayed in the service until 3/15/1815. Joseph's brother, Stephen LaCroix, died in the service on 2/24/1815. For more information on this tour of duty, see the Peter LaCroix write up.

Joseph LaCroix spent most of his married life near his wife's folks at Sicily Island in Catahoula Parish. Celeste was born about 1793 and was still living in 1860 but was not located in 1870. CATHERINE LACROIX HOLLOWAY

Catherine "Katy" LaCroix (1783-c1848) married James Holloway (1779-c1827). Living near James Holloway was John Holloway who was about the right age to be his brother. John and James Holloway were both in the 17th, 18th, and 19th Regiments Consolidated in the War of 1812. Other members of the LaCroix family were in the same Regiment. The children of Catherine LaCroix and James Holloway follow.

MARY HOLLOWAY PAUL

A. Mary Holloway (5/18/1804-11/26/1872)[190] married c1824 Michael Paul, Sr. (9/14/1800 or 12/7/1798-9/29/1870)[190] who was the son of Jacob Paul II and Marie Ann LaPrarie.

Much of the following information on Michael Paul was furnished by Mrs. Glenwith Hilton McHenry, James Michael Hilton and Mrs. S. D. Thomas.

SOLATHUS PAUL

1. Solathus Paul was born c1823 and was a steamboat captain. He was killed in an explosion aboard his boat in the 1850's. He is buried in Cemetery No. 1, St. Louis Cathedral, New Orleans, LA, in Plot # 5. He was engaged to be married but was killed in the accident. There is some question whether Solathus was a son of Mary Holloway and Michael Paul. I have found nothing to prove it either way. He was shown in the household of Michael Paul in the 1850 census but placed last instead of first as would be expected. Some of the earlier census records do not indicate his presence in the Michael Paul household.

MICHAEL PAUL, JR.

2. Michael Paul, Jr. (2/22/1825-2/22/1897) did not marry. Michael was a Pvt. in Co's B and D. of the 1st LA Cavalry, entering 9/12/1861 at Baton Rouge, LA. MARY JANE HOLLOWAY MUSTIAN MARLER

Most of this information was supplied by Kimble Marler and members of the Marler Family Reunion. Of all the family groups that still need work, I regret the most at leaving this unfinished. The family members have been very helpful and knowledgeable and there is a great deal additional data that could be obtained. Time just does not permit me to do that now.

G. Mary Jane Holloway (c1822-10/25/1919)[41] married (1st) Thomas Mustian who died in 1846. She married (2nd) 3/12/1848 Silas Marler who was born c1827 in St. Landry Parish and died 2/26/1899[41] of spinal paralysis. He lived in the community of Milford, which is now called St. Clair. He served in the C.S.A. under his wife's nephew, Captain D. C. Paul. Silas was wounded in the left shoulder and received a fracture of the shoulder blade. The following story was written by Eunice Frazier McDonough LaGrone.

GRANDMA MARLER

This information was related by Eudora Adelaide Blackman Frazier, wife of William Daniel Frazier to her daughter, Eunice Frazier LaGrone, who wrote the following information.

My mother was twenty two when she and my father, William Daniel Frazier, were married on 2/22/1894. She knew Grandma Marler very, very well. She had a remarkable memory and spoke highly of her. She said when day was done and all the work finished, she would get her little clay pipe off the mantle and smoke before going to bed. When they started grinding coffee and putting it up in bags, she said women were getting too lazy to grind their own coffee. She worked in her garden up until a couple of years before she died.

She had fifteen children and was fifty years old when her last child was born in 1872. She attended Old St. Claire Baptist Church as long as she could. Uncle David Crockett "Dave" Marler had a sled they used to haul water, and he would put her on the old sled in a chair and take her to church. The Church was not very far from the Log Cabin where they lived until she died.

Uncle Dave told me when Grandma Marler was young, a wagon train left Louisiana going out West. I don't know how far they got when they were attacked by Indians. Some were killed, but many returned to Louisiana. Her first husband Tom Mustian may have been killed in the Indian raid. He died two years before she married Grandpa Marler.

My mother said her name was Mary Jane. Everyone called her Aunt Jane and also Grandma Frazier's name was Georganna, but everyone called her Georgia. Mamma liked to use the full name and she did not like nicknames.

Grandma Marler lost four children in one week during the Civil War. They probably died of Diphtheria. The neighbors made the caskets and they were all buried together in the Marler Cemetery. There is a small marker that reads, "The children of Silas Marler", with no date and no names. These were Julia, Mary, Mason, and Ann.

Grandma Marler was a very remarkable woman to lose four children in one week and carry on with life. I know they suffered many hardships during the Civil War. I saw Grandma Marler but was too young to remember. I was born in 1914 and she died in 1919.

The Marler graveyard is on land that Grandpa Marler donated for that purpose. There are only a few graves there, as the land is so low that water seeps into the graves. There were only two burials there in the last sixty years. Grandpa and Grandma Marler are buried in the Dewil Cemetery.

DID THEY LIVE IN TEXAS OR LOUISIANA?

The answer to this question is, of course, yes. They lived in Louisiana until they became bored and then moved to Texas. In a few years they moved back to Louisiana. They repeated this pattern into the early 1920's, and then, family members continued travelling back and forth until after WWII. There is still a limited amount of this travel to see relatives. Many family stories relate to these travels from Texas to Louisiana and back. There was a ferry across the Sabine River near Hemphill, TX, but it was seldom used. The horses usually could swim the river and often the river could be forded.

John C. Frazier and Sam Miller went to Waco, TX, to visit J. N. Swindell and family. Sam Miller was J. Newt Swindall's nephew, and John C. Frazier was Mary Jane Marler Swindall's nephew. The boys had worked enough that they had five dollars to make the trip back home on. They spent all but fifty cents of the money in a bar and decided they would ride the freight train to go see the Ener family in Sabine Co., TX. They jumped on a freight train and rode it until it stopped to take on water. There was a "Y" in the track at that point. The fireman had seen them and came back and told them they would have to get off. Sam Miller talked to the fireman and offered to trade him his six shooter for a ride the rest of the way. The fireman looked it over carefully, agreed to the deal and took the gun. He told them that they should hide behind some bushes near the other branch of the Y and when the train backed up to take the other branch of the Y they could hop back on the train. The train pulled out, but continued the way it had been going, and the boys were left stranded two hundred miles from their destination. The gun was gone with the fireman.

The boys started walking and working at odd jobs along the way for a meal. Finally, eleven days later, they walked into Hemphill, TX, where they visited with the Ener family and worked awhile.

There was much travelling between Hemphill, TX, where the Ener family and members of the Mustian family lived and St. Clair, LA, where many of the Marlers lived. Uncle William G. Ener and his family would load up the wagon in Hemphill and start out for St. Clair. They made two stops along the way to spend the night. There was plenty of game along the way and good water at the camp sites. Before night of the third day, they would pull into St. Clair where they would find the family glad to see them and feed them. These camp sites were used each trip and became very familiar to the family.

Uncle Dave Marler had one horse so fast that Dave could eat breakfast in St. Clair and eat supper in Hemphill that same day. That was a distance of about eighty miles covered in twelve hours for an average speed of about eight miles per hour. Other members of the family would sometimes walk the distance.

William Daniel Frazier, William Sylvester Terrell and their families lived near Alice, TX. There was some visiting back and forth from Alice to St. Clair but the distance was much greater than from Hemphill to St. Clair. These trips were not as often and had to be better planned so that the regular farm work would not be interrupted.

STEPHEN LACROIX

Stephen LaCroix was born c1785 and died 2/24/1815 in the Military Service in the War of 1812. Stephen was a chain carrier on several surveys made in the Avoyelles and Catahoula Area. He may have married, but no record of his wife has been found. He owned 800 acres of land which he sold 7/1/1814 to Susanna Belk. The property was in Avoyelles Parish bounded above by lands of Wiggins and below on which there was a cattle ranch belonging to the succession of Ceasar Archenaud. The land had been acquired 7/18/1791 upon a Requette signed by Valentine Lassard, and for which a certificate from the board was issued. The name of the person to whom the certificate was issued was not mentioned. The sale was made for $600 and a stipulation was made that Susanna Belk could not sell it without Stephen's permission. For more information on Stephen's Military Service, see the section under his brother, Peter LaCroix, on page 335.

F. Lavica LaCroix "Aunt Vie" (3/13/1830-5/2/1890) married (1st) c1852 to Benjamin Franklin McClure (c1822-11/19/1869). She later married Joseph W. Walker who died c1878.[33,115,95] See page 425.

G. Mary Estelle LaCroix (5/3/1837-1/17/1885)[197] married c1856 to James Dickson (Dixon) McCollum (3/3/1831-10/15/1909).[115,197] See page 431.

H. Mariah Catherine "Aunt Kate" LaCroix (5/17/1841-6/2/1903)[197] married 3/12/1856 to Dr. Abraham Brierly Thompson (10/27/1831-c1910).[115,197] See page 335.

When Peter LaCroix was about 9 years old, his father died, leaving the care of the family to his mother and older brothers. By 1802 his mother had remarried Hugh Bailey who was a near neighbor. With Hugh Bailey as a stepfather, Peter learned the operation of a ferry boat and how to make the river and streams work for him.

Peter LaCroix, his brothers Stephen and Joseph LaCroix , and three of his first cousins on his mother's side, John Lovelace Hooter, Michael Hooter and Lewis Hooter all were pressed into service for the defense of New Orleans during the War of 1812. They were in the 17th, 18th and 19th Consolidated Regiments. They were drafted in Avoyelles Parish on 1/9/1815, and together they all went to New Orleans. They arrived too late to participate in the battle of New Orleans, but Peter stayed in the service until March 15, 1815, at which time he was discharged. John Lovelace Hooter kept a diary of the trip to New Orleans, but only two days of it have been located. All the punctuation has been added and some spelling has been corrected to make it easier to read. That account follows:

> Wednesday the 10th. In the morning we went to get the mare and she had beat herself so against the ground that she was scarcely able to stand when we let her go. Then we packed up our horses and went on. D. E. killed a deer and we took it on with us. We passed an old plantation and crossed a creek. Here we stopped for dinner. We got plenty of hickory nuts here and them of the best kind. After dinner we set out again and went on until just night and encamped for that night. One of the mares followed us until we stopped. Our Spaniard roped her. She had the foot evil. He burned it with hot grease and left her. The land sets in with a red soil Many small prairies and excellent food.

Thursday the 11th. We set out again. Myself, W. B. and M.W. went out a hunting. W. B. killed a very (big) deer on a caney branch. Here an Indian trader came to us. He told us nothing that was encouraging to us. Everything from hearsay appears to be against us. We had a very hard rain here at this place. There were five hunters sent out after the rain. The rest of us stayed at camp and shot mark. M. E. killed a fawn."

(Note by E. W. M. - The Indian trader probably told them about the British troop movement toward New Orleans and how badly the Americans would get whipped at the Battle of New Orleans. Hearsay was no more reliable then than now.)

Peter LaCroix , Joseph LaCroix and their cousins survived the service, but Stephen LaCroix died while in the Service on 2/24/1815. The cause of death or the place of burial was not noted in his service record.

Peter LaCroix must have married shortly after returning from the army. His wife was Mary Willson who was the daughter of Robert Willson. Mary was one of eight children that lived to adulthood. Peter and Mary's marriage must have been performed in Rapides Parish for in the 1820 census Peter is shown living near his brother John L. LaCroix on Bayou Rapides. John Louis LaCroix owned land on the north side of Bayou Rapides at what is now known as Lamothe's Bridge. One record indicated that Peter LaCroix operated a ferry across Bayou Rapides in the Lamothe's Bridge area in the 1820's. See page 37, the John Louis LaCroix section, for more information.

Peter LaCroix left the Bayou Rapides area and moved to the section of Little River just below the mouth of Trout Creek. This location was at a spot on Little River which could be forded when the water was low, but the horses had to swim the river when the water was up. It was a dangerous crossing in high water. There was a curve in the river at this point. Peter built and operated a ferry here. This area for many years was known as LaCroix's Ferry. The ferry was operated by members of the LaCroix family for about 80 years, until about 1904 when Dr. A. B. Thompson sold his interest in the ferry to Arch A. Whatley. Peter LaCroix, his sons Stephen Yancy LaCroix and Robert LaCroix and his sons-in-law Daniel Jackson "Jack" Kitterlin and Dr. A. B. Thompson each operated the ferry sometimes in connection with other members of the family and sometimes alone. The ferry was located in a bend in the river so that only a rudder was needed to steer the ferry from one bank to the other. The current took the ferry across, but it always wound up down river, so it had to be pulled back upstream in order to make the return trip and still land in the same area. Later a rope was provided across the river and used to constrain the ferry and allow the operator to use the rope and pull the boat across. Dr. A. B. Thompson was the last LaCroix family member to operate the ferry. That area is still known as Thompson's Ferry, and the old LaCroix family cemetery is known as the Thompson's Ferry cemetery. Photographs of the later ferry are shown on pages following.

Peter LaCroix's entire adult life was associated with the Rivers and other bodies of water. He and both sons cut timber, made rafts of logs to float down to New Orleans and sold the logs to the mill to make lumber. The rafts would be constructed in a low area of the river when the water was low and then at the time of the Spring Floods they would float. If the raft were not completed by the time of the Spring Floods, work would continue until the raft were completed. Mr. Hugh Faircloth indicated it took four men about two years to cut the timber and build a raft. Once the raft was completed and afloat, a crew of about four men would float it down to New Orleans. The raft consisted of some thirty or forty smaller rafts tied together in a semi-flexible way so that a man on the front, one in the middle, and another on the back end of the string of individual rafts could take the string of rafts around a bend in the river with only a moderate amount of effort. A shanty was usually constructed near the rear which served as the kitchen and bunk space at night for the men who were lucky enough to get to sleep that night. A raft was a valuable piece of marketable property. Reports were made of rafts being stolen and the crew disappearing. From the time the crew left home until it returned would take about four weeks. In that period of time a hijacked raft could already be sawed into lumber and the money for the raft spent. A family dog usually made the trip with the crew. Guards were needed at night to protect the raft and crewmen while the raft was tied up. On clear moonlit nights the trip downstream was usually continued all night. One requirement in building a raft was that no nails could be used in building it. Everything had to be drilled and pegged. A nail anywhere in the log would ruin the saw blade when the log was sawed. Even the shanty was built and fastened to the raft with pegs. Mrs. Carrie LaCroix Wagner and Mrs. Phenie Wagner Sullivan referred to the crew as "floaters" and the census classified them as "raftsmen".

The food for the trip usually consisted of a bushel of sweet potatoes, a sack of corn meal, fish caught on set lines, and a few hens to provide eggs and an occasional chicken and dumplings meal. A corral could be built on one of the rafts for horses so the crew could ride back home. Pigs and other produce to be marketed in New Orleans could be carried along, too. In the shanty the cook cooked over a clay pot built to contain the burning wood. The task of cooking was often rotated among the different hands. Each of the crewmen had a number of different tasks to perform. Sometimes it took about a week to market the raft, once it got to New Orleans. The raft served as a home for the crew at that time. When steamboats became popular, the crew would usually ride back home on the steamboat.

A raft of logs sold at New Orleans for $500 to $700 which was about the same price that a half section of 320 acres of unimproved land would sell for. Some families would buy land on credit near the river, clear it of timber, raft the logs to New Orleans, sell them and then pay off the mortgage on the land. The land with the timber off was more valuable for farming than with the timber on it, so they could either sell it for a profit and go on to another venture, or they could stay and build a house and barn and farm the land. Several rafts of logs could be made from the timber on a normal 320 acre plot of land.

Rafting logs remained in practice until about 1910 when small portable sawmills could be set up and the trees sawed in a local area near where they grew.

Peter LaCroix and his sons also cut wood and stacked it at various boat landings for use of the steamboats. The boats were steam driven and the wood was used to fire the boiler. Some of the wood supplied was pine knots which burned quickly, but most wood was hardwood such as oak which burned steadily providing an even heat. Several other families cut wood for the boats so that at every landing there was a wood supply. One problem was that they didn't pay cash or use a credit card as we do today at a gas pump; they used the wood and promised to pay later.

One of the problems with any business enterprise in the 1800's was that there was just very, very little money. Almost all business was conducted on a barter or promissory note basis. The promissory note was only as good as the man who signed it. Very often a person was extended so much credit that his note was of no value. A good example of this is the following story which was extracted from the Catahoula Parish Courthouse records.

> Peter LaCroix had cut wood and had it stacked on the dock at his own place on Little River, at Robert LaCroix's landing, at Benjamin Willson's landing and at several other landings not named. The steamboat Mammoth Cave was owned and piloted by James Watson and one of the employees was the fireman, William Henry Newton. His job was to keep the boiler fired. In September 1854 the Mammoth Cave stopped and picked up 57 cords of Peter LaCroix's wood priced at $2.25 per cord at Benjamin Willson's landing. Benjamin was Peter LaCroix's brother-in-law. A cord is a volume measure of four feet by four feet by 8 feet or 128 cubic feet of wood. Each cord would be about the amount of wood cut from a thirty inch diameter tree. That was a lot of cutting, splitting and hauling. The same month, the Mammoth Cave stopped at Robert LaCroix's landing and picked up another 25 cords. That made a total of 82 cords of wood for which Peter LaCroix was to have received $184.50.

Before any money was paid to Peter LaCroix, James Watson, pilot and owner of the Mammoth Cave, died and Peter asked the curator of Watson's estate to pay the bill. It was found that the liabilities of the estate far exceeded the assets. Peter entered suit and won the case, but no record was found that he ever was paid. In examining other records in the Watson estate settlement, it was discovered that the boat was in very bad condition and no buyer had been found for it. The curator of the estate had assigned an employee the task of taking care of the boat, and when his bill was submitted, the amount seemed much too high. When the employee was cross examined, it was stated that the boat leaked so badly that the boiler had to be kept on all the time to operate the pumps. He had stayed on duty around the clock for several months to keep the boat afloat. He made no mention of when he slept.

The following story appeared in the Alexandria paper about our Peter LaCroix:

Uncle Peter Lacroix, grandfather of Steve and Peter Lacroix, was one of the pioneers of Western Catahoula. He was a noted hunter and killed and trapped all kinds of wild game. An unexpected attack from a fierce wild cat almost put our old time friend out of business. "Uncle Peter" was riding along one of the lonesome trails in the year 1830 when suddenly a wild cat jumped out of a tree and lit on his shoulders and commenced tearing the old man's flesh into shreds. Uncle Peter grabbed the wild cat and then commenced a fierce fight between man and beast. After a short time, with rare presence of mind, the old man managed to get his knife out of his pocket and opened it with his teeth, and then with one arm free he killed the fierce beast. The old man was badly wounded and suffered for many weeks from this fierce encounter."

Except for a short lived joint venture with Benjamin Kitchen, a brother-in-law, on Bayou Funny Louis, Peter LaCroix stayed on the bank of Little River, reared his family and died there. The Funny Louis venture resulted in one of the creeks in that area being named LaCroix Creek and another being named Kitchen Creek.

In 1847 Peter LaCroix's sister Mary LaCroix Glass died in the Point Meigre area of Avoyelles Parish and Peter became executor of her estate. This is discussed in the section under Mary LaCroix Glass and other sections.

Peter died 6/22/1862 and Mary died 1/27/1863 and they almost certainly were buried in unmarked graves in the old family cemetery at what is now called Thompson's Ferry Cemetery. We were twenty five years too late to locate the exact graves. Several family members living in 1965 should have known their grave sites. Reports of old timers indicate there are about sixty unmarked graves in that cemetery.[33,115,197]

STEPHEN YANCY LACROIX

A. Stephen Yancy LaCroix (12/9/1816-11/30/1882)[101] married (1st) 2/27/1848 to Mary Ann "Polly" Whatley (2/9/1825-7/8/1863).[101] Stephen Y. LaCroix married (2nd) 2/10/1865 or 10/2/1865 to the widow Martha Jane Hawthorne Norris (c1834-12/20/1904). After Stephen Y. LaCroix died, his widow, Martha Jane, married 9/13/1884 to Robert LaCroix. The children of Stephen Yancy LaCroix and Mary Ann Whatley LaCroix follow:

1. Mary E. LaCroix (10/5/1849-a1870) married 9/20/1865 to William W. McCollum who was born c1836.[33,99,21] See page 342.

2. Peter Felix LaCroix (1/2/1852-10/22/1926)[101] married 10/19/1873 Martha Lucy Whatley (11/2/1853-3/26/1938).[99,101] See page 345.

3. Emily Cornelia LaCroix (10/19/1853-a1860) was not located in the 1870 census. Family members remember their older relatives talking about Emily, but don't remember what was said about her.

4. Laura Freelove LaCroix, shown one place as Laura Francis LaCroix (1/10/1856-5/1/1874),[33,99] married 11/16/1872 to John Parker. See page 360.

5. Cornelia J. LaCroix (12/20/1858-c1863).

6. Kate Thompson LaCroix (2/27/1861-2/5/1933) married 9/5/1878 to William Houston Whatley (1/10/1852-6/19/1893).[33,207,102] See page 362.

7. Stephen Yeiser LaCroix (4/3/1863-2/5/1935) married 2/25/1885 to Elizabeth Edmonia Greer (11/25/1868-5/29/1948).[33,99,45] See page 368.

The children of Stephen Yancy LaCroix and Martha Jane Hawthorne Norris LaCroix are listed below.

8. Martha W. "Mattie" LaCroix (8/6/1867-9/27/1955)[33,99.67] married 9/30/1884 her first cousin once removed, Peter Gip Thompson (8/11/1860-2/24/1923).[33,99,67] See page 375 and page 454.

9. Thompson Mayo LaCroix (7/1/1869-4/20/1914)[33,99,119] married 3/3/1891 to Laura Lulu Walker (3/8/1870-11/25/1950).[33,99,119] See page 376.

Stephen Yancy LaCroix received his first name from his uncle, Stephen LaCroix, who died in the service in the War of 1812. The origin of the middle name has not been learned. In fact there is some controversy what his middle name was. Mrs. Carrie LaCroix Wagner insisted it was Yeiser, while others give this name to his son. I have never located it on any courthouse document so I have gone with the majority and called it Yancy. Stephen Yancy LaCroix, like his father, followed work in and around the river. He operated the LaCroix ferry until he was no longer physically able to do so. He cut timber, built log rafts and floated them to New Orleans. In the settlement of his estate a log raft is listed consisting of 1497 logs valued at $748.50 or 50 cents per log. During Stephen Y. LaCroix's operation of the ferry, a description of a log raft passing the ferry was given in the journal kept by Colonel Samuel H. Lockett in 1868. This is printed in the book, Louisiana As It Is. He described a tremendous raft of Pine and Cypress trees floating on their way to New Orleans.

Stephen Yancy LaCroix also farmed and raised cattle and hogs. He lived part of the time on the south side of Little River at his father's place, but mostly he lived on the north side of Little River in what was then Catahoula Parish, but now LaSalle Parish. He was living in Grant Parish at the time of his death and his estate settlement is in the Grant Parish Courthouse. He was a Justice of the Peace much of his adult life. In 1852 he was elected as a State Representative on the Whig Platform from Catahoula Parish. A family story tells of his losing a leg and since he played the fiddle was known as the one legged fiddler.

When Mary Ann Whatley LaCroix died, Stephen Y. LaCroix's youngest child, Stephen Yeiser LaCroix, was only three months old. Both grandmothers helped with tending the baby, but both were in poor health and within a few years both died.

About fifteen miles north west of the LaCroix ferry was the Hawthorne Ferry. This ferry was also on Little River and was owned by Albert Hawthorne and provided a means of crossing the river for those traveling the Natchez Trace. Albert had a big family. One of the daughters, Martha Jane Hawthorne, had married a Mr. Norris and he apparently died or was killed in the war. Stephen Yancy LaCroix and Martha Jane Norris married on 10/2/1865 in Alexandria, LA.

Stephen Yancy LaCroix purchased four parcels of land from the U.S. Government. These were in Sections 7, 17 and 18 of T7N R2E.

Stephen Yancy LaCroix was away a lot and Martha Jane ruled the children with an iron hand. Family stories from the children's descendants tell of the dissatisfaction of the children with their stepmother. The story was told that Stephen Yancy LaCroix and his 13 year old son, Stephen Yeiser LaCroix, went to Alexandria on business and spent the night in a hotel. The next morning, Stephen Yancy told his son to comb his hair so they could go downstairs and eat. While he was delicately combing his hair, his impatient father took the comb and one run through the hair produced such pain the father examined the son's scalp and found a four inch gash that had been put there by his stepmother. There were some words said when they got home, but things did not change substantially. The children by the first wife were anxious to get away from home. There were two children by the second marriage. The older one, "Mattie" married her first cousin once removed and they stayed very close to the rest of the LaCroix family.

When Mary Ann Whatley LaCroix died, she was buried in what was then called the Phin Whatley cemetery. This is now known as the LaCroix and Whatley cemetery and also the Arch Whatley cemetery. Stephen Yancy LaCroix died and was buried beside his first wife. When the second wife died, she was buried on the other side of Stephen. The graves are side by side, but not in line. Mary Ann's is the highest, Stephen Yancy's is intermediate and Martha Jane's is the lowest. Stephen Yancy reportedly left word that he wanted the relationship of the graves that way. Stephen Y. LaCroix's grave is the only grave of the three with a marker. The LaCroix-Whatley cemetery and the Thompson Ferry cemetery are across the river from each other and about two miles apart.

Whatever her disposition, Martha Jane was a shrewd business person and manipulator. Her father advised her and helped pull the strings. When Stephen Yancy LaCroix died, Martha Jane was the administrator of the estate. As a widow she was entitled to $1000 of the estate. The total value of the estate was $1030 and she purchased it with her widow's lien. She apparently sent the logs to New Orleans by her son-in-law, Peter Gip Thompson, and others and with the cash received purchased some real estate for her and the youngest child. She overstepped her bounds when she refused to pay the lawyer who helped her settle the estate for he filed suit against her. Martha Jane was able to get her husband's cousin Samuel M. LaCroix who was then deputy sheriff, to handle the inventory of the property associated with the suit. His return stated that he found no property owned by the defendant. The lawyer was unsatisfied with that answer and located the record of her purchase of the land and located the roan pony that had been part of the estate. He had those seized and sold to satisfy the debt that was due him. The inventory of Stephen Y. LaCroix's estate follows.

Item	Description	Value
1	Rone mare	$40.00
2	colt	$20.00
3	Lot of hogs 16 head more or less	$30.00

17	1 raft of pine logs 1499 logs	748.50
	Total	$1030.40

It is interesting that the logs, cut, snaked to the river and built into rafts were worth an average of only 50 cents each. Each of these tasks was a difficult and dangerous undertaking at that time.

Martha Jane married 9/13/1884 Robert LaCroix, brother of Stephen Yancy LaCroix. Additional data will be found under the Robert LaCroix section. Robert and Martha Jane did not live together long.

MARY ESTELLE LACROIX MCCOLLUM

1. Mary Estelle LaCroix McCollum (10/5/1849-a1870) married 9/20/1865 to William W. McCollum who was born c1836. They are shown in the 1870 census of Rapides Parish, LA, living on Bayou Lamourie with William's father. They had two children at the time. A great deal of time was spent trying to locate this couple or the children in later years, but it was to no avail. Whether they moved away or died is not known. It is unlikely that all four family members died between 1870 and 1880, but family members did not remember Mary or the children. There is no death date given for Mary in Peter Felix LaCroix's old Bible. There were two children shown in the 1870 census.

   a. Mary A. McCollum was born c1867.
   b. Henrietta McCollum was born c1869.

About 1906 Peter Felix LaCroix built a large one and one half story house near White Sulphur Springs. His descendants still live in this home. He had an artisan spring in his yard, but subsequent oil drilling stopped the flow of water from the spring. Like his father and grandfather, Peter Felix LaCroix followed the lumber industry. He made log rafts, floated them to New Orleans for a cash crop. By the late 1890's cutting and hauling logs to sawmills in the area was beginning to boom. Small sawmills could be moved about from one area to another, and would be set up to cut logs in that area. There were also large sawmills at Trout, Goodpine and Tall Timbers. The story was told that Peter Felix LaCroix located the gold which had been buried by Joseph P. Ward, the first hotel proprietor of the White Sulphur Springs. Peter Felix LaCroix also owned livestock and farmed. He was part owner of the LaCroix and Robertson Hotel which was in existence from about 1895 until about 1903. It catered to guests at the White Sulphur Springs which was a short walk away. It is not known if this hotel later became the Moffett Hotel.

Witnesses to the marriage were her Aunt and Uncle James D. and Mary Estelle LaCroix McCollum. A concentrated search for John Parker in the 1880 census did not locate a potential widower for her. There was a near neighbor, John Parker, but he had the same wife in the 1870 and 1880 census. The date of c1874 came from Peter Felix LaCroix's old Bible but had the notation, "No death date for Laura but think it was 1874." The complete date came from information sent by Phillip Price. There was time from the marriage date of 1872 until 1874 to have a child, but none has been located.

They lived in the vicinity of what is now Hurricane Creek Baptist Church in (now) LaSalle Parish during their marriage. A family story told was that William Houston Whatley and Kate had dated some and seemed to be serious. William Houston Whatley had to be away from home on a business trip and he made a date with Kate on his scheduled return. He was hindered from returning on schedule and missed the date. With no means of communication, he could not explain until he returned why he didn't show up. When he returned, he wrote a note of apology for missing the date and proposed marriage. The reply came back that if he couldn't keep a date, she surely would not marry him. That decision was reversed and they seemed to have a happy fifteen years together before William Houston died. The cause of his death and the place of his burial is not known. Kate is buried in Lake Providence, La. William Houston was a Justice of the Peace and taught school. Their children follow:

MARTHA W. "MATTIE" LACROIX THOMPSON

8. Martha W. "Mattie" LaCroix (8/6/1867-9/27/1955).[67] She married 9/30/1884 Peter Gip Thompson (8/11/1860-2/24/1923).[67] He was her first cousin once removed. When Mattie LaCroix was young, she and her brother Thompson Mayo LaCroix were arguing about who would get the scissors to cut out something with. Mattie took them away from Mayo and in jerking them they went into her eye. This left her blind in one eye and that eye stayed swollen. Her photos are almost all made in a position to limit the image of that eye. For a discussion of her family, see the Thompson family write up page 454.

THOMPSON MAYO LACROIX

9. Thompson Mayo LaCroix (7/1/1869-4/20/1914)[119] married 3/3/1891 to Laura Lulu Walker (3/8/1870-11/25/1950).[119] He was known only as Mayo LaCroix and was employed in the lumber industry around Pollock, LA. On April 20, 1914, the locomotive fireman mentioned that he was hungry, and Mayo said he had a lunch back in one of the cars and offered to go back and get it. In the process of going back over the railroad cars, he apparently slipped and fell to his death. When he didn't return after a normal period of time, the fireman stopped the train, but didn't see him. They then backed up and found his mutilated body on the tracks. The family built a large house just south of Pollock where the nursing home is now located and the children were reared there. The children:

ROBERT LACROIX

Robert LaCroix (9/24/1821-5/15/1886)[96] married (1st) 12/13/1849 Mrs. Melissa Clara Dyson Denman (11/24/1827-12/10/1872).[96] Robert married (2nd) in Sept. 1875 to Mrs. Sarah A. Kees (1830-after 1884). Robert married (3rd) on 9/13/1884 to Mrs. Martha Jane Hawthorne Norris LaCroix (c1834-12/20/1904).[101] Martha Jane was the widow of Robert's brother Stephen Y. LaCroix. All of the children were by the first wife. The children follow:

1. Jane Catherine LaCroix (11/28/1850-7/10/1888)[96] married 1/7/1873 Thomas Jefferson Wagner (10/22/1851-10/16/1916).[67] See page 382.

2. Emma LaCroix (6/5/1854-2/17/1900)[67] married 1/6/1876 Zachariah R. "Zack" Lovell (12/17/1854-7/2/1920).[67] See page 389.

3. Joseph Y. LaCroix (1/14/1856-5/2/1879)[96] married 1/10/1878 Mary Roena Ketchum (2/16/1861-9/5/1884).[197] Mary Ketchum was a sister of Sarah Ketchum and Octavia Ketchum. After Joseph died, Mary married Hiram Bonner.[18] See page 393.

4. Martha Florence LaCroix (8/1/1858-11/14/1911)[96] married 2/16/1876 Henry Richard Lee (11/17/1849-7/29/1898).[96] See page 400.

5. Robert Jett LaCroix (11/1/1860-1/3/1898)[96] was known as "Son" LaCroix and did not marry. See page 401.

6. Melissa Clara LaCroix (10/31/1864-11/21/1965)[75] married 1888 Robert Wilson McCollum (10/10/1862-9/20/1952).[75] They were first cousins. See page 434.

7. Frances Estelle "Fanny" LaCroix (5/7/1868-5/17/1896)[96] married 3/5/1890

Robert LaCroix

Luten W. "Fred" Brady (3/1/1862-6/22/1924).[96] See page 403.

8. Unnamed Infant son LaCroix (7/30/1870-9/4/1870)[96]

Melissa Dyson Denman was first married to James C. Denman (12/17/1820-8/7/1848). By him she had two children.

1. Thomas J. Denman (12/29/1846-1/3/1847)

2. James M. Denman (12/22/1847-3/31/1869)[96] apparently did not marry as no marriage has been located for him.

Melissa's mother Rebecca Dyson was shown living with Robert and Melissa LaCroix in the 1860 census. At that time they appeared to be living on the old Peter LaCroix place at Thompson's Ferry. The father of Melissa has not been located. There were several early families of Dyson in Catahoula Parish, but I have been unable to tie Melissa to any of them.

1870 Robert and Melissa had acquired land of their own and were living about three miles from the old Peter LaCroix place. This land was the NW4 of NW4 of S22 and W2 of SW4 of SW4 S 15 T7N R1E in the Land District North of Red River. On this property they built a two\story house with a porch on three sides on both floors. This property became Fanny Estelle's because she was a minor. She later married Fred Brady and when she died, he and his children gave possession of it to Fred's fourth wife. She sold it soon after Fred died. On this place they started a cemetery because it was difficult during high water to get to the Thompson's Ferry Cemetery. James M. Denman was the first person buried in the old cemetery. It was originally called the LaCroix Cemetery but it is now known as the Brady Cemetery. Most of the markers have been broken and it is in very poor condition.

Melissa died 12/10/1872. Melissa was only 45 years old at death but her photos show the wear and tear of life at that time. By that time she had borne 10 children and had lost three of them. Robert married (2nd) in Sept. 1875 Mrs. Sarah Ann Kees who was born about 1830. The wedding was performed by Rev. B. F. Brian who was then pastor of Friendship Baptist Church. Sarah was the widow of John W. Kees who was born c1828 in Mississippi. John W. Kees is shown as a school teacher on the 1870 Grant Parish census. Robert needed someone to care for his young children, but Sarah Ann didn't take to that job too well. She lived there about two years and according to the testimony of Albert Hawthorne and H. S. Bonner she loaded her things in a wagon and drove off. The 1880 census shows her living with her son and his family in Catahoula Parish. With the help of the testimony of Albert Hawthorne the divorce between Robert and Sarah became final 9/3/1884. Robert LaCroix married 9/13/1884 to Mrs. Martha Jane Hawthorne Norris LaCroix the widow of Robert's brother Stephen Yancy LaCroix. This marriage didn't last either, and in a short time they separated. Robert died 5/15/1886 of a cardiovascular condition. A granddaughter, in describing his death, said he was propped up on a lot of pillows because he had so much fluid in the lungs that he was having trouble breathing. After struggling several days to breath, he said, "Pick me up, take the pillows out, let me down and let me die." His request was granted and he died in a few minutes. Martha Jane the third wife lived on for some time and died 12/20/1904. She lived in a small house near Peter Gip Thompson's after she and Robert separated. Robert's estate consisted of the land previously mentioned and the following personal property:

One ox wagon, one Pony mare, 4 head of sheep, 4 head of cattle, 25 head of hogs more or less, 3 wool mattresses with bedding, 3 bedsteads, 8 chairs, 3 trunks, 2 sets of plow tools, 2 sets of gear (for the plows), 1 wash pot, 2 armoires, 1 cupboard, 1 shot gun, 1 clock, 3 earthen jars, 1 sausage mill, kitchen furniture and 1 lot of books. George W. Wainwright and Jeff Davis Stallings appraised the property, E. N. Evans and William Wagner witnessed the appraisal and M. D. Andrews notarized it.

Robert Jett LaCroix c1890

ROBERT JETT LACROIX

Robert Jett LaCroix "Uncle Son" (11/1/1860-1/3/1898)[96] did not marry. He was riding his horse and a thunderstorm came up and he was struck by lightning. The riderless horse which was burned but not killed ran home and the subsequent search located Uncle Son's body. Robert became the tutor of "Ollie" LaCroix when Joseph Y. died. He was a very industrious and stable person. He constructed several log rafts and floated them to New Orleans. With that money he purchased land and livestock. He was one of the first people in that area to use a log wagon to haul logs. Until that time logs were "snaked" out by putting a rope or cable on them and pulling them through the woods with oxen. A log wagon was built specifically so that it could hold a load of heavy logs. The wheels were wide and strong and the frame was made to withstand the stress of being pulled through the woods. That area of the country was and is dotted with bogs, sloughs and small streams. The water was seldom deep enough to float the logs out of the hills to the river and seldom dry enough to get a loaded wagon over it without great difficulty.

R. J. Lacroix

At the time of his death Robert Jett LaCroix owned 300 acres of land. He bought the SE4 of SE4 of Sec. 16 T7N R1E from the School District. This was adjoining his father's property. The 16th sections were normally turned over to the School Districts to use in support of the schools. They sometimes built a school on the 16th Section and sold the remainder of it to financially support the school. He also owned the SE4 of Sec. 26 of the same township and range. This was about two miles from the other property. The following real estate was owned by Robert and was given to his minor orphaned nieces and nephews. The NE4 of NE4 S 21, the NW4 of NW4 S 22 and the W2 of SW4 of SW4 of S 15 in T7N R1E. In addition to land his estate consisted of five yoke of oxen, one pony and 1 wagon. Uncle Son did not marry. His sisters, nieces and nephews inherited the property when he died. Since his estate did not include household effects he probably was still living at his father's old home, although nieces and nephews referred to "Uncle Son's house".

Ansom M. Hadsell and Susan LaCroix Budd Hadsell

Susan LaCroix was born 12/14/1825 and died 5/24/1872.[149] She married first c1848 Samuel Budd who was born c1826 in Ohio and who died 1860-1867. Samuel Budd and his brother Ezra Budd had made a trip south where Samuel had met Susan LaCroix, fell in love and married her. Ezra returned to Ohio between 1850 and 1860. Samuel Budd's occupation was shown as a farmer in the 1850 and 1860 Rapides Parish, LA. census. He was known as Uncle Budd and she was known as Aunt Sue. The children of Susan LaCroix Budd and Samuel Budd follow:

1. Aseneth Budd was born c1852. She is shown as a school teacher in the 1870 Allen County, Ohio census but has not been located after that. She was mentioned in the will of Aunt Vie in 1879 and the codicil of Aunt Vie's will dated 1884. The livestock designated for her in the will of 1879 seems to indicate that she may have been living in Louisiana at the time. The codicil left her only money, and had the statement, "send Budd if living $25 twenty five dollars in money" indicating that she may have been in poor health at that time. Aseneth resembled her mother. She had a full face, fair complexion, and light blue eyes. Over a hundred hours of research has failed to locate Aseneth in either Ohio or Louisiana after 1870.

Asneth Budd and Samuel Budd, Sr.

2. Samuel Budd, Jr. was born c1856 and he must have died prior to 1870 for he is not shown on the 1870 census with his mother.

3. Mary Budd was born c1859 and is not shown in the house with her mother in the 1870 census and it is assumed she died between 1860 and 1870.

What circumstances caused Susan to go to Ohio to be near Samuel Budd's folks has not been learned. There are several probably reasons:

1. The death of Susan's parents and an invitation by Samuel's father to come to Ohio.
2. The death of Samuel and hard times following the War.
3. The allegiance of Samuel to the United States and his reluctance to remain in a State in Secession.

Whatever the cause, we find that some time between 1860 and 1867 Susan LaCroix Budd moved to Allen County, Ohio near Samuel Budd's father and that became home for her. It is not known whether Samuel was with her on the trip to Ohio or whether he had died or was in the Military Service at that time. We must assume that Samuel Budd died between 1860 and 1867 for in 1867 Susan married Ansom M. Hadsell. She was his third wife. He was born c1810 and died 7/26/1883. He had married (1st) on 3/5/1834 to Sarah A. Parker who was born c1812 and died 4/8/1841. Mr. Hadsell married (2nd) in July 1841 to Adeline Thayer who died 8/19/1866. Mr. Hadsell married (3rd) in 1867 to Susan LaCroix Budd who died 5/24/1872. Mr. Hadsell married (4th) Mrs. Caroline Wood. His 5th wife was the widow Caroline Coon Ryan or Rhine. There were children by the first, second and fourth wives. Mr. Hadsell was a carpenter and school teacher, teaching for a total of 40 terms. He was a Justice of the Peace for 27 years, State Senator in 1845, County Commissioner in 1859, and a member of the First Presbyterian Church when it was organized 1/16/1858. He was a Republican.

Jack Kitterlin and his family lived all their married life right on the old Peter LaCroix place in now Grant Parish. He knew the operation of a ferry before he married into the LaCroix family. He also knew the river. He fit right into the LaCroix family, their logging and rafting efforts and their ferry operation. He and Judith are buried in the Thompson Ferry Cemetery and it is assumed the Kitterlin family members that died young are buried there. Much of the early family information was obtained with clues from the Kitterlin family members.

MARTHA ELLA KITTERLIN PAUL

2. Martha Ellen Kitterlin (1/12/1851-4/7/1925)[66] married 2/12/1874 Emanuel "Mann" Paul (11/6/1845-4/27/1925).[66] Emanuel Paul was the son of Jean Baptiste "Batise" Paul (8/9/1822-1880-1882) and Felicity O'Neal (12/28/1823-a1910). She was the daughter of Phillipe O'Neal and Suzette Roget (Rougeau). Emanuel Paul was reared on the French Fork of Little River and Martha was reared at the Thompson Ferry on Little River. They no doubt met due to the river traffic which was the easy way to travel then. Emanuel Paul and Martha started their married life on the French Fork of Little River where Mann had been reared. The old home site was directly across the river from Walters, LA. At one time that area was served by the Lavacca Post Office. They later lived near Center Point, LA, and finally they moved to St. Clair to be near their daughter, Emmie Paul Anderson. Martha died 4/7/1925 and Mann went to live with his son, Jeff Davis Paul. Mann died 4/27/1925, just twenty days after Martha died. The following story was heard from several different sources and sometimes was told mostly relating to Batiste Paul and very convincingly told by Jefferson Davis Paul, Jr. relating to Emanuel Paul.

On one occasion while they were living on French Fork, Baptiste heard a disturbance down at the pig pen and went to investigate when he was attacked by a panther who seized on the calf of his leg. Instead of beating the panther loose, he grabbed it by the throat with one hand and began beating it with the other fist, all the time yelling. Others of the family came to his aid and when they arrived, found the dying panther's rib cage had been beaten loose. Baptiste carried the scars of this encounter the rest of his life.

It has been told that Emanuel Paul served in the CSA during the Civil War. A search of the incomplete records has not resulted in locating an entry that could be identified as him.

Ironically, Mrs. Anderson and Dave Marler knew they were related and how they were related. It has taken me, the author, eighteen years to establish this connection. If this family history had been written forty years ago, the difficulty would only have been a fraction of what it now is. If the collection of information for this book had been delayed another twenty years, many of these detailed connections would not have been discovered. The other places where the Andersons taught were Ruby, Gaars Mill, Baker Agriculture School, Winnfield, Latanier, Union Hill and Zimmerman Front.

Davis Kitterlin learned the river from his father. Very early in life he understood ferry flats and the rowing of them. He knew the river currents and how to avoid the many pitfalls along the river. When he was relatively young, he learned the piloting of steamboats and became the most popular pilot on Little River. He was employed by the Lambou and Noel Lumber and M'fg Co. Limited which was located on North Peters and Alexander St. in New Orleans, LA. His job was to encourage the marketing of the Little River Rafts at the Lambou and Noel lumber company. He piloted the steamboat Will Davis and hired many of the relatives to help him on the steamboat. Bob McCollum, Will McCollum, Tom McCollum and Winn Scott were all employed on the Will Davis from time to time. Doc Kitterlin and Vincent Kitterlin would go along sometimes, although they were just in their early teens. To help encourage the rafts to be sold to his employer, he would often push the raft to New Orleans for the men, taking days off of the trip. The raft still had to have a crew, but the trip was much faster than floating the raft.

For the trip back up the river the boat was loaded with the raft crews and the many supplies needed from New Orleans. Stops were sometimes made at Egypt Plantation Landing to check on Aunt Vie. While the Will Davis was a tug, it had modest quarters for a passenger or two in addition to the crews quarters. Davis Kitterlin lived about four and a half miles downriver from the old Peter LaCroix home place.

Family stories tell of the good natured jockeying of the ferry flats at Thompson's Ferry. Often Davis Kitterlin had a river hauling job to do and not enough flats to carry all the material he wanted to carry. This would usually start a round of "borrowing" the flats from the ferry. There were several ferry flats at Thompson's Ferry, and only one was usually used at a time. The borrowing didn't usually cause any problem. Sometimes there would be several horses and wagons waiting to cross, and the second flat, if available, could be connected to the first one and both flats walked across at the same time. If they were all gone but one, the second horse and wagon to arrive had to wait until the ferry was walked across to drop off the first wagon and then walked back across. It was all good natured enough, but sometimes caused a problem.

About 1909 Davis Kitterlin developed stomach problems that eventually were diagnosed as being caused by tuberculosis of the stomach. The loss of blood became worse, and he died 5/26/1910. Mrs. Claudia Kitterlin Clay suggested the modern diagnosis would probably have been stomach cancer. All the cousins and all the neighbors turned out for the funeral of this much liked and much admired member of our family. The funeral possession started at his home and to accommodate the large crowd, several flats were used for the crowd and connected to the Will Davis. The body was placed aboard the Will Davis for his last ride up the river on his favorite steamboat. Mrs. Mamie McCollum Faircloth told of going on this ride up the river to the Thompson Ferry cemetery for the burial

Lavica LaCroix McClure Walker and James B. Walker

LAVICA LACROIX MCCLURE WALKER
AUNT "VIE"

F. Lavica LaCroix "Aunt Vie" (3/13/1830-5/2/1890)[92] married c1852 to Benjamin Franklin McClure (c1822-11/19/1869).[92] She later married Joseph W. Walker who died c1879.[92] Aunt Vie had no children by either marriage.

Shortly after her marriage to Benjamin F. McClure the newly married couple moved to Black River to the old McClure place to take care of the farming, the gin, and all those duties associated with large scale farming in the 1850's. The place was easily accessible by boat. It was in a large loop in Black River located about where the cutoff has now been constructed. This is now called Lost Bend. The closest community today is Parhams which is about three miles east of the McClure plantation. On maps of thirty years ago, McClure landing was still marked. Since the McClure home was on the bank of Black River there was easy travel from Lavica's parents' home to the McClure home which was down Little River to Catahoula Lake then up the lake to the French Fork of Little River to Jonesville (then Trinity) and down the Black River to McClure's landing. It was not a strange country to Aunt Vie because her grandfather Robert Wilson had lived a few miles further north on Black River while Aunt Vie was growing up.

Sometime in her early life Aunt Vie had broken a hip which when it healed left one leg shorter than the other. This condition necessitated the use of a walking cane to get around the rest of her life. The gain in weight as she aged added to her mobility problem.

Just as the country was not unfamiliar to Aunt Vie, the McClure family members were not strangers. Her cousin Jane C. LaCroix had married Orren (I-ron) McClure, brother to Benjamin F. McClure, and another cousin had married Squire W. McClure. In the 1840's and 1850's Johnathan McClure operated a sawmill about a mile from Aunt Vie's childhood home. This sawmill was on Trout Creek where the "Old Swimming Hole" was located in the 1930's. Until the 1920's this site was known as McClure's Old Mill. There is little doubt that Lavica knew all of the McClure family on a first name basis.

About a year after Uncle Ben and Aunt Vie married, Uncle Ben's brother John Haggerty McClure died, and a short time later his widow died. Aunt Vie and her husband took some of those orphaned nieces and nephews to live with them. This pattern was repeated many times throughout the rest of her life. It was a busy life helping to run the plantation, overseeing the housework,sewing and tending to the nieces and nephews. In cotton picking season there was the gin to run and all the field hands to see about. Of course, Aunt Vie and Uncle Ben had help, but still there was no time to be idle. There was more work to be done than everyone working together could get done. It was always that way on a plantation.

At that time Uncle Ben and his brothers and sisters had operated the plantation without dividing it since it had been only a few years since Uncle Ben's mother, Naomi had died. When the property division occurred, Uncle Ben received a share and bought much of the rest of the property.

The McClure home was a popular and convenient place for the McClure, the LaCroix and the Wilson families to meet. Aunt Vie and Uncle Ben were gracious hosts with plenty of room and plenty of good food. Steamboats travelling the rivers made easy transportation to and from there. They even had their own River Boat Landing to load cotton and to bring supplies and an occasional visitor.

During the War Aunt Vie's parents died and were buried on the old LaCroix home place which for many years before had been known as LaCroix's Ferry. When Peter LaCroix's estate was settled, Uncle Ben and Aunt Vie bought the old LaCroix home place. Uncle Ben and Aunt Vie later sold this place back to other members of the LaCroix family.

One of the problems associated with living on Black River at that time was that occasionally there would be a flood. The water would rise slowly and as it would start, the pigs would find a new variety of food because all sorts of creatures would be looking for a dry place to stay. The cows would stare in amazement as the water would come higher and higher. Fortunately, there were several Indian Mounds in the area on which the livestock took refuge. The barn was conveniently located so that hay could be tossed out onto the Indian Mound to feed the cattle.

Houses were built high above the ground and even the furniture had to be put on scaffolds inside the house to keep it out of the flood water. When the water was very high, the family would move out to the hills and stay until the flood waters went down. Sometimes the water was so high that the livestock had to be moved out to the hills, also. This was done by putting them on a flat boat and towing or polling them to higher ground. Court records tell of a particularly bad flood of the Black River area in 1850 where many of the houses were under water and all the livestock was taken to the hills. The water was so deep that the steamboats often could go right up to the part of the house that was still out of water and pick up those that had been determined to stick it out. Floods polluted the drinking water and cases of typhoid and cholera often occurred during or after a flood. During one flood, Aunt Vie had the farm mules shut up in the barn waiting for the water to get deep enough to boat them out to the hills. Aunt Vie wore her collar fastened with a beautiful pin, a scroll made of old English Gold. She went out in the lot to see about her mules and lost her pin among the mules. When the water went down, she found her pen in good condition. That pin was passed to Aunt Vie's sister, Judith LaCroix Kitterlin, then to her daughter Martha Kitterlin Paul, to her daughter Emmie Paul Anderson and on to Lucille Anderson Thompson and is still in Lucille's possession. It is considered a valuable family treasure and has been worn by seven generations of the family.

Aunt Vie's mother, Mary Willson LaCroix, had a brother John Wilson whose wife was Julia. Their oldest daughter Mary Jane Wilson was born about 1836 and married on 4/15/1852 to William Lucas. William and Mary Jane's oldest daughter Sarah Jane Lucas was born about 1854 and she started living with Aunt Vie and Uncle Ben in the late 1860's. On 9/21/1870, Sarah Jane married John White from Texas who had helped bring a load of livestock to Louisiana. Aunt Vie was the host of the wedding and she performed the task well. Since Uncle Ben had died 10 months earlier, Aunt Vie was in favor of this wedding for with that marriage she acquired a man in the house. John's business required him to be gone a lot and he was gone for relatively long periods of time. He was away when the first child, Lavica Rosana White was born on 12/14/1871. He apparently died about 1879 when the third child was born.

In 1867 a black girl on the place gave birth to a mulatto baby, and the mother died. The white father had no interest in the child, and Aunt Vie and Uncle Ben took her to rear. She went by the name of Sarah "Sallie" LaCroix. She grew up in Aunt Vie's house and was a constant companion to her. She was mentioned in Aunt Vie's will, but she was not mentioned in the codicil of 1884. She either died between 1880 and 1884 or met with disfavor from Aunt Vie. No trace of Sallie has been found since the 1880 census.

Uncle Ben died November 19, 1869, and he was buried in the local cemetery on Bayou Kincaid which was about three miles East of the McClure home. His grave has since been plowed over, but his broken headstone is leaning against a large tree on the riverbank. Aunt Vie received one half of the community property in the estate settlement.

About three miles eastward on the River Joseph W. Walker had bought a place that was known as Egypt Plantation. Mr. Walker and his wife spent part of the time on the plantation and part of the time in New Orleans. Mr. and Mrs. Walker had no children. About 1872 Mrs. Walker died and shortly thereafter Joseph W. asked Aunt Vie to marry him. She accepted and their wedding was held in New Orleans. Uncle Joe and Aunt Vie continued to live part of the time in New Orleans and part of the time at Egypt Plantation. The house at Egypt was a two story house built up off the ground. One large room on the right of the house (facing it) was used to entertain guests. Another large room across the hall on the ground floor was a bedroom. There were two smaller rooms on the back. One of the small rooms served as a sewing room, as well as a spare bedroom. This room sported two sewing machines, one Howe and one Wilcox and Gibbs. Two small bedrooms were upstairs. The kitchen was out in the back of the house detached from it. The other small room on the ground floor was the dining room where the hot food could be brought in from the kitchen.

Uncle Joe's brother T. J. Walker and T. J.'s wife Martha died and Uncle Joe was left with the responsibility of rearing his young nieces and nephew. The children were Mary V. Walker who later married James S. Trisler, James B. Walker, and Ada Isabella Walker who later married a Pease. Aunt Vie set about caring for them with the same zest she had for rearing the McClure children who were by this time adults. Courthouse records indicate that Aunt Vie kept in touch with all of the LaCroix family, the McClure family, the Willson family and the Walker family the rest of her life.

At Egypt Plantation visitors were frequent. Aunt Vie's brothers and sisters, nieces and nephews, and cousins on all sides frequently came to see Aunt Vie and Uncle Joe, and they were gracious hosts to them. Egypt Plantation House was the largest and nicest in the entire LaCroix family and it was frequently used for weddings of nieces and nephews and cousins. Egypt had its own steamboat landing and gin. A very large barn was at Egypt and stood for many years after Aunt Vie's death.

While the rest of the family did not know Uncle Joe as well as they had Uncle Ben, they nevertheless enjoyed visiting him both at Egypt and at New Orleans. We have no description of the house in New Orleans, but to use six city lots, it is assumed that it was of ample size. It was located near what is now know as the Garden District. A truck parking lot has been on the property for a number of years. The property there consisted of 6 lots, being about 1/4th of a city block. The block was bounded by David, Conti, Soloman and Bienville Streets and the lots faced on Bienville and Soloman Streets.

About 1878 Uncle Joe died leaving Aunt Vie a childless widow for the second time. Uncle Joe was buried in the Kincaid Cemetery, but Aunt Vie had wanted him buried at Greenwood Cemetery in New Orleans. In her will she requested that he be moved to Greenwood Cemetery. Later in her codicil she does not mention that point, and had either taken care of it herself or had become reconciled to having his body there on Kincaid. Greenwood Personnel searched through several years of burials for J. W. Walker, but did not locate it. Their records are kept chronologically by burials and thus if it were 6 or 7 years after he died that his body was moved they would not have located the burial record. Uncle Joe left Aunt Vie the Egypt Plantation and the New Orleans property.

Aunt Vie and the Walker family stayed very close in family ties. James B. Walker stayed on at Egypt and helped with the operation of the plantation. Two of Aunt Vie's cousins, William F. Miller and James Ellis Miller also worked at Egypt for Aunt Vie.

One of Aunt Vie's cousins, Lavisa Jane Gallup, lived with her for awhile. She told about Aunt Vie's large herds of cattle and hogs and about her slaughtering, pickling and preserving barrels of meat and other supplies for the winter. Lavisa also remembered Aunt Vie kept a pack of Catahoula Cur dogs on a chain to use on the plantation as guard dogs when needed. One night Aunt Vie heard a noise at the smoke house and turned the dogs loose. She was not quick enough for them to catch the thief, but next morning one of her sharecroppers failed to show up for work. She paid a visit to the worker's house and told him the next time he wanted meat to come ask for it. She stated that she always had plenty of food to give her workers; so, she didn't want her smoke house torn down. She said the next time that happened she would not call her dogs back from pursuing the thief. The smoke house was never broken into again.

Sarah Jane Lucas White and her children continued to live with Aunt Vie. The oldest child, Lavica Rosana White was born 12/14/1871 and in Aunt Vie's will was left the largest share of Aunt Vie's property. At 16 years of age, she crossed the river to go to a dance, and returned that night. She caught pneumonia from the open boat ride and died 2/29/1888. Her mother later received what was left to Rosana in the will. Rosana Lavica White was buried in the cemetery in the school yard at Monterey. This cemetery was destroyed and most of the stones pushed into the river. Rosana's stone was taken to Hedges and placed in the family cemetery there. Rosana had long flowing blonde hair and blue eyes.

No wonder Egypt House needed to be big. With Sallie LaCroix, Sarah Jane Lucas White and her children, and members of the Walker family there, it must have been crowded enough.

In 1884 Sarah Jane Lucas White married Joseph Lemoine. This was another Egypt wedding. Sarah Jane and Mr. Lemoine moved across the river to the Monterey school area.

Aunt Vie died in her sleep May 2, 1890 and was buried on the mound at the Kincaid Cemetery. The grave had a cast iron fence around it with a heart shaped gate. A large tree grew up and around part of the fence. It is all lost now.

At Aunt Vie's death Egypt Plantation became the property of Sarah Jane Lucas White Lemoine. After she died in 1895 the property changed hands several times and the Isaac Clark family purchased it. Sometime prior to or in the early days of the Clark family there the house was remodeled and became a one story house. Many other LaCroix descendants have lived in the area around Egypt Plantation since Aunt Vie. Stephen Yeiser LaCroix and his family lived at Parhams for many years. Parhams was very near the old Egypt Plantation House.

MARY ESTELLE LACROIX MCCOLLUM

This section is dedicated to Mrs. Mamie McCollum Faircloth, Mrs. Bertie McCollum Leggett, Jerome Fred Scott and Wm. E. Lanehart who have worked very hard on this family history project.

G. Mary Estelle LaCroix (5/3/1837-1/17/1885)[197] married c1856 James Dickson McCollum (3/3/1831-10/16/1909).[197] James D. McCollum lived in Georgia, Catahoula Parish, Caldwell Parish, St. Landry Parish, and in what is now Grant Parish near the old Peter LaCroix home place. His pension application states that he was born in Houston County, South Carolina in 1831. James D. McCollum worked in the lumber industry, at rafting, and farming. He was employed by Davis Kitterlin in the operation of the steamboat Will Davis. He served in the Confederate Army in Co. D, 3rd LA Cav. He was paroled at Alexandria, LA, 6/26/1865. He applied for a pension but no pension was granted because the name appearing on the roll looked like I.D. McCollum and it was J. D. McCollum. He died before it was straightened out. He was sick with LaGrippe (influenza) and its after effects for about 18 months before he died. He and Will lived in a house about a mile from his son Robert's place. When James D. took ill, he was moved to Robert's place where he was nursed until he died. He is buried at the Thompson Ferry Cemetery. The children of Mary Estelle LaCroix and James D. McCollum follow.

1. Thomas Walter McCollum (10/5/1857-5/7/1929).[197] Tom did not marry and visited a lot. He worked for Davis Kitterlin on the steamboat Will Davis. He worked in logging camps sawing down trees and hauling them with oxen to the mill. In later life he worked at odd jobs around the community. Uncle Tom was well liked by his folks and his neighbors. After Davis Kitterlin died and Melissa moved away from the old place, Uncle Tom stayed there and farmed several years. He died there.

2. Alex P. McCollum (3/17/1858-6/19/1860)[197] is shown as Elic on the grave marker.

3. Robert Wilson McCollum (10/10/1862-9/20/1952)[75] married 11/15/1888 Melissa Clara LaCroix (10/31/1864-11/21/1965).[75] They were first cousins. Melissa holds the record for the longest life in the family. She died on the twenty first day after celebrating her 101st birthday. See page 434.

4. William Yeiser McCollum (5/30/1864-8/26/1938)[197] did not marry. He worked as a house carpenter much of his life and travelled where he could find work. He took care of Davis Kitterlin's horses for many years. He was able to spend most of his time right around the rest of the family, but often travelled as far as Harrisonburg to find work. He was working for Mr. Womack at Rhinehart when he took ill and died in Dr. Murrell's Clinic at Alexandria. See page 436.

5. Susan Ladora "Dora" McCollum (10/30/1866-3/6/1908)[197] married 8/2/1888 James Winn Scott (c1853-c1913).[197] See page 437.

6. Rhoda Jane McCollum (7/24/1869-12/27/1941) married 11/5/1890 Fred Paddock Lanehart (12/24/1864-1/10/1920). See page 443.

7. George McCollum (9/1/1873-11/26/1874)[197]

8. Ona Estella McCollum (also shown as Mary Estelle) (5/30/1874-5/22/1906)[96] married 9/15/1897 to Luten W. "Fred" Brady (6/2/1862-6/22/1924).[96] See page 447.

9. Charles McCollum (2/29/1876-10/30/1882)[197]

ROBERT WILSON MCCOLLUM

3. Robert Wilson McCollum (10/10/1862-9/20/1952)[75] married 11/15/1888 Melissa Clara LaCroix (10/31/1864-11/21/1965).[75] Robert was called "Bob" McCollum by most people. He farmed, worked in the lumber industry, and worked on the Will Davis. He was the top loader on the log loading team. See photo page 434. The top loader's job was to stand on top of the load of logs and as the next log was pulled up, the oxen would be stopped (hopefully) when the log was almost in place. The logs never went up straight, they always arrived at the top out of parallel with the logs that were already loaded. The top loader's job was to grab the log with a cant hook and straighten the log out and direct it just in the right place. This was a tricky job because the right place always was right where the top loader was standing. In the application of James D. McCollum for a Confederate pension, Dr. F. O. Maxwell made the statement that the only son that lived near James D. McCollum had broken one leg 3 times and the other leg twice and had broken one arm. OSHA would have had a field day around any of the old logging camps. Robert McCollum and Melissa Clara LaCroix were first cousins. Bob, Clara and Trudy joined Friendship Baptist Church at the same time and were baptized 8/1906 by Rev. Perry Lofton, the pastor. Their children follow.

WILLIAM YEISER MCCOLLUM

4. William Yeiser McCollum (5/30/1864-8/26/1936)[197] did not marry. He worked around the state as a house carpenter, and at other jobs. He usually found employment close to the other members of the family and at those times he stayed around with the other family members. The following story was told with different wording and different characters by several members of the family.

William McCollum would drink some and then make noise riding around the countryside on his horse. On one such night he was on his way home when a sudden heavy shower came up as he neared old Friendship Church. He headed his horse there intending to go in out of the rain. He tied his horse up under the overhang and as he started to walk up the steps toward the open door of the church, he noticed the tombstones revealed by the flashes of lightning. His mind took on a more somber tone as he looked in the open door of the supposedly deserted church house. He started wondering if there was any such thing as ghosts, and particularly wondered if there were any ghosts in the church house. Just in case there might be any in the house he let out a loud shout and yelled, "All you ghosts in there come out". Immediate commotion broke out with the sound of benches moving and things bumping into the wall and each other.

The sudden noise scared Will so badly that he ran in the soaking rain all the way to Zack Lovell's yelling, "Zack, come quick, the ghosts are tearing up the Church House".

It was then way past midnight and Zack got out of bed and quieted Will down enough to understand what he was saying. When the rain stopped Zack and Will went back over there to investigate. A bunch of goats had pushed the door open and were inside the church out of the rain. When Will had yelled, it had scared the goats into panic and their noisy confused running, jumping and bumping had in turn scared Will. His horse, however, was content to quietly stay under the stoop throughout it all, apparently happy to be out of the rain.

Despite these escapades, Will was a well liked person by his family and neighbors. In his last illness he was taken to Dr. Murrell's clinic in Alexandria where he died August 26, 1936. His funeral was held at Friendship Church and his was the last burial in the Thompson Ferry Cemetery.

Susan Ladora McCollum Scott and James Winn Scott

SUSAN LADORA "DORA" MCCOLLUM SCOTT

Jerome Fred Scott, Lois Claude Newman, Sandy Newman and others helped collect the data on this family.

5. Susan Ladora "Dora" McCollum (8/20/1866-3/6/1908)[197] married 8/2/1888 James Winburn Scott (1853-1913).[197] There is some differences of opinion as to what his middle name was. Mr. Fred Scott insisted his father's name was James Winburn. Mr. Claude Newman, Mamie McCollum Faircloth and Bertie McCollum Leggett thought it was James Winnfield Scott. This has not been resolved in some 10 years of searching as most of the courthouse records only give initials for what few records found on him. There is a suit in the Grant Parish Courthouse involving a James Winnfield Scott but the writer could find nothing to tie our man to that suit. James Winn Scott married (2nd) 9/2/1912 to Emma Thomas Newman Smith.

BRADY, SMITH & MORGAN

This Information was supplied by Mae Brown Robertson

Mary Ann Lucinda Smith was born 12/28/1838 and died 7/28/1908. She married (1st) in Hancock County, MS, to Luton W. Brady, Sr. who was born 6/2/1832 and died 1/21/1862. Mary Ann Lucinda Smith Brady married (2nd) to John Franklin Morgan who was born in the 1840's and died 8/21/1909. There was one son by Brady and 9 children by Morgan. Mr. Morgan had some children by his previous marriage.

1. Luton W. Brady, Jr. was born 3/1/1862, a month and ten days after his father died. He married four times and died 6/22/1924. Luton W. Brady, Jr. changed his name to Fred Brady. He married (1st) about 1882 to Abbie Christian, who was a sister to James Christian. Fred and Abbie had one child and they divorced.

a. Ida Brady (10/30/1884-1/20/1910)[157] married (1st) 3/25/1902 to Silas G. Thompson (12/26/1879-4/10/1908).[197] They had one child.
(1). Eddie Mae Thompson (11/27/1903-10/15/1908)[67]
Ida Brady Thompson married 12/27/1909 to John E. Clark (8/3/1872-1/25/1925).[157] Ida died less than five weeks after they married. Mrs. Bertie McCollum Leggett described the visit to see Ida the day she died. She was alert and seemed to be getting better. She commented that she really felt good if she could only breathe. It felt like a tight band around her chest. She died a short time later. Mr. Clark is also shown as John C. Clark.

Ida was reared mostly by her grandmother, Mary Ann Lucinda Smith Brady Morgan. When she was in her teens, she went to live with her father at the old Robert LaCroix place. She attended school with the LaCroix relatives, and is on every one of the school photos I have copied of the school around Friendship. She was liked very much by the members of the LaCroix family. Her first husband was Silas Thompson whose mother was Kate LaCroix Thompson. See page 469.

After Ida Brady was born, Fred Brady and Abbie Christian Brady divorced and Abbie married John Rufus Tullos. The Tullos children as obtained from the census follow.

a. Hattie Mae Tullos was born 11/1898., b. James Hugh Tullos was born 9/1896., c. Pearl Tullos, d. Myrtle Tullos, e. Carrie Lou Tullos
f. June Tullos

Fred Brady married (2nd) 3/5/1890 Frances E. LaCroix (9/24/1867-5/17/1896).[96] Frances E. LaCroix was a daughter of Robert LaCroix. See page 403.

b. Jennie Brady (12/21/1891-9/20/1970) married 11/7/1906 to John W. Collins (2/28/1881-1/29/1935). After Mr. Collins died, Jennie married Earl M. Burgin (11/15/1915-9/26/1986). For Jennie's children see page 403.

Fred Brady married (3rd) 9/15/1897 to Ona Estella McCollum (5/30/1874-5/22/1906). See page 447 for this family.

Fred Brady married (4th) 11/6/1912 to Nancy Lee Peck. Fred and Nancy Lee were known far and wide for the dances they gave. Reportedly, there was always plenty of moonshine whiskey available. The family stories tell of the whiskey being made on the place and if the supply became too plentiful a party was thrown to dispose of the merchandise. Whether this is true or not, I don't know, but there are several indictments, in the Grant Parish Courthouse, against Nancy Lee Brady for making or selling alcoholic beverages without a license.

David Collins and John W. Collins were sons of Eli N. Collins (10/27/1855-12/24/1938) and Ida Gertrude Holladay Collins (11/10/1862-6/7/1921). Their children are listed below, but the order of birth is not known.

Fred's mother, Mary Ann Lucinda Smith Brady Morgan and her second husband had 8 children, some of whom figure in the LaCroix family history. Mr. Morgan had children by his first marriage which follow:

2. Samuel Morgan, born about 1856 in MS, is shown on the 1870 Rapides census.

Fred Brady and his stepfather did not get along well, and he left home in his early teens. He owned a horse which he received from his father's estate and with that horse he started working out very early. He and John H. Lanier were near neighbors and became fast friends. John H. Lanier was a LaCroix descendant and married one of Fred's half-sisters.

MARIAH CATHERINE (KATE) LACROIX THOMPSON

Mariah Catherine "Kate" LaCroix (5/17/1841-6/2/1903) married on 3/12/1856 to Dr. Abraham Brierly Thompson (10/27/1831-c1908) who may have died as late as 1911. The 1850 census shows Dr. Thompson as a student in Jackson Parish, LA. The 1860 census of Catahoula Parish lists him and Mary living around White Sulphur Springs. Other data indicates that Dr. Thompson was a strong promoter of the healing powers of the White Sulphur Springs water. Many of his patients could cross the ferry and walk or ride two miles and be at the springs. Country doctors made house calls in the 1850's. One of the main things they excelled in was predicting the time the patient would die. With primitive medicines and techniques, death was more probable than recovery from a serious illness. The death rate of women having babies was very high. With what little he had, Dr. Thompson did the best he could. He had a lot of his LaCroix kin named for him. He was a well liked and a prominent doctor. When the Civil War came, Dr. Thompson moved his family to Illinois and spent the war years there. He returned to the old Peter LaCroix place by 1870 and lived on or near that the rest of his life. Dr. Thompson was greatly liked by the family, the neighbors and most of those who knew him. He was not a good business man, and what money he had was invested in civic projects, like promoting the curative powers of the springs. About 1880 he became insolvent and under pressure from his creditors put what little property he had in his wife's name. About 1882 Dr. Thompson became the last LaCroix family member to operate the LaCroix ferry. He was the operator and caretaker of it for about 24 years. His tenure at that post was so long that it became known as Thompson's Ferry by which name that area is known today.

Aunt Kate was very industrious. There was a steamboat landing near the ferry landing. This was the same landing that Peter LaCroix used to stack wood for the steamboats. There were enough steamboats to conduct a business by selling farm produce. During fresh vegetable and fruit season she would have a supply of those for sale. She kept a supply of eggs, milk and cream to sell the boat crews. She kept having trouble with her own children and the neighbors taking a drink of her cream. She solved this problem by getting a chamber pot to keep the cream in. They just couldn't get past the psychological block of drinking out of a chamber pot. When her customers would come, she would run and pour the cream into jars and they didn't see the chamber pot.

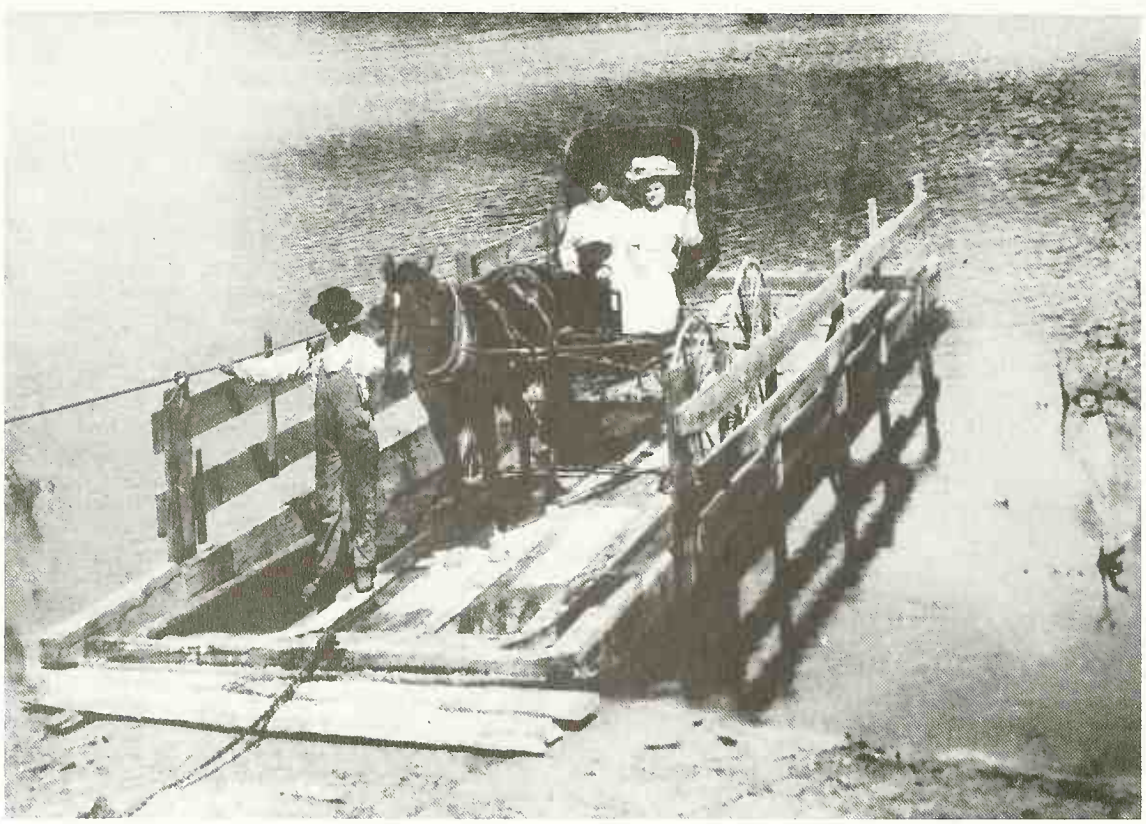
In 1889 Dr. Thompson moved onto the SE4 of Sec. 22 of T7N of R1E and started the homestead procedures. He built a 16 foot by 18 foot dwelling, a smokehouse and a kitchen. He put about 8 acres under cultivation. He operated the ferry and also started the improvements on the land necessary to homestead it. His house burned on the homestead and he had to rebuild it. This fire may account for so few photographs in possession of the descendants of Dr. Thompson. Most of the photos of the family came from the descendants of Kate's brothers and sisters.

Aunt Kate died June 2, 1903, and Dr. Thompson stayed on his homestead alone. He would still respond to calls for his medical assistance. He sold his interest in the ferry to Arch Whatley in 1904. Mrs. Vivian Thompson Longkable described Dr. Thompson's death. She and her brothers and sisters were at his home to see him and they asked him to let them ride his pony. He saddled up the pony and they rode around awhile. A short time after they finished riding the pony Dr. Thompson had a heart attack and died. We do not have a death date for Dr. Thompson, but he was living in 1906 and has not been located on the 1910 census. Mrs. Longkable thought he may have died as late as 1911 but was not sure.



The Thompson Ferry in 1909 is shown with Waddy Marshall, the operator. Miss Etta Terral, a teacher, and Ed Whatley are shown in the Buggy.

Waddy Marshall, who was also called Boney because of his tall lanky stature, ran the ferry and Hanse Newman worked for him. They lived in the old house near the ferry. In June 1909, both Waddy Marshall and Hanse Newman went to a dance at Irving Wainwright's at Manistee which was near the ferry. The Chronicle account of what happened that night follows.

> Irving Wainwright was killed at Manistee, near Pollock, last Friday night, June 4th by Watty Marshall. The killing occurred at a dance, and was witnessed by several persons, but Marshall succeeded in making his escape and is still at large. From accounts reaching us the killing was altogether unprovoked and brutal. Both men were drinking, and got into a quarrel over some trivial matter, when Marshall suddenly jerked out his pistol and shot Wainwright in the breast. As he fell, Wainwright got his pistol and emptied it at Marshall without effect. Marshall is said to have then stepped back a few feet and fired the balance of his cartridges into the prostrate form of his victim. He then struck Wainwright over the head several times with his pistol, and effected his escape before he could be intercepted.
> Sheriff Perkins was notified of the killing before daylight Saturday morning, and Deputy Compton immediately left for the scene of the homicide. The deputy returned later Sunday evening without having located the whereabouts of Marshall.
>
> Marshall has been engaged as ferryman at Thompson's Ferry for two or three years, and is well known in Eastern Grant and in Catahoula parish. His victim is the son of the late G. W. Wainwright, of Pollock, and has a large circle of relatives and acquaintances in this parish. We understand that the relatives of the dead man have offered a reward of $100 for the slayer.

Hanse and Waddy were said to have left together and after they got back home, Waddy left that area for parts unknown and Hanse never saw him again. Old timers don't recall if he was ever apprehended.

PETER GIP THOMPSON

"Mattie" LaCroix (8/6/1867-9/27/1955).[67] Gip Thompson started very early working with other members of the family cutting logs and rafting them to New Orleans. He made many trips before he was 18 years of age. I have copied many tin type photos of him made in New Orleans while on one of these trips. He was a contemporary of Davis Kitterlin, and they often coordinated their trips.

In 1896 Peter Gip Thompson made his homestead entry for the SE4 of Se4 of S15 T7N R1E where his house was located, and also applied for E2 of NE4 of S22 T7N R1E. He completed the homestead requirements, built a house and corn crib and filed his final homestead papers in 1903.

MAMIE ELLA THOMPSON BARNETT

4. Mamie Ella "Mae" Thompson (2/12/1869-11/19/1898)[197] married 7/16/1889 J. T. Barnett. This family has been difficult to trace. J. T. Barnett has not been located on the census. He apparently left Louisiana and went to Texas prior to the 1900 census, and was not located on the 1900 census of either Louisiana or Texas. The older members of the family remembered people talking about Doug Barnett. We have assumed that this was a son of Mae Thompson Barnett but it may have been a stepson. In February 1906 when Aunt Kate Thompson's heirs sold timber off the old Peter LaCroix place the tutor of the Barnett children was a Mrs. Eula Barnett of Talpa County, Texas. In Dec. 1906 she and the children lived in Runnells County, Texas. They were still in Runnells County, Texas in the 1910 census. Mae had played under an apple tree in the side yard of the old house at Thompson's Ferry when she was a child and as an adult she recalled those pleasant times. When she was on her death bed, she requested to be buried underneath that apple tree. Her wish was granted, and her grave is about a block from the Thompson Ferry Cemetery. There is a head and foot stone. The apple tree has long since been gone, but an oak has grown up to replace it and has pushed the head marker over. We do not know what malady caused Mae's death. It is assumed that J. T. Barnett died prior to 1906. It could not be determined from the census whether Eula Barnett who was tutor for the children was J. T.'s mother or whether he had married again and she was his widow. The listing of children follow to the best data located.

a. Doug Barnett, a possible son, was born c1890 or earlier and may have died prior to 1906.
b. Fuller Ernest Barnett was born c1891.
c. Cora E. Barnett was born c1893.
d. Mattie Barnett was born c1895.

Efforts to locate these descendants have failed. A trip to Runnells County has not been made.

LaCroix and Sarah Ketchum, first wife of Jeff Davis Kitterlin. Fuller Thompson was killed in a gun fight after a night of drinking and arguing. There had been an attempt on his live a year earlier that had killed a Mr. Nugent, but spared Fuller. Stephen and Octavia's only daughter, Hazel, died young. When Octavia Ketchum Thompson became so ill that she could not take care of her four sons, she put the children in the Baptist Orphanage in Jackson, MS. She visited the boys and the last time she was there, she told them that she would soon come and take them away. She soon died. She had what was called "yellow jaundice", but now would be called hepatitis. She was buried in the pauper section of a cemetery near Waterproof, LA, right on the riverbank. One of the floods in the 1920's or 30's inundated that area and washed her grave into the river.

SILAS LAVEL "PETE" THOMPSON

c. Silas Lavel "Pete" Thompson (6/5/1905-4/1/1970)[139] married 9/26/1923 Ada Russell (4/3/1902-11/4/1984).[139] The following story was written by Virginia O'Neal Thompson Owens of her father Lavel Thompson.

My father's full name was Silas Lavel Thompson and his family nickname was "Pete". He was married to Ada Russell. About 1951 when he started travelling for the Griffith Lab out of Chicago his customers called him "Si".

As a young man my dad had a desire to know more of the world than just what was in Liddyville, LA. As he picked cotton in the fields he dreamed as many young men do. My dad's dream was to be a drummer (a salesman) and drive a Tin Lizzie (a Ford Car). He left home and worked in a logging camp for awhile and also followed the rodeo riding wild horses and bulls. He like to watch it on TV at times.

My mother's father was killed shortly after they were married, and the land was taken from my grandmother. Some said the land was his and others said it was not, but mother never knew the details. Shortly after that (late 1920's or early 1930's) Dad and Mother moved to New Orleans. My sister, Flora Lavel Thompson, was born there as was I, Virginia O'Neal Thompson. My brother William Bain Thompson was born in Winnsboro or Liddyville and named for my grandfather William Bain Russell.

Three years before my sister died Uncle Roy and Aunt Phoebe came to New Orleans and Burta was born there. Aunt Lillian was there and married Uncle Pascal Lala. Burl was also there. They all shared a large house at one time. I am not sure if any of the wives worked or not. I know my mother did not. Daddy got a job working in a meat packing company ten hours a day and some days longer. For this his salary was $18.00 per week.

My dad was a Christian and did some evangelist work in the French quarter. He sang mostly Christian songs in a quartet. When my sister, Flo, died I think a small part of my dad died, too. It hurt the family very much and affected my brother the rest of his life as it did my mother.

I understand that Flo was very bright and a pretty child and wise beyond her three years. This was probably due to everyone around her being adults. My brother Bain was about three years old when she was born and about six or seven when she died. He was eight and a half when I was born. Although my dad never lost his faith in God, he never worked as hard in the Church after my sister's death. Flo died in Charity Hospital in New Orleans and they took the body back to bury in Ogden Cemetery. On her tomb is inscribed, "Budded on earth to bloom in heaven."

Dad left New Orleans and went to Gary, IN, and we followed a few months later. Daddy was staying in a man's hotel at the time and we also stayed there for about two and a half months. In order for us to stay there with him my mother helped make beds and did light cleaning. I was dressed each morning and I sat on the couch in the lobby with an old man who lived there with his dog. He would take me for short walks along with his dog. My dad got a job working for Armour and Co. in Grand Rapids, MI, and we moved. We were there about five years. About 1941 we moved to Cleveland, OH, where Dad was transferred by Armour and Co.

We went back to LA for a visit the summer of 1939 just before the outbreak of World War II. That was the first time I remember seeing my grandma and grandpa Thompson. They were taking care (tenant farmers) of a Doctor's place out from Winnsboro. Paul Thompson was living at home. My Aunt myrtle thought since I was born and reared in the city, I should know about country ways. My grandmother (a wise lady) milked the cows and put my milk in a bottle in the ice box. My aunt showed me where real milk came from and I have not liked milk much since that time.

We went back again in 1941 before the war started. I have a picture beside a 1941 Dodge car. We were not able to go back to visit the family until after the War in 1946. My mother's nephew, Harl Swift aged 18, and Nettie Russell Savaigo lived with us at this time. Aunt Nettie was separated from her husband and lived with us for about 8 years. During the war my dad quit his job at Armour and Co. to do his share for the cause and went to work in a war plant that made parts for airplanes. We never had a lot, but we never went without what we needed either.

My brother, like many young men of the 40's went to war and came home for awhile. He was stationed in New Orleans before his discharge from the Navy. This was when he met and married Elsie Russell.

In the summer of 1948 my dad had his dream come true when he was offered a job travelling and selling spice to packing houses or meat processing plants as they are known today. He had a travelling job and he had his "Tin Lizzie". Dad travelled from Miami, FL, to northern Virginia and parts of Tennessee and Kentucky. He was only home every other week end. This was before air conditioned cars, freeways and four lane roads. He loved it, was very good at his job and was well liked by those who knew him. We were to move to Jacksonville, FL, the summer of 1948. My mother had her very first plane ride and had picked out a house for us. The company changed their mind and instead we went to Columbia, SC.

My father was a gentle man and a gentleman. He never raised his voice or used bad words. He loved my mother and through the years gave me a deep respect for love and marriage and what to do. My dad always said that when you said things in anger with your tongue these words could not be taken back and you should think before you said things that would hurt someone. He would tell me when I was very young to only say nice things about people. That was really hard to understand as a young person, but as I got older I could hear myself saying the same thing to my own children.

My cousin had married and had started a family, but my aunt still lived with us and also moved to South Carolina. I went to school in South Carolina. My brother married and came from New Orleans to South Carolina and moved in with us. My aunt was killed in December of 1948 when we were in Louisiana for the holidays. Mother and Dad went back to South Carolina to bring her body back to Ogden cemetery to be buried.

There was only a very short time in my life that there was not a member of the family living with us and that was when I was about 14 years old. It seems as if Dad was always taking someone in to live with us, or to help them out in one way or another. Uncle Burl came to visit us in Columbia, SC, about 1950 and stayed with us for about six weeks. At that time he had TB and was waiting to get in the veterans hospital in Oteen, NC, for treatment.

It was not until I married in 1952 that Mother and Dad had time to themselves and mother could travel with Dad or come and visit us in Washington, D.C.

My dad loved to play golf and play a little cards, sometimes for money, and I think they called it the nineteenth hole.

ISAAC FRAZIER, JR.

Isaac Frazier, Jr. (c1788-a1850) married c1810 to Barbara LaCroix (3/2/1793-c1820). There were two children born to Isaac and Barbara.

A. James Louis Frazier (c1812-a1880) married Elizabeth Whatley (c1816-a1880). It is not known when they died or where they were buried. See page 547.

B. John Michael Frazier (10/23/1813-4/5/1898) married 7/11/1842 to Amarintha Elizabeth Gibson (1/28/1825-8/12/1906). See page 478.

In the early 1870's James Louis Frazier and John Michael Frazier made a statement that they were the only heirs that lived of Isaac Frazier, Jr. Until the writer located that statement, he thought Isaac had remarried and had another group of children. I do not know the relationship of the woman and children shown with Isaac in the 1850 census. This book contains what information I have been able to obtain on the Frazier descendants who are also LaCroix descendants. Possibly later information will be located that will clear up some of the many questions on the rest of the Frazier family.

Florence Ketchum lived at Thompson's Ferry near Pollock, LA. Florence was given a book of Poems on her 16th birthday, 11/12/1890. In May of the next year, she wrote in the back of the book these names; C. C. Cristal, Walter Cristal, Dan White, Louis ___, Will ___, Charley Walker, Mollie Parish, Cricket Bell, Will Pollock, Francis Louis, Emma Price, Mary Wainwright, Florence Ketchum, Jennie Hamilton, with the comment- "went to the river swamp for May haws, May 1891.

George W. Haygood (c1828-p1900 married c1850 to Sarah Jane Rayford (3/5/1833-1/15/1918). This couple lived at Thompson's Ferry near Pollock. They moved to Catahoula Parish and bought 500 acres of land on Wallace Ridge and they moved to Trinity and ran a jewelry store. When George died, Sara realized she would have a hard time paying for the acreage, so she wrote Theodore Jackson Ketchum, telling him that he would have to come and run the place to help pay for it. He was a raftsman. He cut timber and floated the logs to New Orleans. While there, he bought supplies and bolts of cloth and other goods and brought them back to Trinity by steamboat. On one occasion he brought back barrels of syrup. He also brought back a gallon bucket of something. When it was opened, it was discovered that this syrup was maple syrup and very different from the cane syrup so common in that region. We have found traces of four children.

Michael Jefferson Frazier married (2nd) 3/20/1875 Susan Belgard and he married (3rd) 2/26/1885 Mrs. Ruth Whatley Wiggins. There were three children of the first marriage, three by the second and none by the last. As Ruth and Jeff aged and were no longer able to care for each other, she moved about among her children and Jeff stayed with his kinfolks around Rogers. Michael Jefferson applied for a Confederate pension stating that he went blind from unloading a boat load of corn in 1864 and the dust caused an infection which did not clear up. Ruth applied for and received a pension on the service of her former husband, Daniel Wiggins.

A family story relates that a group of the folks took Uncle Jeff coon hunting. Since he was blind, they told him to stay still, and they went on following the dogs. Uncle Jeff got to moving around and fell off the bluff. In the meantime the dogs had circled back around and when Uncle Jeff fell, the dogs thought the coon had jumped out of the tree and the dogs jumped on him. Swinging his cane, Uncle Jeff said, "Get out of here sir, if you bite me, I'll pull your teeth out." The rest of the party arrived and called the dogs off.

ETTA A. FRAZIER BALLARD

The following story was written by Etta Frazier Ballard and supplied to us by her daughter Allene Ballard Cope. Some editing has been done. Family information was received from Allene Ballard Cope and Roseleen Beatrice Ballard Metts.

The first thing I remember was when I was three years old we went to Cleburne (TX) in a covered wagon. Mother and some of us younger kids went but dad didn't go. I think Ed Drove the wagon and some of the Robertsons went. We had kinfolks there. Aunt Alice and Uncle Jim lived there. I remember walking across the Trinity River Bridge. The men and wagons went on the ferry but the women and kids walked across. Of course there were cracks in that thing and I can remember as good being sure I didn't step on one of the cracks. That night a man came and told us there was a mad dog in that community. We were camped close to a creek, but I don't have any idea which one. The man said it would be wise for someone to set up and watch the mules or horses. I guess someone stayed up, but I don't remember that part.

Then I remember when we were at Aunt Alice's we were out in the garden when a train went right close by. We hardly ever saw a train. I was carried away with that train. I don't remember anything about us going home or anything about us being there except the train.

I don't know how old I was before I remembered anything else. I think when I was about five I tried to follow dad and the older kids to pick cotton one morning and he gave me a spanking. They picked way off down in the bottom and dad would come home and get their dinner and carry it about dinner time every day but he thought I was too little to go to the cotton patch.

Then I guess about the next event was when Ed cut his big toe off chopping wood. I don't remember nothing about them carrying him to the doctor, but I know they did. Then when he got fully grown he went back to LA. Then when Jim got grown he went up about Haskell or Knox City. Both of them married where they were visiting. It was a few years before we saw their wives. Ed's wife was Annie and Jim's was Birdie. Jim moved back to Henderson County and lived several years and then moved back to the plains.

There was a negro man that came by the house regularly going to Athens to get supplies. He had a store up at what we called the "Big Rock" a little ways up from our house. He would stop by and come in and warm in the winter time. When he stopped by dad would give him sweet potatoes or collards out of the garden. If dad was killing hogs he would give him some of the ribs and liver. I remember when I was very small sitting on his lap and he would give me candy. He would go in a wagon to Athens to get supplies. Supplies came into Athens on the railroad and everyone around went there to pick them up.

I started school when I was seven. We went to the same school, but the first year I went to a school house that was on dad's land there close to that old spring. That was the summer school. They would have summer school about two months then start about November in the Fall. I went to Cottonwood the rest of my school time. It was one room and the boys had to sit on one side and the girls on the other. There was a row of benches in the middle, but I don't know about them. I reckon if there was more than could sit on the sides then they let them sit in the middle. When the teacher gave someone a whipping they would do it right there in front of the whole business. They didn't have any office to go to. I didn't ever have too many school teachers. I had one lady teacher that I think taught the summer school that I went to for two months. The next teacher was Heil Justice, the next one was Robert Davis who taught the rest of the time that I went to school. He has been dead several years but he stayed in a rest home quite awhile before he died. The girls and boys played some kind of ball. It was not football or baseball but an old ball you knock with a bat. We usually had a rubber ball and sometimes the boys would knock it clean down into the creek. We didn't have too big a play ground, but the girls and boys all played together. It seems like we had more snow in the winter then, than we do now. We lived about a half mile from school and always walked. Nothing was thought about us walking through the snow or rain but sometimes the creek would get up and the ones who lived on the other side of the creek would stay with some of us that didn't have to cross the creek. I don't have any idea how many kids there were, but I imagine more than fifty and probably sixty or seventy. They would be in one room at school. After we moved away from there they built a school over between dad's and Eustace. I think it had three or four rooms to it.

I can't remember Cora marrying, but I remember going to their house when I was pretty small. I remember when Lela and Belle got married. Couples usually married at the girl's parents house. They would bake lots of cakes to eat after the wedding and would have coffee and tea.

Dad never did anything but farm. He always plowed with a walking plow or cultivator. I never did see Dad's people. Some of his brothers and a sister came to visit with them after I had moved away from there. I think Uncle John and maybe Steve stayed about a year. Aunt Liza came but she and Uncle John were nearly blind. The Fraziers were known for bad eyes. I can remember when Grandpa and Grandma Frazier both died and dad went to LA but none of the rest of the family went. They were old when I was big enough to remember and I don't guess they ever did come to Texas but I don't know.

I don't remember when I first knew Chester because I can remember when Grandpa Ballard died and there being a bunch of children at the house. I don't remember daddy (Chester) from any of the other (Ballard) kids. They lived in that community for several years and then they moved to VanZant County. They then moved back between our house and the Macedonia Community. I don't remember anything about seeing daddy, but I guess I did all along until he went to going with me which was in 1911. We would go to ice cream suppers and to parties. We just had regular parties. We wouldn't have any dancing. It would be just games like Snap or Fruit Basket Turned Over. You would have to move and there wouldn't be enough chairs for everyone. In the summer we had what we called Literary Society. Every other Saturday night we would meet at the school and someone would have a play that they had learned out of a book and some would say speeches and others would sing a little. Harper, Grover and I caught the measles at an ice cream party. There was a boy at the ice cream party named Marvin had them and he did a good job of spreading them around. We were the only three kids at home and mother and did hadn't had them and they didn't know a thing about treating them. Everyone that came along had a different home remedy. Dad rushed off to Eustace and got ice and lemons and made lemonade and ice cream and I don't like lemonade to this day because I had such a bad taste in my mouth. The measles didn't hurt Harper and Grover and really didn't hurt me much. Harper and Grover weren't sick enough to be still and just cut up and fought and everything. We were in the fireplace room and there were two beds in there. They were on one and I was on the other. I remember drawing a bucket of water before I was hardly able to and the measles popped out all over me again. They were terribly concerned about me having a relapse but I don't remember having any doctor to come and see us or anything. When dad and mother took the measles they were old and had a pretty hard time. Cora came and stayed with us. She had them several years before then.

My dad was a Methodist and mother was too. There wasn't a Methodist Church there at Cottonwood, it was at the Campground about five or six miles through the sand hills. I think about once a month the Baptists would come and they had preaching there in the school house. We had Sunday School all the time. Dad was usually the Sunday School Superintendent and there wouldn't be too many come. There were a few that wanted to keep it going and would come. Chester Ballard and Etta Frazier were married 12/21/1913 at Eustace, TX, by J. D. Potter, Justice of the Peace. We lived on Mr. Tucks Place in a small house and farmed around thirty acres of land. We grew corn and some cotton but the cotton grew well and looked good but the boll weevils ruin it. We didn't make but 3 or 4 bales. Chester decided to come to Coleman. Jim Tuck lived here and told Chester he could find work here. Chester came the last of August and found a job working on a farm, but couldn't get the house until October. I came on a train and got here October the first. Dad got big wooden boxes and we shipped a feather bed and two pillows and several quilts and all other things such as dishes, pots and pans. I had one suitcase that had clothes in it that I brought on the train with me. Chester came to the train for me in a wagon which was the only way we had to go.

Mr. Wells had a pig farm that I think was one half section of land. His land started at Needham Street. There was real tall red topped cane growing all around here and a lot of the land had tall Johnson grass growing that was being baled. Mr. Wells had T.B. and wasn't able to work. They had two children, a little boy

Courtney, who was six years old and a little girl. Courtney used to love to come to our house. Our house was on 5th Ave and the Wells house was the Old House where the Meads lived. I had typhoid fever in 1915 after the baby was born -the one that died. They cut my hair off. Daddy shaped it up like a boys hair. Of course he cut hair anyway. I don't remember how long I was sick, but it was a good while.

There was a good cotton crop raised in 1914. Some would bring cotton to Coleman gin and would go up 5th Ave. with 4 or 6 head of mules or horses pulling wagons through the mud. There wasn't any good roads. We lived here in Coleman until April 1915 and then moved a half mile north of Fisk. We moved in with Mr. Jim Smith who was renting a farm from Mr. Forman Simmons who was not able to farm. Mr. Smith paid thirty dollars per month. We stayed on there the rest of 1914 and then moved to Mr. Will Taylor's (near Fisk). Chester worked by the month in 1916. Roseleen was born in 1916. We lived in a one room house at Taylors. In 1917 Chester farmed for himself. He rented land from Mr. Taylor and made a good crop of 27 bales of cotton. He still worked for Mr. Taylor when he wasn't working his crop. We got moved down in the house where the Taylors had lived for they had built a new house in the Fall of 1916.

In January 1917 the Taylors, Roseleen and I went to East TX, to Italy in Ellis County. It took two days to get there. After supper Mr. Taylor and his brother took me to Frost to spend the night. I got on the train at 7 or 8 the next morning and went to Athens. We were to spend a week, but Mattie Lee took Pneumonia so we stayed two weeks. Mr. Taylor called me on the phone to keep me informed. Chester stayed home and tended to all our things and the Taylors, too. It was real dry in 1918 and we didn't raise anything. Chester planted maize, but it didn't come up, it was so dry. The Taylors went to Ellis County to his people and stayed all summer and fall. Chester hauled stock water for all Mr. Taylors stock. He had 6 or 7 barrels in the iron wheeled wagon and he had to get a load of water almost every day from a big water hole a little east of Valera. Courtney was born 8/18/1918. We rented the place north of Fisk from Mr. Simmons. Chester wanted more land than Mr. Taylor had for him. Mrs. Taylor had her breast removed in 1917. She died in 1925. Flu broke out over the community. Mr. Walter McKee was real bad with it. They lived down there in Fisk. Daddy (Chester) went and set up on Sat. night with her and mom. Daddy took the flu and he had it real bad. He nearly had pneumonia. I was sick, but I didn't give up. None of our kids had the flu. I didn't go to bed, but I never did have my back to hurt so bad and I just felt real bad. Mr. Jim Moore came and stayed with us while daddy was so bad. Dr. Mitchell had to come on horse back, but he come into all the community seeing everyone he could. Mrs. Walter McKee died. Mr. Jim Moore came and stayed with us while daddy was so bad. I remember he told Chester that if he was going to pay the bill it would be so much, but if the masons were going to pay it, it would be a lot more. The Masons did not pay it. I think it was about 10 days he stayed. Daddy was just real sick.

We had two real bad sand storms in January 1919. The dust or dirt was so thick it was nearly dark. The first one lasted nearly all day and all night. The last sand storm didn't last so long. It started raining in March and we had lots of rain that year. We made a good crop.

The first of January 1920 we moved on Mr. Simmons place back by Hill. We had more and better land there. Mary was born 7/3/1829. We had plenty of rain and raised a good crop. We didn't get through pulling cotton until March in 1921. We sold several bales for five cents per pound which was just enough to pay for the picking. Grandma Hutcherson and Veola visited us in 1920. Mr. Gunter died in 1915 or 1916.

In 1921 Roseleen, Courtney, Mary and I went back to East Texas on a train. we stayed a week and my brother, Grover, came home with us.

In 1922 we moved to Fisk and bought the blacksmith shop there. On May 8, 1922 Jim was born. That fall we went to East Texas in a model T. Ford car. Arthur Tyler (Bell's husband) and Lester Ballard came home with us. It took nearly two days to come home. Most of the time it was raining and the roads were muddy. In a few days Arthur and Lester went somewhere close to Ballinger to pick cotton awhile before going home.

In 1924 we moved to the Jackson place and started farming again. We kept the blacksmith shop. We got anyone we could to do the farming. Dewey and Ernest Snider, Willy Lawrence and Skinny McClure were among some we had to farm for us. We had a negro man one year.

Melba was born 5/27/1924. Allene was born 4/30/1926. We didn't have much land on the Jackson Place and it wasn't very good. Billy was born 2/28/1928. When he was two he drank a little kerosene and was the only one of the children that ever had spasms. He had two. On 11/8/1929 Aleta was born.

The depression in 1930 didn't hurt us like it did some people. I don't remember us ever having to eat cornbread for breakfast, although we did eat it for the other meals. I seldom ever cooked biscuits other than for breakfast. Flour was real scarce. I don't remember it being hard to get clothes. We would buy cloth and make all you girls dresses. When the boys were little I would make what you call rompers and when they got a little bigger they wore overalls that usually were striped. We never had an abundance of clothes, but I don't remember us going short of any. We raised our own garden and we raised our own hogs. I think we just bought beef from Luke Eden. He lived at Gouldbusk and he killed a calf about once a week and peddled it around up through the Fisk community and between Fisk and there. We just had a refrigerator and bought a cake of ice and put in the top of it. Part of that time someone would come around ever two or three days selling ice. It was very cheap. I don't know how they made a living at it. He had a hack pulled with horses and had ice in back covered with a wagon sheet. He had his regular route of customers he went to. When daddy went to working at the blacksmith shop at Fisk he bought the ice there.

Daddy did barbering free of charge. They come to the house on Sunday morning because he was working in the shop. When we lived at Fisk and even before, people would come there when they found out he was a barber. Some would come when we lived back by the Hill on the Simmons place. Mr. Hamilton lived there in Fisk and when we moved there he would come to get his hair cut and he would take a little lock of his hair and bury it under a rock so it would bring him good luck. Daddy never charged for any of his haircuts. I don't remember the year, but the people who bought the shop couldn't pay for it and let it go back. Daddy went back to working in it again.

In 1931 we traded our four horses and a mule for a John Deer Tractor and Courtney learned to drive it soon after we got it. Clara was born 8/13/1931. On 6/9/1933 Jean was born. Reta Carlene was born 11/12/1934 and died 2/19/1935. We moved to the McCord place north of Fisk in the Fall of 1935. We made a real good crop in 1936 and we had sold the shop. We bought a new V8 Ford that Fall. Joan was born 1/22/1936. Chester Jr. was born 11/2/1937. Wiley was born 11/16/1941. Chester died 12/15/1944 and was buried 12/17 at the Brown Ranch cemetery near Fisk in Coleman, Texas.

Courtney went down on a ship, the USS Indianapolis on 7/30/1945. In the Fall before Chester died we bought a small farm from the First Coleman National Bank, a mile north of Gouldbusk. Mr. Jim Myers and family were living on the place until December 1946. We moved there 1/1/1947. I lived down there until October 1961. All the children had left home but Wiley. We moved to Coleman where we bought a house from Mrs. Freeman at 2116 Magnolia at 14th St.

When mother got sick she said something just struck her in her chest and she kept going for a year or a little over before she got to where she had to go to bed and just stay there. She coughed terribly bad and the doctor said it was T.B., but I don't think it was. I just imagine now that it was cancer. She took sick in 1940 and died in 1941. She wasn't in any pain, but was weak and couldn't get up and do any of her work. Delia and I went and stayed two or three weeks before she passed away. I was there when she died.

LOUISA FRAZIER WHATLEY

6. Louisa Frazier (c1853-a1904) married 7/14/1869 to Elisha Whatley (c1838-10/4/1887). In Louisa's application for Confederate Pension, she states that Elisha died 10/4/1877 on Bayou Roberts and was buried at Springhill Church in Rapides Parish. The 1877 date does not fit with other data. Springhill Church was not established until the early 1880's. They are shown on the 1880 census of Catahoula Parish. It is assumed the 1877 death date given is incorrect and it should be 1887. In 1904 when she applied for the pension she was living in Leesville with her sons. They have not been located on the 1900 or 1910 census. One married daughter was located in Caldwell Parish in 1900.

THE WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS

Located on Highway # 8 about three miles inside the LaSalle Parish Line is the remnant of a once popular resort area. It was on the old Harrisonburg Road and very early became a popular stopping and camping place for travellers. It had a good supply of Sulfur water, and it was located only a half mile from Trout Creek which provided a plentiful fish supply. I have seen mentions of the spring as early as 1828, but there is nothing to believe it was anything more than a popular stopping place for travellers until the mid 1840's. There were many good springs in the area and settlers built their houses near a good flowing spring to provide drinking water for the family. The main spring, the Sulphur Spring, first saw a commercial venture about 1847 when Joseph P. Ward purchased from the U.S. Government Land Office the property on which the Spring was located. Since land could be purchased only on a non interference basis with present occupants, it is safe to assume that there was no one living at the Spring itself. There were many families living in the area including the Jesse Mercer Whatley family, Stephen Yancey LaCroix family, the Isaac Frazier family that are of interest to us and several others. About this time a large store was built to sell goods to the travelers who stopped at the spring to camp. It also provided a supply source for the local residents who had received their supplies from the river peddlers or from boat trips to Trinity where several good mercantile businesses flourished. There have been several stories written eluding to Jim Bowie being a gambling customer of Mr. Ward's. While there is strong reason to believe that Jim Bowie was familiar with the spring, he was killed at the Alamo in 1836. If the census records are to be believed, Mr. Ward was only about 18 years old at the time of the Alamo and doubtfully old enough to be the proprietor of a gambling house. He is not shown on the 1840 Catahoula Parish census. Like so many of the other stories that are perpetuated, much can be found to cast serious doubt on this story. In 1850 the store and dwelling house appears to be all that was at the springs. By 1860 there were two hotels at the springs. One had been built by Mr. Ward, and the other had been built by Henry and T. D. Evans. In 1860, Joseph Ward had acquired the Evans Hotel at Sheriff's sale and had sold one of the hotels to Rev. H. L. C. Sutton. Rev. Sutton then rebuilt the hotel into by far the larger hotel and it was known as Sutton's Hotel for many years. Along with the hotel, Rev. Sutton acquired the store, stock of goods and two billiard tables. He operated the hotel until 1862. When he could not make his mortgage payments to the Wards, he returned the property to Mrs. Ward for the balance owed on it. Mr. Ward was at the point of death 1/30/1865 and apparently died soon afterward. Mrs. Ward continued to operate the establishment despite the lack of money and high taxes after the war. An uncomplimentary description is given of her disposition in the journal kept by Colonel Samuel H. Lockett in 1868. This is printed in the book, Louisiana As It Is. On April 12, 1870 Mrs. Ward sold to Dr. Peter E. H. Lovelace the property on which was situated the Sutton Hotel and the large store house. Taxes became due and could not be paid. On 5/1/1872 she sold to John Enright all the remaining property, but reserved for her use, a dwelling house opposite the 35 mile post and five acres with title and possession passing to Mr. Enright upon Mrs. Ward's death which was after 1880.

Joseph P. Ward and Mary had no children of their own. They had a number of folks who stayed around them and were either employed by them or related. Members of the Schlenker family from Hesse Darmstadt, a part of Germany, were there in 1850. They are shown as merchants and they apparently conducted the gambling operation for the Wards. The photo of the store house shows members of that family with their top hats. If they were not gamblers, their appearance suggests they should have been. About 1852 the Wards adopted Sarah Adaline Virginia Mashburn (12/3/1848-3/17/1915) whose mother had died and whose father had remarried. Sarah A.V. Mashburn married Uriah Vincent Whatley (9/20/1843-3/3/1915), a brother to James P.A. Whatley. They became the parents of, among others, Margaret Melissa Whatley who married Jefferson Davis Kitterlin, and of Carter Ward Whatley who married Utha Mae Moffett. See pages 419 and 349. In the 1870 and 1880 census a James Sheppard was living with Mrs. Ward as a boarder. She apparently was still taking in a few boarders even though there were two operating hotels nearby.

The Storehouse at White Sulphur Springs c1853: Immediately to the right of the barrel, Mr. Joseph P. Ward, Sarah Adaline Virginia Mashburn Ward and Mrs. Mary Ward. Members of the Schlenker family are shown, but not designated. Note the slaves in the doorway, beside the doorway and under the barrel.

The original plans of the book were to include the entire Whatley Family because of the many, many connections with the LaCroix Family. The volume of data collected on both families became so large and so much more work needed to be done on the early history of the Whatley family that it was omitted from this book. Possibly, sometime in the future, the Whatley family will be put into book form. The interest and help that has been received from the Whatley family members is greatly appreciated.
